The weather man was surprised last night by the sudden shower between 8 and 9 o'clock. It was remarkable in that it clouded up and rained in a few minutes, and 10 minutes after the shower the sky had cleared again. Another peculiarity of yesterday, or rather of last night, was a slight rise in the temperature about 8 o'clock, probably occasioned by the proximity of the rain. It is unusual for the mercury to rise after 5 o'clock in the evening. Is the opinion of the weather man this slight rise in temperature may possibly mean a trifle higher mercury today. The forecast is for generally fair weather with stationary or slightly rising temperature.

FLINN'S LAST EFFORT TO REMOVE RECORDER

The Senator Meets Governor William A. Stone in Philadelphia Where a Long Conference is Held--Old Organization Men Are Hoping Against Hope for Favorable Outcome.

CITY CHAIRMAN BROWN'S MISSION WAS A FAILURE

The Flinn organization is making its last fight against the administration of Recorder Adam M. Brown. Depressed by the failure of City Chairman Joseph O. Brown's trip to Philadelphia, Senator William Flinn has flung himself into the breach.

Last night he met Governor William A. Stone in Philadelphia. He was ready to make any promise or any concession to have the recorder removed. The meeting at the Hotel Walton lasted until nearly midnight. Senator Flinn disappeared. Governor Stone was equivocal. No one knows what happened or what conclusion was reached.

In Pittsburgh there was confidence that no change would be made. J. O. Brown's return spread gloom in the ranks of the Sixth avenue organization. The stalwarts had even better news than that.

Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham, through a personal envoy, has assured Major Brown that he will not be removed. The support of the Philadelphia leaders was denied the local organization.

It was this news that sent Senator Flinn to Philadelphia even before J. O. Brown had returned.

There was mystery and to spare about the Philadelphia meeting. Governor Stone received no one but Senator Flinn. In reply to questions asked him in the lobby, he refused to discuss the Pittsburgh situation. After the meeting was over he declared that he had nothing to say.

Administration leaders here declared that the events of the evening had not changed the complexion of affairs. They were as confident as ever.

BY CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—Gov. Stone arrived in Philadelphia at 6 o'clock this evening. He was driven to the Hotel Walton. After giving orders that if Senator Flinn came in he was to be sent up at once the governor went to his room. An hour later Flinn came. He went to the governor's room. At 10:30 he was still there.

When seen by your correspondent in the corridor the governor said he would not discuss the Pittsburgh situation. He had not come to Philadelphia on a political mission, would not have any conferences, and did not expect to meet any politicians. While he was speaking Senator Flinn was on the other side of the slightly open door.

This ended the interview. His excellency immediately sent word to the office that no cards were to be sent up except those of Senators Quay or Penrose or Insurance Commissioner Durham. This was a bluff. Quay was in Washington. Durham, who leaves for Florida at midnight, did not know of Stone's presence in the city. Neither, presumably, did Senator Penrose.

Three floors above Gov. Stone, who is in room 827, was Attorney General John P. Elkin. Mr. Elkin did not know Stone was here until so informed by your correspondent. He had told the governor yesterday that he (Elkin) was coming to Philadelphia, but Stone gave no intimation of his intention to come also. Gen. Elkin was about to call upon the governor when I informed him that Flinn was with him. That settled it. He did not go. The general seemed to be greatly disappointed when told Stone and Flinn were together.

"What does it mean?" I asked.

Elkin Was Ignorant.

"I don't know," he said, and then prepared to catch his train for Pittsburgh. He is going to Sharon, Mercer county, where he and Mrs. Elkin will spend Sunday as guests of ex-Senator Wright.

At the residence of Senator Penrose, Elkin, Durham and the senator last night spent five hours or more discussing the recent campaign, and, incidentally, perhaps, the tangle in Pittsburgh.

All three today asserted that the recordership matter was not what called them together. I talked with them this afternoon, and while they had not received assurances from Stone, all felt hopeful that he would not reject the advice of his friends and remove Recorder Brown. They had defined their position to the governor, and felt sure he would not take any radical action without first giving them some notice. Indications tonight are that they were mistaken.

It looks very much as though Stone has refused to be influenced by Senator Quay and Durham, or the members of his cabinet. While Gen. Elkin did not say so, I know he regards Flinn's presence here as indicative of a fulfillment of the Stone-Flinn compact. What the nature of the agreement is, beyond the removal of Maj. Brown, no one save the principals seem to know.

In view of the pressure brought to bear upon the governor to prevent him from throwing down the regular Republicans of Allegheny county and the state, it would appear that Flinn has succeeded in framing a contract that is more than ironclad.

Durham Goes to Florida.

Commissioner Durham left for Florida at midnight. He was accompanied by Republican City Chairman James L. Miles, State Senator Vare, Select Councilman James P. McNichol, Joseph H. Klemmer and Common Councilman Charles Seger. They will camp at Col. Quay's bungalow on the Indian river for a week or ten days' fishing trip.

At midnight I called on Gov. Stone.

"I have nothing to add to what I said earlier," was his emphatic greeting.

"Then the visit of Senator Flinn has not changed your mind?" The governor seemed surprised.

"Did you see Flinn?" he asked. Then he followed with: "I have seen William, Joe Brown, Bigelow and many others lately."

"The people of Pittsburgh are anxious to know what you are going to do about the recordership. Will you not let The Gazette enlighten them?"

"I have nothing to say." Then, with a laugh, he continued. "You know I am rather independent of late as to what the newspapers want."

The governor said he would remain here for a few days. General Elkin reconsidered and did not go home as he had intended. He decided to have a talk with the governor.

Senator Flinn disappeared after leaving Governor Stone's room. He is not at any of the hotels. There is ground for the belief that he is a guest of State Senator John C. Grady.

ISRAEL W. DURHAM,
Insurance Commissioner.

JOHN P. ELKIN,
Attorney General.

Flinn leaders had hoped to obtain Commissioner Durham's assistance in persuading Gov. Stone to make the change. Mr. Durham is recognized as a political ally of both Senator Quay and Gov. Stone and is a power in Philadelphia politics.

Without his aid and the support of the Philadelphia organization the local organization leaders did not expect to secure the recordership prize. City Chairman J. O. Brown made two trips to Philadelphia to get the aid of the Republican leaders. That he did not succeed is shown by the message sent to Recorder Brown by Commissioner Durham.

Brown Sadly Disappointed.

Mr. Brown returned Tuesday night a sadly disappointed man. He wired ahead that his mission had failed and Senator Flinn hurried away to make a last desperate effort to have Recorder Brown ousted. He was delegated to make any promise and offer any concession.

Robert Ostermaier, Thomas G. McClure and Fred W. Edwards said yesterday afternoon that Senator Flinn would be home this morning. They denied knowledge of any intended political conference in Philadelphia in relation to the recordership.

The Pittsburgh morning papers, except The Gazette, published a story yesterday that Chairman J. O. Brown and Thomas S. Bigelow had left the previous night to hold a conference with Gov. Stone and the Philadelphia leaders to decide whether or not Recorder Brown should be removed.

The story created general amusement yesterday when it was learned that Chairman Brown and Mr. Bigelow were still in the city. Representatives of the three papers that had published the story left on an early train yesterday morning for Philadelphia to report the alleged conference.

Both Men Deny Story.

"I know of no conference in Philadelphia today in which the local organization is interested. I returned to Pittsburgh yesterday," said Chairman J. O. Brown, when asked about the conference story.

"I am still in the city and have no intention of attending any political conference in the near future," said Mr. Bigelow.

Fred W. Edwards, secretary of the county committee, said yesterday that the county primaries would be held at the usual time in June next year, to select candidates for the county offices, candidates for congress and the legislature. He said he did not think there would be any attempt to hold them at an earlier date.

Recorder Brown postponed contemplated removals yesterday, but will make several changes before the end of the week. He has received from councils a copy of the filtration committee's report attacking Director Bigelow. He will not waste much time in considering it. The recorder said yesterday that he was satisfied that the department of public works was doing everything possible to expedite the filtration work.

Sol Coulson tendered his resignation as superintendent of the bureau of detectives yesterday to the police pension board. It was accepted. Supt. Coulson will be retired on half pay, December 1. His official record is to be compiled in the meantime.

MANY FIRE VICTIMS ARE NOW DESTITUTE.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The people of Thomas, W. Va., who were made homeless by the fire which swept the town early yesterday morning, are badly in need of aid. The Methodist church has been converted into a home, and 10 families are quartered there. A number of the homeless are being cared for at Davis and Elkins, but there are still a number who are without any shelter.

The loss by the fire, it is now estimated, will reach $300,000, while the total insurance will not amount to over $50,000. The majority of the 150 families made homeless are left without even enough clothing to keep them warm. All they possessed was consumed and they are dependent entirely on the charitably disposed. It is understood that Senator Elkins and ex-Senator H. G. Davis will aid the suffering until they can gather enough together to secure some kind of quarters and get to work again. None of the laborers whose homes were destroyed carried any insurance.

A cold, drenching rain today added to the discomfort of the thousand persons made homeless by the fire at Thomas, W. Va., yesterday. Mayor Jones has sent out an appeal for aid and Gov. White has been telegraphed for help.

Count Cassini Arrives.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador to the United States, and his niece, the Countess Marguerite Cassini, returned today on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. They will go to Washington tomorrow. The count was very eager to hear the latest news and to know the developments in the Franco-Turkish affair. He will inspect the Russian ship built at Philadelphia.

GLOBE-GIRDLING BY MOBE.

A Retired Merchant of Cincinnati Purposes to Accomplish the Feat in 300 Days. Now in New York.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Edward V. Williams, a wealthy retired tobacco merchant of Cincinnati, who is staying at the Waldorf-Astoria, is in New York to perfect his plans for an automobile trip around the world. He expects to leave Cincinnati early in the spring and hopes to circle the globe with his machine in 300 days.

His plan is to come direct to New York and take a steamer to a French port. He will cross France, Germany and Russia, and, taking the course of the Trans-Siberian railroad, finally reach the Pacific ocean. After touring Japan he will cross the Pacific to California and thence back to Cincinnati. To The Gazette correspondent tonight he said:

"I shall start early in the spring, so as to be in the northern countries in the summer; and by the time it begins to get cold, I hope to be in warmer climes. I have planned my course as carefully as possible in advance, and hope to finish my trip in 300 days. There is no reason why we should have any great difficulties, certainly none except, possibly, in Russia and China. While I suppose the machine will be somewhat of a surprise to most of the natives, I think we shall be safe from molestation."

MANY SHIPS WRECKED ON ENGLISH COAST

REPORT OF DISASTERS

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The gale, which has been sweeping over Great Britain and Ireland for the past two days, continues unabated at many coast points. Over the Welsh lowlands the torrential rains are increasing, causing disastrous floods. Reports of wrecks and casualties continue to flow in. The death list, made up of three and fours, has an aggregate approaching 100.

The mail boat Nord from Dover for Calais, which last night ran down the lightship of the works of the new Dover pier, has succeeded in returning to Dover. The mails and passengers are safe. The crew of the lightship was also landed this morning after passing a terrible night at sea in a small boat.

The Swedish bark Trio was driven ashore late this afternoon at West Hartlepool, Durham, and was broken up. Three of her crew were washed ashore alive, while the remaining seven were drowned in sight of thousands of spectators.

The Norwegian bark Inga, Captain Olsen, has been totally wrecked at Tynemouth and 16 members of her crew have been lost.

A French bark was wrecked off Hindon, south of Sunderland, and 19 of her crew were drowned. The Russian bark Pollux, Captain Lour, from Liverpool, N. S., October 10, for Glassondock, was stranded at North wharf, Fleetwood, and lost her foremast and main mast. She was got off and towed to her destination today, waterlogged.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 13.—A terrible gale and snowstorm lasting for the past 12 hours has done great damage throughout Denmark. There are five feet of snow here. Eight vessels are reported drifting ashore, two have been wrecked and many lives have been lost.

CARNEGIE'S PRESENT TO MRS. CLEVELAND.

She Receives a Painting Which She Especially Admired at the Pittsburgh Art Exhibition.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—A special from Pittsburgh to the Herald says that "Twilight," one of the paintings in this year's collection at the Carnegie art galleries, which was purchased by Andrew Carnegie, will be sent to Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

When Mrs. Cleveland was in Pittsburgh last week she admired the painting, which is by Mr. Bryna Wall, a Pittsburgh artist. Mr. Carnegie was told that the picture had caught Mrs. Cleveland's fancy. He therefore bought it and will have it sent to Princeton at the close of the exhibition. With it will go a note saying the picture is a token of appreciation of the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland on Founder's day.

CALL FOR CONVENTION.

Mine Workers Will Meet at Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 26, to Discuss New Wage Scale.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—District President J. A. Springer of Flemington, W. Va., through President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America today issued a call to the miners of Virginia and West Virginia for a joint convention of miners and mine laborers to be held at Huntington, W. Va., November 26. Wage and employment conditions of importance will be considered, including the strike at Thacker, W. Va., involving 500 men.

The following day a joint convention of the miners of these two states and the coal operators will be held at Huntington to agree upon a new wage scale. But three states, West Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky, are involved in strikes at present, all of minor nature.

STEEL MILL FOR LEBANON.

Purchase of an Interest in the Cornwall Furnaces Probably Means a New Industry.

LEBANON, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The purchase of W. C. Freeman's former interest in the Cornwall furnaces, and other property at Cornwall by the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company was consummated today. The price paid to the Cornwall Iron Company is said to be nearly $250,000.

The sale, it is believed, insures the building of a steel mill in Lebanon county and the construction of the projected Cornwall & Western railroad from North Cornwall to Steelton, a distance of 14 miles.

TERRIBLE DISASTER TO ATLANTIC SHIP

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—A terrible ocean disaster took place in the eastward track of trans-Atlantic steam craft on the night of November 7. About 1,000 miles off the coast of the United States. A large unknown steamship caught fire and was blown to pieces by an explosion soon afterward. The flames were seen to shoot hundreds of feet above the blazing craft, which sank before assistance could be rendered.

The first news of the disaster was brought to this port today by Capt. Farlan, of the Australian steamship Etelka, whose vessel was docked at Marcus Hook, while he came up to Philadelphia to report the disaster to his agent, Alfred Turner. He said on the night of November 7, shortly after midnight, he saw the glare of the burning vessel, the craft itself being invisible. The course of the Etelka was at once changed toward the burning ship.

The cargo evidently caught fire and a terrific explosion took place, blowing the ship to pieces and scattering the burning fragments over the sea for many miles. It was impossible to identify the vessel.

NO COMFORT FOR BRYAN.

Frankly Admits Republicans Hold Their Lead in the Country.

LINCOLN, NEB., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—William J. Bryan, in the Commoner, admits his inability to extract any personal comfort out of the result of the late elections. In this week's issue Mr. Bryan will say:

"While it is impossible at this time to measure and weigh the local influences which may have affected general results, enough is known to justify the conclusion that the two leading political parties show practically the same strength that they did a year ago. If the Republican policies which have been developing during the last 12 months have aroused any protest among the people, that protest has been offset by the influences exerted by the assassination of the president. In Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, where the conventions failed to reaffirm the Kansas City platform, the Republicans won; in Massachusetts, Iowa and Nebraska, where the conventions did reaffirm the Kansas City platform, the Republicans also won."

Teacher Exonerated.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Miss Jennie Prentice, the pretty Derry township school teacher who was arrested recently, charged by J. Speer Hosack with severely flogging his son, has been set free. The grand jury here today ignored the bill against her. The teachers of Derry township have passed a series of resolutions severely arraigning those who thus interfere with the duty of a teacher. They insist that the morality of the school depends in a large measure upon the discipline of the teacher, and that a great injustice has been done.

LARGEST CAR ORDER FROM ANY RAILROAD

The Total Placed by the Pennsylvania This Year is for 19,000.

SEEKING COAL FEEDERS

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company today authorized the construction of 4,000 additional freight cars. A total of 19,000 cars are to be delivered to the company during the next year. This is the largest order ever given by any railroad, and it involves nearly $19,000,000.

Owing to the great demand for freight cars, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will enlarge the carbuilding plant of the Cambria Steel Company, which it controls. By January 1 the car plant at Johnstown will be able to turn out 20 cars a day.

It is rumored that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is seeking to control the Huntingdon & Broad Top Mountain Railroad and Coal Company, and that an offer considerably above the market price of the stock has been tendered. The Huntingdon & Broad Top Railroad Company's main line is 45 miles long and extends from Huntingdon, Pa., to Mount Dallas. It also has branches to the various soft coal mines, aggregating 19 miles. It is purely a bituminous coal-carrying road and turns over all of its tonnage to the Pennsylvania railroad. This, with one or two other railroads that depend upon the soft coal trade for its business, is not controlled by the Pennsylvania railroad, but it is understood that the plan is to take over this line and eventually all of the others. The officers of both companies say they know nothing about the proposed purchases.

CHILD STOLEN TWICE.

After Nine Years Her Mother Learns of Her Whereabouts and Secures Her Return.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 13.—A strange story of abduction was made known here today when Mrs. McNeill Wilson of Dade City, Fla., arrived and claimed her daughter Louis, who had been stolen from home nine years ago. A man named Miller was boarding with Mrs. Wilson. He was eccentric and wrote a book, "Twenty Years a Tramp, or a Trip Through Hell." He disappeared, taking the child with him. A few months later the little girl was found and then taken home.

Not long afterward she was again stolen by a young man named Henderson, and not until today had the mother seen her child. Henderson evidently represented Miller, for the latter, now living at Lake City, a few months ago sent the girl here under the name of Mary Young. He said the child was an orphan and a cave-in his hands, and as her grandfather came from this state, Miller confided her to the Ursuline convent here. She knew there was some mystery in her life and as soon as she had got away from Miller began to make investigations into matters referred to in a letter of Miller's which had fallen into her hands.

DIVEKEEPERS BECOME MORE CIRCUMSPECT

Once Wide Open Resorts Are Being Conducted Very Quietly.

BACK DOORS ARE NOW USED BY HABITUES

OWNERS OF PROPERTY TELL OF CONDITIONS

One Man Who Paid $18,000 for His Property Some Years Ago Is Now Willing to Take $10,000 for It, So He Can Move.

Proprietors of speakeasies and gambling houses in Allegheny are toiling in their horns. The exposures of The Gazette are causing them many a bad half-hour.

Resorts that a week ago hid their character behind no semblance of a disguise are now conducted with the utmost care.

One of the most notorious of the clubs in the river wards, where the game is big and where many well-known men who have a penchant for poker playing, have been accustomed to gather, was dark and gloomy last night.

The vestibule door was closed and locked. Shutters all over the house were tightly closed. Not a ray of light streaked out any place. This might seem deceiving, and will certainly keep strangers away.

This particular house, while almost anyone who "put up a good front" could get in, was never entirely wide open in the sense that the street door was left unlocked so that any person could walk in. Alleghenians familiar with the proprietor of the house and the men generally believed to be associated with him in its management, at least to the extent of sharing in the profits, are not deceived by this pretense of locked doors and shuttered windows.

A description of this house was printed in The Gazette some days ago. Mention was then made of a doorway in the lower hall generally believed to be a side or back door for use in case of a raid. It is believed now that the regular patrons of the club have been quietly tipped off that use of the front door will be discontinued during the agitation against gambling and speakeasies.

Chinese Make a Change.

A change has come, too, at the Chinese speakeasies. Yee Illing of 305 West Robinson street, who sold beer in his restaurant to representatives of The Gazette, has been warned to stop. For the past two nights his customers, principally women of the demi-monde, have had no beer with their "chop suey." Another Chinese restaurant, where officials forbade the sale of beer before election, has been kept off since the exposures of The Gazette.

An instance of the familiarity of the police with the speakeasy system in Allegheny is an occurrence a few nights ago. A lady was the host by an Allegheny club. A plentiful quantity of beer was arranged for, and by midnight the ball was in full swing. By 3 o'clock in the morning the liquor supply was exhausted, and the ball closed.

A short time later a belated party of guests drove up to the hall in a carriage. They were disgusted to learn from a police official standing at the door that the ball was over. They explained that they would like to have a drink of something to brace them, and the official obligingly inquired of a servant whether by chance there was a little left in the hall. Finding that the supply was entirely gone the official pointed to a lighted house across the street, and said, "Go right over there where you see the light, and you can get all the liquor you want."

Across the street was a large house with first and second floor rooms lighted, and sounds of revelry could be heard through the cracks into the still night.

Opened After Dark.

In another gambling house, that also does a large business as a speakeasy, especially on Saturday nights and Sundays, the door was as wide open as usual last night. All day long the place was deserted, but soon after dark a light appeared in the hall and on the second floor. The door of this house is never locked at night, unless the game breaks up early and there are no thirsty people to be found.

On Saturday nights, after midnight, and all day Sunday, this house does a flourishing business in the sale of bottled beer. A man can go there at any hour with a small basket and carry away six pints of beer, leaving a small deposit for the safe return of the bottles. The first floor rooms are fitted for drinking purposes, while the second floor holds the poker tables and other gambling paraphernalia. "The majority of the citizens are totally ignorant of the true condition," said Councilman John W. Robinson in speaking of the exposures. "The citizens owe it to their families and society to keep away from their places and consequently know nothing of their operations except what they learn by hearsay. The most damage is done to men of small salaries and boys. The latter go into many of the places and become mere figure heads, not being able to get the price in a barroom. The working men and clerks drawing small salaries squander their earnings in these places. You never hear of a man who could lose $1,500 without noticing it frequenting these resorts. It is only the men drawing small salaries that are the patrons.

Always a Losing Game.

"They are up against a losing game at all stages. In a 48 hour game to these resorts I have heard that the rake-off is as high as $600. Probably not more than $400 has been on the table during the game, and should one man "clean out" the others the host generally gets about $100. He probably had this amount before starting and is not a loser to the good."

A well-known saloonkeeper of the First ward drew this picture of conditions yesterday:

"I want to see The Gazette continue this crusade. I have been a property holder in the First ward for many years, and if I could get any kind of a price for my buildings I would have sold out long ago. I have called the attention of the front office to the existing conditions, but have never received any kind of satisfaction. I don't want to go into court, but have threatened to do so on several occasions. In my neighborhood speakeasies are as plentiful as blackberries. A woman's next dictates to the fingers of the joints whose beer they must purchase. She is so well known in Allegheny that it is not

BLIGHT ON ALLEGHENY HOMES.

Gambling Fostered in the Illegal Resorts of the City Works Woe for Wives and Children.

The blight of the gambling dens has fallen heavily upon Allegheny homes. Men lose their wages at the poker table and their wives and families suffer. It is an old story, this one of the gambling vice, but it is interesting because it comes home to many hearthstones. The Gazette is in receipt of numerous letters from wives and mothers who are hoping and praying that the gambling houses and speakeasies may be closed. The following extracts from one such missive tells a sad tale and illustrates more clearly than anything else could the heart interest that the respectable women of Allegheny have in the crusade that is being waged by The Gazette.

"The Pittsburgh Gazette:

"Gentlemen: You seem to have overlooked the lowest and most frequented dive in Allegheny (here the address is given), where on Saturday nights and Sundays you will find all classes. This resort has been the ruination of my husband, and many others to my knowledge. It is only out of fear that I have not had this place raided, or at least tried to do so. There have been complaints made to the police on this beat, but all for naught. Several women have gone to the police department when their husbands have lost their week's wages Saturday nights and when their families would have to go the best they could for their Sunday dinners. They tell me this place is no much worse than others because so many married men with families frequent the place. If your paper would succeed in shutting this place up for good it would be the means of making many of our homes happy ones the week round, and I am sure you would receive the good and honest support of the public, which you are so much entitled to for taking up this subject. While I do not wish to divulge my name at this time should anything be started to clean these places out, I—and I am sure many of my women friends—would rejoice at taking a hand.

"After my husband losing his week's wages Saturday night, I have today had to scheme around to get enough for my children to eat during this week."

worth while to mention her name. They know her at Ohio and Federal street, and the ward has known her for a number of years.

"My wife received a letter a few days ago from one of our old neighbors, lately married, asking that we get her a house in Allegheny.

Not Safe for Children.

"'Don't come to the bowery,' was our reply, 'as your children cannot leave their home after nightfall. We have been trying to get out of Allegheny and its protected vice for several years, but cannot. No person will purchase our property.

"Gambling houses are rife in the vicinity of my business, but they are only the lesser evils. Fathers of families go to them and get broke, but pressure is brought to bear that gives a small stake to their families. I myself have helped such unfortunates when the proprietors refused to do anything for them.

"Bank clerks and small business men are patrons of the gambling houses in my district. There are sprinklings of other people who come to me with their jewelry for a small stake. These people I know, as do the police officials at City hall.

"It is so bad in my neighborhood that we never hoist our blinds after nightfall. I don't allow my children on the street after they come from school, and my wife has not left the house, even to go to market after the shades of evening have fallen. I have called the attention of the officer on the beat to the lewd scenes enacted opposite my place of business on several occasions, but he said he was powerless to stop them.

"I paid $18,000 for my business and property 16 years ago, and will sell it tomorrow for $10,000. I want to get out of this contaminated neighborhood, but no decent person will purchase under present conditions."

THE STANDARD IN MEXICO.

Said to Contemplate Establishing Large Trust Company in Capital of That Country.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 13.—Renewed reports in financial circles attribute to the Standard Oil group the purpose to establish a large trust company here which will do a banking business and provide means for financing large American undertakings, these being continually growing in importance. Present Mexican legislation does not contemplate trust companies as they are known in the United States and there would have to be extensive changes made in existing laws to give full scope to a trust company. This, it is now said, is under consideration by the government.

Old established banking interests resent the presence of American financial influence and probably will make opposition to changes in the laws favorable to the new American financial project.

NEELY'S BONDSMEN SUED.

Cuban Postoffice Brings Action Against Baltimore Guaranty Co. for Amount of Bond.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 13.—Martin C. Fosnes, director general of posts of Cuba, brought suit in the United States circuit court here today against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Maryland, which he says, bonded Charles F. W. Neely, former chief of the bureau of finance of the department of posts of the island of Cuba, in the sum of $5,000. Mr. Fosnes claims that amount of damages.

The bill alleges that Neely did not faithfully discharge his duties and did not account for and pay over to the proper officials the moneys which came into his hands.

Another company of this city, it was learned, also bonded Neely for about $30,000. It is probable that a suit will be brought against this company unless settlement is made.

RATHBUN TELLS ANOTHER STORY

Says His Wife Had Knowledge of the Proposed Insurance Fraud.

CORONER'S INQUEST AT LITTLE ROCK

Witnesses Testify That Corpse Shipped There from Jeffersonville, Ind., Is Not That of Rathbun--Mrs. Rathbun Prostrated.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 13.—Newell C. Rathbun, who was arrested here on suspicion of having caused the death at Jeffersonville, Ind., of Charles Goodman, who was found dead in a hotel in this city last Thursday, death having resulted, it is supposed, from laudanum poisoning, is tonight in the Clark county, Ind., jail on a charge of murder. Under instructions from the war department at Washington Rathbun, who is a deserter from the United States army, was this evening turned over to the Indiana authorities and taken across the river.

Rathbun told the Louisville police today that his wife at Little Rock had known of his plan to defraud the insurance company, though not of the murder feature of it. Other features of the case today were the decision of the authorities to have the body of the supposed Goodman returned to Jeffersonville from Little Rock for an autopsy and identification, and the refusal of the local authorities to send Rathbun to Little Rock to testify at the coroner's inquest over the corpse that was shipped there.

Rathbun Is Amused.

A telegram has been received from the chief of police of Evansville, Ind., stating that Goodman was a resident of Cripple Creek, Col., where he was a brass worker. When asked for his opinion as to the claim made by Mrs. Rathbun that the corpse shipped to Little Rock was that of her husband, Rathbun laughed and remarked:

"Maybe it is his corpse." That is all he would say on the subject.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Nov. 13.—In order to establish the identity of the man under arrest at Louisville, Ky., and said to be Newell C. Rathbun, Deputy Sheriff A. B. Chichester left this afternoon for Louisville, accompanied by Emil T. Gloeckler, who knows Rathbun well.

Coroner Young took testimony today touching the identity of the dead body sent here as that of Rathbun. Charles McKeown, whose wife is a sister of Rathbun's wife, testified that he was well acquainted with Rathbun. He had looked at the body and testified that it was undoubtedly that of Rathbun. Witness received the remains at the depot Sunday morning and had them conveyed to his home. When the coffin was opened Rathbun's wife viewed the remains and said: "That's my darling."

Mrs. Rathbun Unable to Testify.

The first intimation he had that anything was wrong was when Mrs. J. C. Watkins came to his house Sunday and after looking at the body said it was not that of Rathbun. McKeown said there had never been any doubt in his mind that the body was Rathbun's.

Rathbun's wife did not appear before the coroner's jury today in response to the summons served upon her. The taking of further testimony was postponed until tomorrow.

Mrs. Kate Rathbun, wife of Newell C. Rathbun, continues in a state of nervous prostration at the home of her sister, and repeated efforts to obtain a statement from her have failed.

On account of her condition she did not leave her room today. Under the advice of their attorneys Mrs. Rathbun's relatives decline to discuss the Rathbun case, especially that part of Rathbun's confession connecting her with the alleged scheme to defraud the life insurance company.

PRAYING FOR CAL. CRIM.

Impressive Services for Recovery of Foley's Wounded Victim.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—City hall offices and police headquarters were almost deserted this afternoon when the Rev. Mr. Pogue of the Fifty Presbyterian church opened services in the police court room for the recovery of Sergeant of Detectives Cal Crim, who was shot several weeks ago by a notorious crook, Foley, "the Goat," whom he was attempting to arrest. Crim still hovers between life and death at the City hospital. The music at the service was impressive, the sweet voice of Miss Minnie Fey, Chief of Police Deitz's stenographer, moving all present. Police officials assisted in the singing.

About 100 police in uniform and 300 others were present in the packed court room. Sherrerd Beatty of the Rescue mission, spoke.

OPPOSED TO FOREIGNERS.

Simon Burns Denies That He Favors Importation of Belgian Glass Workers.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 13—Simon Burns of Pittsburgh, president of the old L. A. 300 organization of Window Glass Workers, who is here attending the meeting of the Knights of Labor, denied today that he had encouraged Belgian glass workers to come to this country to take places in the factories.

Mr. Burns declared that the report was circulated through Indiana for the purpose of creating sentiment in favor of the new L. A. 300.

"We have asked the co-operation of the immigration authorities at Washington and Ellis Island to keep the foreigners out but it is a difficult proposition. Wherever we can we are sending them back."

EXTENDING CIVIL SERVICE.

Most of the Rural Delivery Employes to Be Taken In.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—About 200 employes in the executive branch of the rural free delivery service of the postoffice department will be brought into the civil service by an order of President Roosevelt which it is understood, will be issued within a week or two. These employes are clerks, special agents and inspectors.

The 6,000 rural free delivery carriers throughout the country will not be brought into the civil service under the same order, but they will be taken in at some later date.

PUSS ON TROLLEY WIRE.

Her Presence Shuts Off Power from All Western New York.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—A cat was the cause of a great deal of trouble to the International Traction Company and the Niagara Falls Power Company last night. Puss climbed a trolley pole on the Buffalo & Lockport railroad at Hoffman and tried to walk on the feed wire. Her tail touched the parallel wire that carried the current back to Niagara Falls. There was a flash that could be seen for miles as the 24,000 volts of electricity passed through her body.

Puss was burned to a crisp. Her lifeless body fell across both wires and did not drop to the ground. This short-circuited the current and caused a fuse to burn out at the Niagara Falls power house. The power was immediately cut off from all the lines running out of the power house. It was two hours before the cause of the trouble could be found and the charred remains of puss removed from the wires. Meanwhile almost all the electric railways and street lighting plants in western New York were without power.

SURPRISED AT THE MAGNITUDE

SCOTCH IRONMASTER INSPECTS PITTSBURGH WORKS.

Maj. Hickman Morgan of Glasgow Visits Local Industries and Freely Admits the Inferiority of British Establishments — Water Cooling Process Attracts His Interested Attention.

Maj. Hickman Morgan, an iron manufacturer of Glasgow and a retired officer of the Eighteenth Middlesex rifle volunteers, is at the Hotel Schenley. For two days he has been inspecting the industrial plants of Pittsburgh. He expresses his great astonishment at their magnitude. He and his wife are the owners of Dickson's Blazes, the second largest iron works in Scotland.

Maj. Morgan completed 21 years of service in the army as commandant of Queen Alexandra's own hospital ship, the Princess of Wales. With this vessel he made two trips to South Africa, carrying wounded and disabled men back to England.

While in Pittsburgh Maj. Morgan and his wife have been looked after by Bruce Millard. At a small gathering in their honor Tuesday night were James McCrea and wife, Bruce Millard and wife and A. W. Mellon and wife. Maj. and Mrs. Morgan came over on the Oceanic with Mr. Mellon.

Maj. Morgan has visited the Homestead and Bessemer plants and was astonished at their magnitude. The new Cunningham steel plant in Glasgow is similar in equipment to the Homestead works, but is a pigmy in comparison, according to Maj. Morgan. The Pittsburgh district can never be paralled, he says, by Glasgow furnaces, on account of the inferior grade of ore. It is largely imported from Balboa, Spain. Maj. Morgan leaves this morning for the Birmingham (Ala.) district, where the industry is more on a par with Glasgow, in the grade of ore used.

Maj. Morgan's special study here has been the water cooling system as applied to the "bosh" of the furnace. It is unknown in Scotland, but prolongs the life of the furnace 30 to 40 per cent.

Greater results are obtained from the refuse in the Glasgow furnaces Maj. Morgan says. The sulphuric gas is washed and used exclusively for stoking the furnaces. A large remaining surplus may soon be sold for illuminating purposes. Much natural ammonia, used for fertilizing purposes, is also obtained.

Maj. Morgan served for 10 years in the Sierra Leone district of the gold coast, known as the "White Man's Grave." He relates an interesting story of the start of the war with the French there, six years ago. A native chieftain led the English and French forces together at night, each band being under the impression that it was attacking a force of robbers that had been harassing the chief's people. As a result of this treachery but one of the French force survived while Maj. Morgan was the only British officer who remained.

GATHERING AT FT. WORTH.

Advance Guard of W. C. T. U. Convention Arrives at the Scene of Activity.

FORT WORTH, TEX., Nov. 13.—The advance guard of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union convention, which is to meet here Friday, arrived today. The party is headed by Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, national president, Portland, Me., and Miss Anna A. Gordon, vice president, Evanston, Ill.

A meeting of the official board and superintendents of divisions was held this morning and the executive board composed of state presidents, superintendents and organizers conferred during the afternoon.

BABCOCK BRINGS HIS BILL.

Urges Congress to Place Steel Combine Goods on Free List.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Representative Babcock of Wisconsin reached Washington today bringing with him his bill to place the products of the United States Steel Corporation upon the free list. He says he will reintroduce it upon the convening of congress, and explains that his sole reason for pressing it is that the products of the steel company are selling abroad cheaper than at home.

"The steel industry has outgrown protection," Mr. Babcock declared tonight.

IGLESIAS STILL IN JAIL.

Has Deferred Replying to President Gompers Until Released.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Nov. 13.—Santiago Iglesias, who was sent to Porto Rico by the American Federation of Labor to organize the workingmen of the island and who was arrested on arriving here last week on a charge of conspiracy, has not yet answered the message from Mr. Gompers as to the cause of his detention.

He is withholding his reply until tomorrow, awaiting the attorney general's answer to his petition to Gov. Hunt to be released on his own recognizance. He is still in jail.

SERVICES RECOGNIZED.

Long Island Bible Society Elects Roosevelt Vice President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—President Roosevelt has just been elected first vice president of the Long Island Bible society. At a meeting of the executive committee of the society it was said that the address by Mr. Roosevelt at the meeting of the society last June at Oyster Bay had been printed in a leaflet and had had a very large circulation.

It has been translated into several languages and has been circulated in Mexico and the Argentine republic. It was because of his services to the society in making the address that Mr. Roosevelt was given the office.

CHURCH LOSING ITS GRIP.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The first business session of the Unitarian conference of the Middle States and Canada was opened here today with an address by Adelbert Moot, of Buffalo, presiding officer of the convention.

After the appointment of various committees the Rev. Charles Graves, of Trenton, read a paper on "Some Ways in Which Church History is Made to Misstate Facts." During the course of his remarks Mr. Graves said the facts relative to the condition of the church showed that church religion is slowly but surely losing its hold on the people.

Russell Sage Death Canard.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(Special.)—In some way a report spread through Wall street today that Russell Sage had died suddenly. At Mr. Sage's office it was said the aged financier was in the best of health and spirits and attending to business as usual.

One Life Lost in Theater Fire.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 13.—Power's theater was destroyed by fire early this morning. The property loss amounts to about $100,000. One man perished and several persons were overcome by smoke.

SALE OF USED PIANOS.

S. Hamilton's Method of Clearing Out All Instruments That Have Seen Service.

RARE OPPORTUNITY FOR MUSIC LOVERS.

Sale Starts This Morning and Will Continue Till These Pianos and Organs Are All Gone—Buyers of Christmas Presents Will Be Especially Interested.

Practically everybody in this part of the world knows of the music house of S. Hamilton. It is one of the best known establishments in the state. Mr. Hamilton's methods are exemplified in the sale of used pianos and organs, which event begins at his big music store, 335-337 Fifth avenue, this morning. Naturally a store doing such a large business soon accumulates instruments that are taken in exchange. These must be sold. But rather than hold them for anything like the prices they are worth, Mr. Hamilton offers the lot at prices that are surprisingly low. A partial list is appended. No one should miss this opportunity. If you've been thinking of purchasing a piano or organ, be sure to see these. You can save much money by making your purchase now. The sale is especially opportune on account of the near approach of Christmas.

FLEMING'S

A Great Responsibility.

The compounding of a prescription is not a simple matter to be done in a hurry. We feel the responsibility for the patient quite as much as does the physician, and we are particular to see to it that the medicines used are exactly what the physician prescribes, that they are pure and compounded accurately. While our service is of the highest, customers tell all the time that our prices are lower than they have been paying elsewhere.

Among the Popular Prices in Winter Millinery.

Of course we have hats and toques that cost a pretty sum. But the call is for Millinery at popular prices. We have that kind. It leads in volume the higher priced kind. In this popular priced Millinery there is not the faintest suggestion of grossness, or gaudiness, or exaggeration in the trimmings.

We care not what price a woman pays for a trimmed Hat—if it is only $2.50—it bears the stamp of refinement. There are the smartest of Hats here for $2.50. Surely that is a reasonable price for something that possesses merit.

Follow us, please, into the details of the very popular prices on Hats:

For $2.50 there are Hats and Toques, trimmed with breasts, pompons, chiffon, velvet and ribbon. You try on until you find something that becomes you—both as to set and color.

For $3.50 there are Hats with lots of plumage and wings, ribbons and velvet.
For $5—probably the most popular of the popular prices—there are Hats trimmed with quills and velvet and the trimmings and the hat are of the same color.

The above are just given at random as specimens of our popular prices. The milliner's art consists of giving something becoming for a reasonable price. Which do you prefer, the gaudy or the refined?

Furs That Stand the Most Critical Inspection.

It's best to talk with experts when buying Furs. If you only intend buying a small neckpiece, an inexpensive one, see the people who know all about furs; if it is to be an expensive coat of rare and costly fur, the suggestion is all the more forceful.

We've had women who were after bargains bring us garments they had bought (because the news said they were underpriced) to pass upon their bargain. We passed—and the scales fell from their eyes.

Something in this list may suit you.

Marten Scarfs, all with clusters of tails, from $3.50 up to $45.
Sable Fox Scarfs from $7.50 up to $65.
Muffs to match the Sable Fox Scarfs from $10.00 to $25.
Persian Lamb Scarfs, with tails of the Black Lynx, from $15 to $38.
Black Lynx Boas, medium and full lengths, from $15 up to $75.
Muffs of Black Lynx to match the neckpieces, from $15 up to $30.
Fine blended Baum Marten Scarfs from $25 to $75.
Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs from $75 to $150.
Sealskin Jackets from $150 to $365.
Children's Fur Sets—Angora, Chinchilla, Thibet and Ermine, also fur of all the Foxes—from $2 to $25 the set.

of the famous Arnold make.

Beautiful white domet flannel is the fabric used—the finest quality—and the robes are fashioned so as to secure the greatest amount of warmth and comfort.

Women's High Robes, lace trimmed, $1.25.

Let us show you the Arnold Knit Night Drawers for children. Fine weather for giving them a trial. How many times were you up last night to cover that sleeping child? You don't have to get up if the child has these night drawers. All the cover can be kicked off, and stay off the night through, and no hurt come to the child.

Hosiery for Women and Children That Is Splendidly Warm.

Good, warm, long-wearing stockings don't cost much unless you want to indulge in the real fancy kinds, or, more properly speaking, the imported novelties.

The best of every-day stockings are priced low, as follows:

Misses' and Boys' Imported Cashmere and Merino Stockings—all the different weights and ribs—35c, 50c, 65c, 75c, $1 a pair.
In imported Cashmere Stockings for women the showing was never more varied—both as to weights and prices. 50c, 75c, $1, $1.25, $1.50 and upward to $3 a pair.

SOROSIS

ABOUT FITTING

So much depends on a correct fit that we specially train all our salespeople on this important detail, and their instructions are to lose a sale rather than let a customer go out improperly fitted. We even go so far as to say that if a Sorosis shoe proves unsatisfactory from misfitting by one of our own people, we stand ready to make it good.

Over fifteen hundred types of feet are included in our model room. All Sorosis shapes are designed by us and the Lasts are made in our own Factory. We do not rely on outside assistance for any item that goes to make up a Sorosis shoe.

CAUTION

Some dealers say they have shoes made on Sorosis Lasts. This is not so. Of all the manufacturers in this country Sorosis is the only one having its own Last Factory. Its models, therefore, cannot be obtained by others.

DID NOT CALL FOR GUARANTEE

British Westinghouse Company Was Able to Pay Dividends.

SHARED PROFITS ON ITS ORDERS

As Plant Was Incomplete, the Work Was Done at Parent Shops in America--The Manchester Works Will Soon Be Finished.

The British Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, Limited, realized as net earnings during its second fiscal year as £49,533, 4s 6d. This was more than sufficient to meet the guaranteed 6 per cent on the £750,000 in preference shares, without drawing on the Pittsburgh licensee company, which had agreed to make up this dividend during the construction of the plant at Manchester, Eng. The plant is nearing completion and is expected to be ready to receive tools and machinery by the first of next year.

In the last fiscal year, ending with July, the British company contracted business amounting to £738,000. These contracts were fulfilled by the Pittsburgh company, but this arrangement will end when the Manchester works are ready for operation. The British company was formed in July, 1899, and authorized to issue £1,000,000 in preference shares. The company acquires the rights in all patents and business in Great Britain and its colonies from the Westinghouse Electric and Machine companies and Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co of New York.

The Manchester works will produce the various lines in electrical manufacture, machines and engines manufactured by the Westinghouse plants here. Yesterday the Pittsburgh offices of the Westinghouse companies received by cablegram the second annual report of the British company. The most important portion of this follows:

Companies Shared Profits.

Pending the completion of the company's works at Manchester orders have been executed at Pittsburgh on terms whereby the British company shares with the American company, in manufacturing profit. The British company's net profits for the year (including £10,000 not ascertained in time to be brought into last year's account) amount to £49,533 4s and 6d.

Out of this sum an interim dividend of £15,000 has been paid, and the directors propose to appropriate a further sum of £15,625, making the full 6 per cent dividend upon the £750,000 preference shares, as paid up on July 31. This will leave £18,980 4s 6d to be carried forward.

The British company, therefore, has no occasion to call upon the American company for the guarantee that pending the erection of the works at Manchester the profit shall be sufficient to pay dividends upon the 6 per cent preference shares). This guarantee extends to two more half yearly dividends, payable May and November, 1902.

New Plant Almost Completed.

The works at Manchester are rapidly approaching completion, and should be ready to receive tools and machinery by January next. Upon their completion, British orders are to be executed in England instead of at Pittsburgh.

During the year there have been issued £250,000 preference shares, and £250,000 ordinary shares. In order to combine the manufacture of large gas engines, with that of electrical machinery at the Manchester works, the £250,000 preference shares were duly offered to the proprietors by circular dated May 31, 1901, and fully subscribed, and are now fully paid up.

Orders for electrical machinery at the formation of the company in 1899 amounted to £270,000. Orders received during the year ending July 31, 1900, £561,000. Orders received during the year ending July 31, 1901, £788,000. By reason of recent improvements, it is expected that gas engines of greater horse power will come into use for the operation of electrical generators. During the past year 12 important gas engine installations, aggregating 3,000 horse power, have been sold, and negotiations are pending for over 10,000 horse power of larger units."

HUNTING A MURDERER.

Two Indiana Women Are Believed to Have Been Slain by One Person.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Nov. 13.—All efforts of the entire police and detective forces of this city to find a clue to the murderer of murderers of the two women whose dead bodies were found lying in ditches by the roadside in opposite directions from this city yesterday, have proved unavailing. Several suspects are under surveillance, but developments in the murders have not been sufficient to warrant the police in making arrests.

The body of Mrs. Georgia Bailey, a widow, was found near the public highway a mile from the city. There were finger marks on her throat and her neck was broken. In another direction, a mile from the city, the body of Miss Lena Renner was found. Deep finger marks were also visible on her throat.

While it is evident that both women were killed about the same hour Tuesday night, it is still believed the women were slain by the same fiend.

John Klifer, a young railroader, was arrested as a suspect. He was with Miss Renner Tuesday, but Klifer succeeded in convincing the police that he was innocent of the crimes. Miss Renner was the daughter of well-known and highly respected parents of Jasper.

EVERY JUDGE REPUBLICAN.

Fusion Deprives Philadelphia Democrats of Minority Representation on the Bench.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 13.—The official count of the recent election in Philadelphia county, which was completed today, shows that G. Harry Davis, Republican, one of the candidates on the Union party ticket for judge of common pleas court No. 5, was elected over Henry Budd, Democrat, his colleague on the Union ticket. The unofficial returns last week apparently elected Budd by about 400 plurality, but the official count shows Davis to have received 195 votes more than Budd.

Three judges were to be elected for this court, each elector being entitled to vote for two candidates, thus assuring the minority party representation in the court. The two Republican nominees were elected as the other members of the court.

LEHIGH BRACED UP.

Won in the Second Half from Haverford.

BETHLEHEM, PA., Nov. 13.—Haverford by guards' back formation secured a touchdown in the first half, outplaying Lehigh at every opportunity. In the second half Lehigh went into the fray desperately, and when the game was ended Lehigh had won by a score of 21 to 5. As both elevens lined up they finished, no one being hurt.

IS AFTER SANDOW.

Rolandow Wishes to Try a Test of Strength.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—G. H. Rolandow, through his manager, M. H. Byrd of this city, today issued a challenge to Sandow, who claims the world's championship, to meet him in a contest in 10 feats of strength, each man to name five, the match to be decided at any time and place which Sandow may suggest. Rolandow has deposited $2,000 with George Considine to bind the match.

Priest Leaves $100,000 to His Parish.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 13—The Rev. Father Wieczorek, priest at St. Hedgwicks Polish Catholic church in this city, whose funeral occurred this morning, has bequeathed to the parish his entire fortune amounting to nearly $100,000.

THE LESSON OF THE BOER WAR

Col. Livermore, the Military Expert of the United States, Says It Is the Wonderful Effectiveness of Modern Weapons -- Compels Change of Tactics.

(Special Cable to The Sunday Gazette.)

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The wonderful effectiveness of modern weapons is the striking lesson of the Boer war, is the opinion of Expert Livermore, United States military attache at Copenhagen. Colonel Livermore is visiting London to study the South African campaign from the vantage point of the British headquarters, where he meets officers fresh from the scene of action.

"Experience in the Transvaal," said Colonel Livermore, "compelled experts to acknowledge the absolute truth of the teachings that the terrible losses in the American civil and in the Franco-Prussian wars showed the necessity of changing the formations and spreading the troops over wider areas; yet apparently this and similar concrete examples are necessary to reinforce the old lessons today. Quick-firing guns kill ten times as many men in the same time as the old weapons, rendering frontal attacks futile unless the defenders' line is stretched from a point where no possible enemy can break through."

Colonel Livermore will shortly publish simultaneously in New York and London a historical atlas of Europe, giving the distinct maps of the continent. The colonel, in intervals of leisure, has devoted many years to the atlas, and it will be of a scope and magnitude never before attempted.

KILLED 16 REBELS.

Four Hundred Insurgents Intrenched in Rifle Pits Routed by Americans.

MANILA, Nov. 13.—Capt. Hartman's troop of the First cavalry early this morning surprised 400 insurgents at Buan, in Batangas province, Southwestern Luzon. Half the insurgents were armed with rifles. They were prepared for an attack and were in rifle pits. The cavalry attacked the insurgents on the flank, killing 16 of them, wounding five and capturing nine rifles. The insurgents broke and ran, the cavalry pursuing them.

Two large boatloads of arms are reported to have been loaded on the southern part of the Batangas peninsula and taken to Durangan. Maj. West, stationed in that locality, is endeavoring to find these arms.

Queen Wilhelmina's Illness.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 13.—Officials here refuse to discuss the state of Queen Wilhelmina's health, which has been known to be poor lately, but from unofficial sources it is announced that the indisposition was only of a temporary character which has yielded to treatment. Prof. Halbertsma, a gynecological expert, has been summoned to attend her.

MISS STONE COMPLAINS OF MANY HARDSHIPS.

(Special Cable to Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SOFIA, Nov. 13.—Miss Stone informs Consul General Dickinson that the measures of the Bulgarian police is rendering her life harder and compelling the brigands to change their hiding place every night. Consul Dickinson has addressed a note to the government making it responsible for the consequences of these measures and demanding them to facilitate the negotiations with the brigand band. The government replied that it was unable to protect the negotiations with the brigands, but would permit a free movement of armed messengers for the safe conduct of Dickinson.

Ivan Milocheff, a Bulgarian clergyman from Usmub, in Macedonia, has arrived from visiting Miss Stone, and has held a consultation with United States Consul General Dickinson.

"Miss Stone," he said, "is in the house of Bekir Bey in the town of Ceres, Macedonia. I left her two days ago, coming direct to Mr. Dickinson to try to arrange for her release. Miss Stone and Mme. Tsilka are well, but the strain is terrific, and there is danger that Miss Stone may lose her mind. Bekir Bey assisted the brigands by keeping Miss Stone for 30 days in the mountains before taking her to his house."

CATHOLIC DILEMMA IN THE PHILIPPINES

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ROME, Nov. 13.—A cardinal who is familiar with Filipino affairs admits that Archbishop Chapelle's failure in the far east was due to the insurmountable hostility of the natives against the friars. Chapelle himself has asked to be recalled and has recommended Bishop Sambuecho as his successor.

The vatican hesitates what course to adopt, as no longer can the Spanish church government enforce measures of protection of the friars against the hostile population that not only refuses payment of tithes but urges the suppression of most of the religious orders in the islands.

BRAZIL FAVORS YANKEE MILLERS

Chamber of Deputies Passes a Tariff Bill Which Bears Heavily Upon Argentina—It Arouses Bitter Opposition — Buenos Ayres Likely to Protest.

(Special Cable to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)
(Copyright, 1901, by New York Herald.)

RIO JANEIRO, BRAZIL, Nov. 13.—The chamber of deputies has passed a bill increasing the duty on flour imported in bags instead of in barrels. Ninety-one votes were for the measure and 54 against it.

There was a lively discussion over the measure. It was contended that flour imported in bags is apt to contain dangerous germs, but this assertion was combatted vigorously.

One member of the budget commission frankly declared that the object of the bill was to protect United States producers against the Argentine. After the vote had been taken several deputies shouted:

"The Yankees have routed the Argentines"

Public opinion and the newspapers generally disapprove of the new law, as it is known that flour from the United States arrives in barrels, while the Argentine product comes in bags. Newspapers of Buenos Ayres unanimously condemn the new Brazilian tariff on flour. Millers will appeal to the Argentine government to file a remonstrance.

LIBELING A DEAD PREMIER.

Bjornsen's Latest Drama Angers the Statesmen's Heirs.

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 13.—(Special Cable.)—The sons and daughters of the late premier, Johann Sverdrup, have published a protest against the late drama by Bjornsen, of Paul Lange and Thora Parsberg, wherein the character of the prime minister, commonly believed to represent Sverdrup, is portrayed, showing a falsified copy to the cabinet of a protocol to Lange, thereby causing Lange to commit suicide.

Sverdrup's children show affidavits from all the living members of Sverdrup's ministry saying they never heard of such falsification. Should Bjornsen stick to his version an extraordinary legal struggle is expected.

CANCER CONTAGIOUS.

More Catching Than Hereditary, Is a German Conclusion.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—(Special Cable.)—Cancer is oftener more contagious than hereditary, is the substance of the report to be announced tomorrow night by the German national committee on cancer inquiry. Prof. Von Leyden, chairman, was interviewed and said hereditary cancer is comparatively rare.

"Our labors are still incomplete, but one thing is certain," said the professor. "The world still lacks a cancer cure. Theories and suggestions only continue to multiply. Our plans contemplate exhaustiveness and decisiveness, but the results are difficult to foretell."

BUSINESS MAN'S GRUESOME JOKE

MAKES OFFICE FORCE BELIEVE HE WAS BENT ON SUICIDE.

Writes a Note to Confidential Clerk That He Would Sleep His Last at a Hotel Which He Would Not Name. He Sleeps All Right, but Appears Next Morning in the Counting Room Very Much Alive.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—William Ingram Russell slept, but it was not the last long sleep that he had promised to take. His employes, who had been counting on a day off to attend his funeral, were startled when he entered his place of business at 10:30 o'clock this morning, spick and span and cleanly shaven and very much alive.

Mr. Russell is the senior member of the firm of W. I. Russell & Co., metal brokers. He is also, it would appear, a practical joker of no mean ability. When he entered his office the woman stenographer promptly went into hysterics. All this came about because Lewis Wheaton, confidential clerk to Mr. Russell, received this letter on Tuesday:

New York, Nov. 12, 1901.

Dear Wheaton—Forgive me for putting such a burden on you, but I know of no one else I could ask. Probably early tomorrow morning you will hear where I have passed my last night. When you get the news, please take charge. My wife does not expect me home until tomorrow night. I am going up town to a hotel, where I shall register in my own name, and will plan that you get word which hotel early this morning. Goodbye, my dear fellow. I have a very warm, brotherly feeling for you. I appreciate your work. May you and yours prosper.

Gratefully,
W. I. RUSSELL.

Mr. Wheaton at once notified William Russell, eldest son of his employer, and the son told the police. Armed with a complete description of the missing and supposedly dead man, the police presumably made a tour of the uptown hotels, carefully overlooking the Hoffman house, where Mr. Russell's name appeared in big letters on the register. This failure on the part of the police to find the metal broker intensified the mystery, and it was with some trepidation and with a fear of getting bad news, that Mr. Wheaton at 8 o'clock this morning opened a telegram addressed to him at his house. But it was good news, and the joke was out. Mr. Russell apprised him that he had passed the night at the Hoffman house, that he would be down to the office at the usual hour, and that they were not to worry about him.

When Mr. Russell, accompanied by Mr. Wheaton, reached his office he found a waiting group of detectives and newspaper men. These he addressed as follows: "I stopped at the Hoffman house last night. It is nobody's business why I wrote that note. I shall not explain it, and you fellows want to get right out of this office."

Before going it was explained to them by Mr. Wheaton: "It was just a case of dinner. After writing that note to me he went to the Hoffman house. There he went to bed and fell asleep instead of killing himself."

Pittsburgh Firm Buys Land.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Weaver's Old Stand, one of the oldest villages in this county, is about to experience a big boom. The Pittsburgh Brass Plumbers' Supply Company purchased a tract of 22 acres. A plant for the manufacture of bathtubs, valves and fillings will be erected, and only skilled workmen will be employed.

TRANSPORTS PRO AND CON.

Strong Pressure on the War Department to Rely Upon Private Company Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Strong pressure is being applied to the war department by the steamship interests of the Pacific coast to induce Secretary Root to order the abolition of the army transport service. Such action is opposed by Quartermaster General Ludington, who has just returned from the Philippines, where he made an inspection of the quartermaster's department and particularly of the transport service.

Gen. Ludington went to Manila in a government transport and returned by a commercial vessel to make a comparison between the operation of the two systems. He said today the comparison is greatly to the advantage of the government vessels. Nevertheless, it is claimed that the use of commercial vessels would mean a considerable saving of money to the government, and it is probable that this view will eventually result in a decision to sell the transports and use the private steamship lines.

The especial difficulty in the way of this action is the making of provision for the care of the sick. On the government transports convalescents returning from the Philippines are tenderly treated and surgeons and nurses look after their wants.

SIXTEEN INCHES OF SNOW.

Real Winter Makes Its Presence Felt in State of Maine.

BANGOR, ME., Nov. 13.—The snowstorm which began in a mild sort of a way late Tuesday developed in strength during the night and today raged with all the fierceness of a midwinter downfall.

Reports from Greenville state that 16 inches of snow had fallen there and about a foot along the main line of the Bangor & Aroostock railroad.

KENNEDY AND KNOX.

They Will Meet on Monday Instead of Tuesday.

The Kennedy-Knox 20-round boxing contest at Windber, Pa., will take place on next Tuesday. Both men agreed to the change, as it brings the contest on a day sooner, and they are now down to the weight, 145 pounds, and in perfect condition. Kennedy, his manager, James Mason, and a party of Pittsburgh sports, are going up on the morning of the contest, returning the same night.

Killed by a Runaway Car.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—John Patton, a young farmer residing near Harbor Bridge, this county, was perhaps fatally injured last night by being run down by a runaway car. Patton was driving up hill when struck by a car and his rig was demolished. At first it was thought he was only slightly injured, but internal wounds resulted in his death. He was married and had two children.

SAW NO LEONIDS.

Government Astronomers at Washington Not Surprised.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The naval observatory scientists scoured the sky tonight for a possible recurrence of the Leonid meteors, but no shower was discovered.

The absence of this phenomenon, which was thought to have been due last year and was expected by some astronomers tonight, although a year late, was no surprise to the observatory officials.

Was Pounded Into Dreamland.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., Nov. 13.—Billy Finucane of Chicago stayed almost seven rounds with Clarence Forbes of Chicago in what was to have been a 20-round contest tonight, before the Eagles club. Forbes was far the cleverer and literally pounded his man into dreamland. Finucane gave a fairly good account of himself up to the sixth.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Do You Have Rheumatism? Have You Bladder or Uric Acid Trouble?

To Prove What SWAMP ROOT, the Great Kidney and Bladder Remedy, Will Do for YOU, All Our Readers May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Pain or dull ache in the back is unmistakable evidence of kidney trouble. It is Nature's timely warning to show you that the track of health is not clear.

If these danger signals are unheeded, more serious results are sure to follow; Bright's disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble, may steal upon you.

The mild and the extraordinary effect of the world-famous kidney and bladder remedy, Swamp-Root, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone—and you may have a sample bottle for the asking.

Lame back is only one symptom of kidney trouble—one of many. Other symptoms showing that you need Swamp-Root are, obliged to pass water often during the day and to get up many times at night, inability to hold your urine, smarting or irritation in passing, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, catarrh of the bladder, uric acid, constant headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, irregular heart-beating, rheumatism, bloating, irritability, wornout feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion.

If your water when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling, or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

Swamp-Root is the great discovery of Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist. Hospitals use it with wonderful success in both slight and severe cases. Doctors recommend it to their patients and use it in their own families, because they recognize in Swamp-Root the greatest and most successful remedy.

If you have the slightest symptom of kidney or bladder trouble, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you free by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book of wonderful Swamp-Root testimonials. Be sure to say that you read this generous offer in The Pittsburg Gazette.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at drug stores. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

He thinks he lives, but he's a dead one. No person is really alive whose liver is dead. During the winter most people spend nearly all their time in warm, stuffy houses or offices or workshops. Many don't get as much exercise as they ought, and everybody knows that people gain weight in winter. As a rule it is not sound weight, but means a lot of flabby fat and useless, rotting matter staying in the body when it ought to be driven out. But the liver is over-burdened, deadened—stops work. There you are, with a dead liver, and right now is the time for resurrection. Wake up the dead! Get all the filth out of your system, and get ready for the winter's trials with clean, clear blood, body, brain free from bile. Force is dangerous and destructive unless used in a gentle, persuasive way, and the right plan is to give new strength to the muscular walls of the bowels, and stir up the liver to new life and work with CASCARETS, the great system cleaner, disinfectant and bowel tonic. Get a 50c box to-day—a whole month's treatment—and see how quickly you will be brought back to new life. Sample and booklet free. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

BRECKINRIDGE RAISES A STORM

PASS RESOLUTIONS OF CENSURE

Angry Delegates Also Vote to Expel the Vice President Who Adjourned the Meeting Without Giving Opportunity to Make Reply.

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 13.—Kentucky Federation of Labor, at a turbulent meeting this afternoon, adopted a resolution denouncing ex-Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge for remarks made by him last night in an address welcoming the Federation delegates to Lexington. Vice President F. C. Leaming of the Federation, who arranged and presided at last night's meeting, was expelled from the Federation and denounced.

In the course of his welcoming speech Col. Breckinridge said he was the friend of labor organizations; that he heartily favored the organization of labor, but that he thought that its battles should be fought with reason and not with force; that the day of strikes was over, citing and criticising the big steel strike. He said further that he did not believe it conducive to the best interests of labor, but unjust and an abrogation of personal liberty, for unions to say to the employer, "You must employ only whom we choose, pay them what we demand," and say to the working man, "Unless you join our union you cannot work."

This expression of opinion was not pleasing to a number of the delegates and several wanted to make speeches when Col. Breckinridge had concluded.

The chairman, Vice President Leaming, announced that the program was concluded, and declared the meeting adjourned. Agitation of the grievance today led the dissenting delegates to declare that organized labor had been insulted and deprived of an opportunity to defend itself.

At the meeting of the typographical union tonight resolutions were adopted withdrawing from the Kentucky Federation of Labor. The resolutions accord to Col. Breckinridge the right to hold and express opinions, though they declared it is not necessary for labor to indorse his position, if it does not coincide with their opinions; they declare to the people that the brand of unionism exhibited by the Federation of Labor in its action today is not that to which Lexington unions are accustomed, nor the kind they attempt to propagate," and finally, since the Federation has seen fit to criticise the entertainment and welcome accorded, the delegates are bidden a courteous farewell.

President McKill of the Kentucky Federation was present and in a speech disapproved of and lamented the action of the convention, and said he had done all in his power to stay such action.

Labor leaders predict that the day's events will result in the disruption of the Federation of Labor in Kentucky.

DEMOCRATIC TARIFF IDEA.

Reciprocity Policy to Be Attacked as a Subterfuge.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Senator Morgan of Alabama today gave an interview on the tariff situation that is said to state the Democratic position. He said:

"From the beginning until the end of the coming session of congress the principal thing the people will hear will be the tariff. A great reaction against the present tariff system is being experienced. The Republicans see that they have got to do something to perpetuate their sacred doctrine. Some are making a great cry for reciprocity; others demand a reduction of the internal revenue taxes; then there is still another faction which says we should reduce the tariff, or remove it here and there, on certain products—steel, for instance—and a fourth section who declare that there must be no tampering with the tariff at all. Reciprocity is nothing but a subterfuge, and the talk of reducing the internal revenue tax is only for the purpose of drawing attention away from the tariff, while the policy of here and there knocking a hole in the protective tariff does accomplish but little good and offers but small relief. The substance of the entire matter is, there never was and there never will be a just tariff law."

UNCONSCIOUS SEVEN DAYS

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Unconscious for seven days, and kept alive by injections of milk and beef tea taken through a stomach tube, 17-year-old Mamie Berger of this city regained her senses Monday morning, and now is on the road to recovery.

Her malady has mystified the local physicians. After eating sardines, the entire Berger family, consisting of father and mother, three sisters and a brother, were taken violently ill on August 23. All save Miss Mamie recovered, but ever since the poisoning the girl has been a constant sufferer from nervous troubles. She was stricken with nervous prostration three weeks ago, and a few days later suddenly became unconscious, remaining in that condition for two days, despite all efforts to rouse her. Not long afterward she passed into a second state of coma, which did not continue longer than two or three hours.

Wabash May Buy Western Property.

OMAHA, Nov. 13.—A party of Wabash railroad officials inspected the bridge and terminal tracts of the Omaha Bridge & Terminal Railway Company. The inspection of this property was with a view to its purchase by the Wabash road. The property includes a new steel bridge across the Missouri river and trackage over the ground in this city, South Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Contagious Diseases—Eight cases of typhoid fever, four of scarlet fever and seven of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health.

Boatmen's Bean Bake—The Allegheny River Boatmen's association will hold its annual bean bake in McKenzie's hall, Aspinwall, Friday, November 30.

Ground to Death—John Stegman of Etna was run over and killed by a train on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad at the Etna crossing at 7 o'clock last night. He was a married man, 40 years of age.

A Dangerous Missile—Albert Cuff, a negro waiter, was probably fatally cut by a plate thrown by Alfred Nesbit in the restaurant of George Taylor in Penn avenue, East end, last night. Cuff was sent to St. Francis hospital and Nesbit was locked up in No. 6 police station.

Money for Charity—The will of the late Mrs. Margaret Lowry, who died at her home, 1301 Veto street, Allegheny, last Friday, provides for a bequest of $500 to the Fourth United Presbyterian church and $500 for the United Presbyterian Orphans' home in West Jefferson street.

Died Very Suddenly—The coroner was notified yesterday evening of the death of Joseph Bryant of 409 Lawrence avenue, Elliott borough. He became ill suddenly and before the arrival of a doctor was dead. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause. He was 63 years of age.

Held on Three Counts—John and Grover Greer were given a hearing yesterday before Alderman L. P. Holtzman of Braddock on three charges of larceny preferred by W. L. Creson, I. J. Dugan and W. W. McCleary. They were committed to jail for court in default of $500 in each case.

A Stricken Family—Three children of James Jamison, of Flavian street, have died from diphtheria within the past week. The parents had much trouble in finding shelter for their four other well children until William Brand and his wife, of No. 311 Thirty-third street, took them to their home.

Cut Open the Pocket—Alderman J. R. Connors yesterday committed Frank Young, Archie Joseph and Joseph Marie to jail upon a charge of stealing $45 from Joseph Martina. All of the men live at No. 3 Poplar alley. It is charged that they cut the prosecutor's pocket while he was asleep and took the money.

Scared Telephone Girls—On each of three nights attempts have been made to gain admission to the telephone office of the Central District and Printing Company in Winthrop street, Bellefield. Two girls work the night board at the Park central office and they are in a state of terror. Policemen now guard the building.

Teacher Has Resigned—The resignation of Prof. R. O. Waldron of the McKeesport public schools has been received by Secretary D. P. Smith of the board of school controllers. Mr. Waldron has held this position in McKeesport for 10 years. His home is in Evans City, Pa., and he assigns ill health as his reason for resigning.

Must Answer to Court—William H. Purdue, a negro charged before Alderman John Groetzinger by Ralph W. Harbison, of the Harbison-Walker Co. of West Homestead, with maliciously and wilfully shutting off the water from the boilers at the company's plant for the purpose of destroying life and property, was yesterday held for court.

A Mule's Objection—Jacob Wildermuth, a colored man about 48 years old, an employe of Follansbee Bros., attempted to ride a mule into Pittsburgh from Allegheny yesterday. The mule objected. Wildermuth was unconscious when picked up. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital where it was found that his skull was fractured.

To Correct an Error—A special meeting of the select council of Allegheny was called last night for the purpose of presenting an amendment to the bond issue ordinances which was made necessary owing to a clerical error that left the bonds expiring in thirty-one years instead of thirty, as intended. The amendment was referred to the finance committee.

Recovered the Valuables—Detectives Robert Denniston and John Roach recovered some $300 worth of silverware and jewelry yesterday morning that had been stolen from the home of Mrs. Rebecca Berkman, 2028 Center avenue. At the same time they landed Kitty Johnson and James Lewis, both negroes, in No. 2 station on a charge of stealing the valuables.

Valuable Wallet Lost—William A. G. Handford, an employe of the George A. Fuller Construction Company, which is erecting the Frick building, lost a wallet Tuesday night containing a check for $500, valuable personal papers, several photographs, two tickets for the Bijou theater and $10 in cash. He is not positive whether the wallet dropped out of his pocket or was stolen.

Against Heads of Families—O. L. Edmundson, truant officer of the McKeesport schools, has entered suit against 14 heads of families in the Eighth ward of that city for neglecting to send their children to school. About 100 others are on the list, and the crusade is expected to materially increase the attendance at the public schools. The cases will be heard this week before Alderman E. J. Trich.

Says He Secreted Goods—James A. Kates of Esplanade street, Allegheny, is in jail for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of secreting goods to defraud a creditor, preferred before Alderman John A. Martin by David Quigley, of the Pittsburgh Furniture Co. It is charged that Kates purchased goods from the company amounting to $90, and after paying $10 on account hid the goods and refused to pay for them.

Denies Implication—Dr. Nicholas Albrecht, of 109 S. Twelfth street, denies that his father, Henry Albrecht, or his brother Christ had part in the trouble with Constable James Borland on Tuesday. Dr. Albrecht and his brother Charles have been sued before Alderman John Martin of the Sixth ward, the former on three charges. The charges are the outcome of an attempt to enforce a landlord's warrant.

Council Chamber Refurnished—Allegheny select council met last night in its newly furnished and decorated council chamber. The chamber has been newly furnished throughout on the same style as the Pittsburgh chamber. The fittings are of oak and the walls hung with a dark red burlap. The change is very agreeable as the old furnishings had been in use many years. The common chamber will be ready in a few days.

Milk Combine Formed—McKeesport milk dealers have formed an organization to raise the price of milk. Hereafter milk in that city will cost 9 cents a quart and 28 cents a gallon. The wholesale rate is to be 25 cents a gallon. One milk dealer who has refused to enter the combine has been boycotted by the others, and the association is endeavoring to corner the milk supply of the Tube City and shut off this dealer's source of supply.

Smith Will Be Left Out—Treasurer F. M. Everett of McKeesport has announced a partial list of delinquent tax collectors for the coming year. They are W. F. Young, First ward, and George W. Mains, Tenth ward. When asked as to the reappointment of W. H. Smith of the Second ward, who is charged with irregularities in the collection of taxes, Treasurer Everett said that while he had not named a man for the place, Smith would not be tax collector again.

Driver Seriously Hurt—A wagon of the McKeesport Ice Company was struck by a United Traction car in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, yesterday and the driver, Alexander Hobbs, was thrown out and badly injured about the back. He was removed to his home and last night symptoms of paralysis developed, making it evident that his spine is affected. The horses were badly injured and may have to be shot, and the wagon was demolished.

To Reopen Search—The bribery investigating committee of Allegheny councils will meet Friday afternoon to resume their quest for evidence. John H. Trimble has been quietly searching for evidence and a method of procedure. Chairman Morris Einstein called a meeting of the committee late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Trimble has consulted his attorney in reference to the best method of procedure and he has been assured that the committee can act if it is their desire.

Cobbler Attempts Suicide—Benjamin Spirline, 55 years old, a well-known shoemaker living at No. 146 Pike street, attempted to commit suicide at his home yesterday afternoon by cutting his throat with one of his shoe knives. After the cutting he fell on the floor of the shop and lay there some time before discovered by the rest of the family. He was immediately taken to the West Penn hospital. His condition last night was not dangerous.

Investigation Revived—The committee appointed to investigate the charges of bribery against Allegheny councilmen will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and be ready to hear any person who wishes to testify. Chairman Morris Einstein issued the call for the meeting yesterday. It is understood that Councilman John H. Trimble has an opinion from a prominent attorney bearing on the case, which will facilitate the investigation and which will be presented at this meeting.

New Traction Line—It has been announced through the Real Estate exchange of McKeesport that a traction line will be constructed from Glassport to Monongahela, Pa. The rights of way have been almost all secured, and the financing of the project has been arranged for. A bridge will be built across the Monongahela river at Glassport, so that direct connection may be had with the lines operating between McKeesport and Pittsburgh. W. T. Pierce of Pittsburgh and James L. Devenny of McKeesport are said to be interested in the project.

Tried to Escape—Frank Boyle, who is alleged to have assaulted Frank Slanick, with a coupling pin while they were at work in the yard of the Homestead steel works on Monday night, attempted to escape from the office of Justice George McCreary at Munhall, during the hearing yesterday. He had just been held in $1,000 bail on the charge of aggravated assault and battery when he made a break for the door. Constable John Bougamer was knocked down, but before Boyle could open the door Justice McCreary jumped and caught him by the collar.

Thief's Ruse Worked—Thomas Schaff, a butcher at Webster avenue and Davis street, had an exciting experience with a negro sneak thief Tuesday night. He saw the negro making off with his cash drawer and gave chase. Schaff knocked the thief down with a stone twice and during the scuffle a woman came to the butcher's rescue. She struck the negro squarely with a brick. He yelled, "You've murdered me, you've done finished me." As the butcher stepped away from his prisoner the negro jumped to his feet, kicked the butcher twice, rendering him unconscious, and then made his escape.

BAD DREAMS

Caused by Coffee.

"I have been a coffee drinker, more or less, ever since I can remember, until a few months ago I became more and more nervous and irritable, and finally I could not sleep at night for I was horribly disturbed by dreams of all sorts and a species of distressing nightmare.

"Finally, after hearing the experience of numbers of friends who had quit coffee and gone to drinking Postum Food Coffee, and learning of the great benefits they had derived, I concluded coffee must be the cause of my trouble, so I got some Postum Food Coffee and had it made strictly according to directions.

"I was astonished at the flavor and taste. It entirely took the place of coffee, and to my very great satisfaction, I began to sleep peacefully and sweetly. My nerves improved, and I wish I could warn every man, woman and child from the unwholesome drug, ordinary coffee.

"People really do not appreciate or realize what a powerful drug it is and what terrible effect it has on the human system. If they did, hardly a pound of it would be sold. I would never think of going back to coffee again. I would almost as soon think of putting my hand in a fire after I had once been burned.

"A young lady friend of ours had stomach trouble for a long time, and could not get well as long as she used coffee. She finally quit coffee and began the use of Postum Food Coffee and is now perfectly well. Yours for health. Don't publish my name."——Herington, Kan. coats and furs

The part of the business commonly called the Cloak Dep't has so expanded as to actually overflow its already large space.

The range of variety so liberally extended that some lines have been crowded into the adjoining section.

It's this very elaborateness of variety, and the character thereof, together with our impressive lower pricing, which creates such enthusiastic interest—brings this store so remarkably large a proportion of the business of this region.

We want to have what you want, when you want it, and stop at nothing to accomplish that purpose.

When you come now you will see that we have provided most lavishly for you—not only Cloth Coats and Furs, but Fur Coats and Velvet ones, and such a showing of smart Suits, Skirts and Waists, and latest garments for girls and children, as you'll find it a pleasure and a financial satisfaction to select from.

Sell you a fair Fur Scarf for $1.00—but would rather sell you one at a little more, because the better pleased you are in the long run, the better it will be for this store.

RAILWAY KINGS NOW AT PEACE

Conflicting Interests in Northern Pacific Finally Reach an Agreement.

PREFERRED STOCK WILL BE RETIRED

Northern Securities Company Incorporated at Trenton, N. J., to Take Over Shares of Northern Pacific and Great Northern.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—There were two important developments in the railroad situation in the northwest. The first of these developments was the incorporation at Trenton, N. J., of the Northern Securities Company with a capital stock of $400,000,000, and the second was the unanimous adoption by the Northern Pacific directors of a resolution providing for the retirement at par of the company's preferred stock on January 1, 1902.

There was a full attendance at the meeting at which this action was taken, those present including George F. Baker and Charles Steele, representing J. P. Morgan & Co., E. H. Harriman, of the Harriman syndicate, which is in control of Union Pacific; James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern; Samuel Rea, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania; James Stillman, of the National City bank; H. McK. Twombly, for the Vanderbilts, and William Rockefeller.

The directors decided that the funds necessary for the retirement of the preferred stock should be obtained by the sale at not less than par of $75,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds convertible into common stock, each holder of common stock now outstanding being entitled to purchase at par an amount equal to seventy-five-eightieths of the amount of his present holdings. It was further provided that dividends of 1 per cent be paid on the preferred stock before its retirement.

No official statement was obtainable this afternoon as to the scope of the newly incorporated Northern Securities Company, but it was generally understood that the company was formed to take over and control the shares of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern railways and of their leased lines.

It it understood that Union Pacific and Chicago & Northwestern interests agreed to the retirement of Northern Pacific preferred and that Union Pacific will have a heavy interest in the capital of the new company, considerably beyond the par value of its present Northern Pacific shareholdings, which are placed at $78,000,000 par value, just over a majority of the total $155,000,000 Northern Pacific stock capital.

Under the new arrangements the Union Pacific railway will have voting rights in the Burlington, the board of directors being about evenly divided between the Union Pacific and the Hill interests.

After the meeting of the Northern Pacific directors J. J. Hill and George F. Baker went to Mr. Morgan's office and had a conference with him. Later Jacob Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and E. H. Harriman called. All declined to be interviewed.

A member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. said:

"You may rest assured that all difficulty over the Northern Pacific matter is now at an end and this has been accomplished in a manner highly satisfactory to all concerned."

The resolutions adopted by the directors of the Northern Pacific for the retiring of the preferred stock set forth the terms of the agreement of July 13, 1896, whereby J. P. Morgan & Co., acting for the reorganization managers turned over to the Northern Pacific Railway Company $40,000,000 of preferred and $80,000,000 of common stock and that it was expressly provided in the agreement that the preferred stock could be taken up at par on the first of any January prior to 1917.

The resolutions show further that at a meeting of the Northern Pacific directors July 8, 1896, a form of certificate for the preferred stock, bearing these conditions, was adopted and was duly ratified by the stockholders. Every certificate of the $75,000,000 preferred now outstanding therefore, bears this provision.

Under the resolutions the transfer books will close for the retirement of the preferred issue on December 10 next. The final dividend of one per cent will be payable on and after January 1, 1902.

The Herald tomorrow will state the Northern Pacific common stock will go into the new "holding" company around 115, and the Great Northern around 180.

AWAITING THE DECISION.

Parsons Faction of Knights of Labor Will Meet After Court's Opinion Is Handed Down.

The annual meeting of the general assembly closed this morning. Much of the time of the meeting has been devoted to considering plans for another meeting. If the supreme court of the District of Columbia in the case to determine which is the legal organization of the Knights of Labor decides in favor of the Parsons faction the regular business will be transacted at the annual meeting afterward. At this meeting only the necessary quorum of five district assemblies are represented.

J. Frank O'Meara of the Washington (D. C.) assembly said yesterday that the Parsons people could afford to let their case rest with the testimony offered by the other side. Testimony for the Parsons of the case is now being taken and will be concluded before the first of next month.

The visiting delegates last night attended a meeting of the Sales People's assembly, which has about 1,500 members in Pittsburgh. Leaders of the meeting say that the Burns general assembly has only that of the Burns organization of the window glass workers and one other legitimate assembly to form a quorum of five for its general assembly. They say that the rest are paper assemblies with insufficient membership back of them.

Mission Rand Bazar.

The Macedonian Mission band of the Central Presbyterian church of Allegheny will hold a bazar in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening, November 22.

The several booths have been arranged for as follows: Candy, in charge of Miss Alice Morrow; fancy work, Miss Clara B. Miller; common sense, Mrs. L. H. Over; dolls, Miss Katherine St. Clair, and refreshments, Miss Margaret Hutchinson. The chairmen will be assisted by the following aids: Mrs. David M. Skilling, Misses Campbell, Johnston, Waite, Alice Hutchinson, Anna Hutchinson, Josephine Wallace, Flora Wallace, Owens, Grace Crider, Hall, Beatty, Jackson, Webster, Collingwood, Walthaur, Bessie Crider, Jeannette Love, Mrs. M. F. Berger and Mrs. Robert Swan. Admission free.

Reception in Crafton.

A handsomely appointed suburban reception of yesterday was that given by Mrs. William Johnston Gibson, at her home in Ridge avenue, Crafton, to meet Mrs. Wilson McKenna of Buffalo, who is the house guest of Mrs. Gibson's sister, Mrs. Charles E. Rome of Stratford avenue, East End. About 100 invitations had been issued for the affair, which is the first of a series of events to be given in honor of Mrs. McKenna during her visit here.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE MISSIONS

Second Period of Semi-Annual Methodist Meetings In Christ Church.

BISHOPS TALK OF THE RECENT SUCCESS

Under the Auspices of the General Committee of the Methodis Church, Sessions Have Begun Comparison With Early Days.

The second period of the semi-annual missionary meetings held under the auspices of the general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal church opened yesterday morning in Christ Methodist Episcopal church, corner of Center and Liberty avenues. The Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle made the address of welcome. At 2 p. m. a business session was held, during which much enthusiasm was manifested. Bishop Earl Cranston presided.

No little commotion was aroused when Col. E. L. Dobbins of New York, a member of the board of managers, made a motion that the committees be instructed to keep their expenditure list within the sum appropriated for this purpose.

Bishop S. M. Merrill.

The motion was vigorously opposed by Dr. J. M. Buckley, Dr. J. F. Goucher, Bishop C. H. Fowler and Dr. H. J. Coker. They maintained that it was a reflection on the integrity of the committee and should not, therefore, be entertained. It was withdrawn and another passed expressive of confidence in the committee's work.

The members then appropriated $150,000 for missionary work, $50,000 of which is to be used as a contingent fund, $42,000 for incidentals and $14,000 for office expenses. Several smaller sums were appropriated for other purposes. Following the business session a reception was tendered by the Methodists of the two cities.

It remained for the evening session to draw out the crowds. Christ church was taxed last night to its capacity on the occasion of the first platform meeting held by the general committee. Bishop S. M. Merrill was chairman. He introduced Dr. A. B. Leonard, secretary, as the first speaker of the night. Dr. Leonard then delivered an instructive address on "The Religious Outlook in Europe." He drew a comparison of Protestantism of "yesterday and that of today," contending that in the early centuries the work of Protestantism was stayed in Catholic countries.

"It could not preach its doctrines then as it does now. Ministers were thus handicapped in their labors. Now, however, our chances are greater. There is a broader spirit everywhere and Protestantism flourishes in the most Catholic countries." He asserted that if Romanism is to be overthrown in foreign countries

Bishop Earl Cranston.

Rome itself must be made the center of this attack. Dr. Leonard said that this conclusion was based on his experience in Rome.

"It would be far easier," he continued, "to convert Catholics in the very heart of Catholicity than in the United States. As to the Greek Orthodox church of Russia, the work of missionaries there is not allowed to be productive. Protestantism is positively debarred in Russia."

Dr. Leonard concluded his remarks with a summary of Methodist Episcopal communicants in Europe, estimating them in round numbers at 55,000. He was followed by Bishop Thoburn and Bishop Cranston, who reviewed the religious situation in Southern and Eastern Asia.

VIADUCT FOR NEW CASTLE.

New Structure Will Be Built by the Municipality and the Railroad Companies.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 13.—Plans for the construction of a monster viaduct in this city are now before Judge Wallace. This structure will be erected jointly by the authorities and the railroad companies. All the latter entering the city have expressed a willingness to assist in this matter and the New Castle Traction Company, the city and county authorities will bear the balance of the expense.

The building of the viaduct will give the railroads several acres of additional yard room, as Gardner avenue will then be surrendered to them for trackage purposes, while ordinary traffic will pass above over the viaduct. The structure will cost about $87,000, according to the plans made by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie engineers, which have practically been adopted. Judge Wallace has appointed G. B. Zahnizer, G. M. Clark and C. J. Kirk to view the place and report.

DYNAMITE AT SCRANTON.

Strikers Use the Explosive to Wreck a Street Car—Much Excitement, but No One Injured.

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Just as the theaters were letting out tonight a dynamite cartridge was placed on the street car tracks at the corner of Spruce street and Franklin avenue and a car with eight passengers aboard ran over it. The wheel of the car was broken the windows smashed and the passengers given a severe shaking up.

Five thousand people congregated inside of five minutes. Seven of the eight passengers were members of the Symphony orchestra from Wilkesbarre, who came here to rehearse for the Nordica concert tomorrow night. This is the third car that has been dynamited in a week.

SHANGHAIED BOY COMING HOME.

Joseph Arthurs of McKeesport Secures His Release from Unwilling Service in the British Army.

Joseph Arthurs, the McKeesport boy who was "shanghaied" into the British army last July, has been released and is expected to return to his home within a few days. His release was effected by Secretary of State John Hay. He represented to the British ambassador at Washington that the boy was under age and had been enlisted without the consent of his parents. A damage claim will be lodged by young Arthurs and his parents against the British government.

The boy left McKeesport last July to visit friends in England. While in Liverpool he spent much time in wandering idly about the city by himself.

One day he failed to return. The manner of his disappearance was a mystery. Several weeks later his parents received a letter dated at a military post in Surrey. He said that he fell in with a recruiting sergeant, in whose company he spent several hours. He was induced to have a drink and knew nothing until he awoke in the barracks in Surrey.

He found that he was regularly enlisted and that his regiment would leave in a month for South Africa.

His father promptly laid the matter before Congressman John Dalzell. Upon Secretary Hay's representation the boy was promptly released and he has now started home.

METAL TRADES CONVENTION

WILL MEET IN SCRANTON DURING FIRST WEEK IN DECEMBER.

New Amalgamation Has 250,000 Members and Will Adopt Articles of Federation That Call for Sympathetic Strikes—American Federation of Labor Will Meet in Scranton at the Same Time.

The newly organized Federated Metal Trades, amalgamating several of the old labor organizations, including machinists, molders and boilermakers, will hold a convention in Scranton, Pa., beginning December 4, and in the same week that the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor is held there.

The most important business for the convention of the Federated Metal Trades, which have a combined membership of about 250,000, is the final adoption of the articles of federation. These articles provide for a general or sympathetic strike of the Federated Trades when necessary. However, there is a safeguard in relation to this far-reaching principle, it being provided that no sympathetic strike can be called until all the trades consent. The primary object is to have all trades co-operate to adjust the grievances of any one or more of them.

President E. J. Lynch and Secretary L. R. Thomas have just sent out the call for the convention. Secretary Thomas, who is also president of the Patternmakers' league, one of the constituents of the Federated Metal Trades, said yesterday that the trades have been voting on the articles of federation, drafted at the convention, which at St. Louis, in July, organized the new general organization of the metal trades. He says that so far as he knows the trades have ratified the articles, but the Scranton convention will finally decide this.

The metal trades of the new federation include the following: Machinists, 90,000; molders, 75,000; patternmakers, 4,000; core makers, 4,000; metal polishers, buffers and brass workers, 10,000; electrical workers, 25,000; store mounters and steel range workers, 3,000; boilermakers and shipbuilders, 40,000; blacksmiths, 6,000. Most of these trades are now affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, but their new amalgamation is to bring about closer relations of a naturally affiliated body of trades, such as the American Federation of Labor does not provide.

President Thomas has been delayed in his proposed trip to Washington, to meet officials of the navy department, by waiting here for Secretary of the Navy Long and Chief of the machinists, who is to accompany him. He is also waiting for information from President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor that a conference with the navy officials has been arranged. The purpose of the conference is to readjust the wages of the patternmakers and machinists in the Washington navy yard. According to the rules of the navy, governing these trades their wage is based on that of their trade in nearby points, where the craft is employed. In the case of Washington the rate is fixed by wages in Baltimore and other near points. President Thomas said that the Washington navy yard patternmakers get about 10 per cent less in wages than the same craftsmen in other navy yards.

LIBRARIANS TO MEET.

State Association Will Begin Its Annual Session at Harrisburg Today. Pittsburghers Were Prominent.

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 13.—The Keystone State Library association, composed of librarians from all over the state, will hold its annual session in the supreme court chamber here tomorrow. Dr. George E. Reed, state librarian of Pennsylvania, will preside.

This evening a reception was tendered the members of the association at the state library by the Pennsylvania Free Library association. The hosts were: John Thompson, Philadelphia Free Library; J. G. Rosengarten, Philadelphia; W. N. Frew, Pittsburgh; W. N. Stevenson, Carnegie Free Library, Pittsburgh; Henry Belin, Jr., Scranton, and State Librarian Reed.

ATMOSPHERE TOO HAZY.

No Attempt Was Made at the Allegheny Observatory Last Night, to Photograph the Leonids.

Owing to the hazy condition of the atmosphere last night it was found to be impracticable to attempt photographing the shower of leonids at the Allegheny observatory. Early in the day it was thought that the telescopes might be used to watch their flight, but during the evening it rained and the plans were abandoned.

Another drawback was the uncertainty of the time. It was not definitely known when the shower would occur. It might have begun early this morning, and it might not occur until the early hours of Friday morning.

Theatrical Troupe in Trouble.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Sheriff James H. Brown, this morning sold at public auction at the local opera house the costumes and properties of the Mazeppa Theatrical Company. They were seized upon an execution issued a week ago by Francis J. Gilbert, treasurer of the Auditorium theater of Philadelphia, who had leased them to Manager M. B. Leavett. Gilbert claimed $223.96 in rental due. At midnight of the day the goods were seized by the sheriff, immediately after the sale of the property this morning Manager Leavett levied upon the goods just disposed of by the sheriff and the purchasers are now restrained from procuring them.

Killed by a Fall.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—George M. Montgomery, an employe of the Franklin Air Compressor Company, while engaged in fixing a pulley on some shafting at the works last night, slipped and fell a distance of 15 feet, striking his head on the cement floor. After suffering all night he died at 7:30 o'clock this morning. He leaves a wife and one son.

BETTER CARRIER SYSTEM COMING

PITTSBURGH POSTAL SERVICE WILL BE SECOND TO NONE.

In a month the officials of the free delivery service believe the letter carrier system of Pittsburgh will be second to none. C. T. McCoy, assistant superintendent of the eastern division, who investigated conditions, submitted a report, which has been approved. A statement issued by the department says:

Mr. McCoy reports that the cost of maintaining the free delivery service in Pittsburgh, for the year ending June 30 last, was $194,054, which is 18.85 per cent of the gross receipts of the office. This is regarded as a low average and shows an economical administration. The average cost for maintaining the service, during the same period in the following cities: Cleveland, 21.30 per cent; Buffalo, 23.86; Detroit, 22.38; Milwaukee, 22.03; Rochester, 20.87, and Cincinnati, 17.45. From the above it will be seen that Cincinnati is the only other city in the group that shows a lower cost of free delivery maintenance than Pittsburgh.

Mr. McCoy estimates that if the Pittsburgh office is serving fully 340,000 people, which is at the rate of 1,717 per letter carrier. The receipts of the office for the current year show an increase averaging $12,000 a month over the same months last year.

The improvements going on in the city, he says, makes one stop with the amazement and wonder when the end of this period of construction and advancement will come. He finds that Pittsburgh is a hard city to serve, owing to its hills. On a single carrier route he found 100 new dwellings ready for occupancy.

Mr. McCoy's recommendations were fortified by figures and facts, and after personally investigating the several congested sections of the city he found an additional carrier required at Station D; also one additional for Penn avenue, one additional for Fifth aveue, one for the Hill Top district, one at Oakland, one for the Twenty-Third ward, and three for Knoxville station. He also recommends four new carriers at Station A, making eleven in all.

The investigating officer concludes his report with a statement that there is no doubt that the service in Pittsburgh is well and economically conducted.

Mr. McCoy also investigated the practicability of extending free delivery to the residents of Sterrett township, by the attachment of the district in addition to the territory served from Station D, and finds that the plan suggested by the petitioning citizens and indorsed by Representative Dalzell, is feasible in every particular. He, therefore, recommends the allowance of one additional carrier for this district, to serve 1,500 new patrons, the service to begin December 1.

Acting upon this report, and thus treating the situation as urgent, the department today issued orders granting the Pittsburgh office authority to become effective as follows: Four additional carriers for November 16, five additional carriers for December 1, and three additional carriers for December 16. In all 12 additional carriers, including the one for Sterrett township, which will bring the total number of carriers for the Pittsburgh office up to 220. The department today also granted an increase of $352 in street car fares for the carriers.

It is believed by the department officials that the above allowance, under the administration of Postmaster Holliday, will give the patrons of the Pittsburgh office a service second to no other city in the country.

Supt. Hedges will take up the question of the feasibility of extending free delivery to the citizens of McKees Rocks, Mt. Oliver and, perhaps, other districts lying adjacent to Pittsburgh. At the same time that these extensions from Pittsburgh are investigated, the matter of consolidating the Bennett and Etna offices and Millvale borough with Allegheny will be finally acted upon. Supt. Hedges will endeavor to visit both Pittsburgh and Allegheny early next week.

DEATH WAS PECULIAR.

New Castle Hospital Authorities Refuse to Give Out Information in a Blood Poisoning Case.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Timothy McCart, of this city, died this morning at the hospital under peculiar circumstances. The hospital authorities refuse to give out any statement of the cause of death and the undertaker is unwilling to speak. The death certificate is not obtainable.

McCart was injured at the steel mill two days ago, when his finger was crushed. Blood poisoning set in and it is understood that the hand was amputated at the hospital this morning. One story is that the boy died on the operating table, while another is that he strangled to death from a hemorrhage of the lungs as he regained consciousness. Public feeling is running high over what is claimed as an attempt of the hospital authorities to suppress the cause of the death of the boy.

Mayor Hanged in Effigy.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Canfield, this county, is all excited over the hanging in effigy of S. K. Crook, mayor of the village. The incident follows the trial of a liquor case in which the mayor's ruling displeased the temperance people. The "wets" declare that the "drys" are responsible for the outrage, while the latter insist that it was the work of youthful jokers.

Warren Tube Mill May Resume.

WARREN, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Vice-President Taylor Alderdice, of the National Tube Company, tonight announced that he will report favorably on the operation of the Ohio tube plant at Warren, which has been idle since the trust was formed. The mill employs 500 men.

Here's a Pointer.

Take a postal card, address it to the Cranitonic Hair Food Co., 526 West Broadway, New York City, and write on the reverse side something like this: "Please send me a copy of the 48 page illustrated book entitled Hair Care and a sample of the Cranitonic Hair Food Products, which the Commercial Gazette says you are sending free and postpaid to people who ask for them." Sign your name, give your address, street and number and mail the card. Then wait a few days and you will receive by mail a sample of the most exquisite French toilet preparation ever offered to the public.

If you will write a letter, enclosing a small lock of hair or a sample of the daily combings, and state if you have falling hair, dandruff or itching scalp, the physicians of the Cranitonic Institute will make a microscopical examination of the hair, send you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge. 41lh

CARNEGIE TO VISIT SCHOOLS

Prof. John W. Brashear Will Accompany Him on an Inspection Tour.

MORE DETAILS OF PITTSBURGH PLANS

Though Tuition Fee Will Be Charged Fund Is Likely To Be Established for the Aid of Indigent Students.

Poorer by $2,000,000 and apparently not a bit sorry for it, Andrew Carnegie left Pittsburgh for New York yesterday morning. Prof. John A. Brashear, acting chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania, went with him.

After a day's rest Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Brashear will begin a tour of inspection of the training and technological schools of the east. Several well-known scientific men and educators will accompany them. Early next week the members of the committee on plan and scope of the new Pittsburgh school will join the party.

Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, Drexel institute in Philadelphia and the Institute of Technology at Worcester, Mass., will be carefully studied. The party will be busy in this work for a week or more.

The committee on plan and scope is to study the curriculum of the different schools and follow the work of building the new school to its completion. Its members, however, will not have actual charge of the building.

When the site has been purchased by the city, William N. Frew, chairman of the board of trustees of the institute, will appoint a building committee to look after the erection of the structure. This committee will be composed of five members. Their sole responsibility will be the physical structure of the school. Mr. Carnegie wants to have as many branches taught as possible. He does not favor a four years' course of instruction such as is given in other schools. He wants instruction furnished in the shortest possible time that will fit the student for his trade.

An Expression of Purpose.

"Ill-trained workmen have cost the manufacturers of Pittsburgh thousands and thousands of dollars," said Mr. Carnegie, "and I want this school to teach men to become skilled and finished mechanics." Among the different branches to be taught will be draughtsmanship, architecture, gas and steam fitting, electrical appliances, carpenter work, scroll saw work and kindred work of artisans.

"Every man with art talents cannot be expected to paint a picture or be able to turn out a masterpiece of sculpture, but he can be able to make a door knob or some piece of machinery," declared Mr. Carnegie at the meeting of the board of trustees Tuesday afternoon.

Besides having useful art departments for men in the school, special departments will be provided for women. The idea of training young women for business life is a hobby of Mr. Carnegie's.

Common school branches will be taught and special courses of shorthand and typewriting will be given. Telegraphy also will be taken up and a new system—that of operating a telephone board—will be taught.

Fund for Indigent Students.

"Every student will be charged a tuition fee. If will not be a free school," said a member of the board of trustees yesterday. "While the tuition fee will be a nominal one, it will be sufficient to teach the student that he cannot spend all of his time in play, but must apply himself in the hardest study to complete the course. If tuition is charged it will be an inducement to parents to send their sons and daughters."

No deserving student that applies for admission to the school will be rejected if he cannot furnish the tuition. Mr. Carnegie is desirous of helping such, and he may set aside a part of the endowment fund for this purpose.

The income of Mr. Carnegie's recent addition of $50,000 to the endowment fund for the Carnegie institute will be used for the work in the museum and art departments. As was stated in the Gazette some time ago, Mr. Carnegie has long desired a department of architecture. This will not be provided for at the present time. The new department will be established in the addition to the institute. The hall of architecture in the addition will be 120 feet square. The walls will extend from the skylight to the floor, and will be hung with costly pictures of famous pieces of architectural work of the world.

When one of the officials of the Carnegie art galleries visited Europe this season he was empowered by Mr. Carnegie to option various ancient pulpits, cathedral spires and works of famous sculptors. The options, it is understood, were taken for a period of two years. Before they expire it is expected that the new addition will be completed and the specimens can be placed in the architectural department.

Site Will Soon Be Ready.

"We will have the site for the Carnegie polytechnical school ready to turn over to the committee of plan and scope by January 1, 1902." This was the statement given out by Director Edward M. Bigelow of the department of public works at his home in the East End last night.

"The city has now a fund of $702,550 to purchase city property," continued director Bigelow. The board of viewers has awarded $227,553 for the property in Mawhinney street, east of the institute. This will be gotten without any trouble for the new addition to the institute. The board of viewers also allowed $59,920 for the old Casino site. This leaves a balance of $364 for the Schenley property on which the new polytechnical school will be erected."

A meeting of the committee and board of trustees of the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church was called for last night, but was not held on account of the committee not deeming it wise to take any action, because as yet no offer for the property has been made them by the city.

When the site was proposed some time ago a committee was appointed and a price of $139,000 was placed on the church property. Later this price was increased to $200,000. The members of the board of trustees talked the matter over informally after prayer meeting last night and decided to take no action until the congregational meeting is held, the first Monday in December. The members of the board seemed to think the property would be taken at a fair figure. They will not in any manner retard the plans of Mr. Carnegie to build the polytechnical school on the site selected.

Famous Homestead Sold.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—By a deed filed today the old Tod mansion passed into the hands of the sisters now in charge of the Mahoning Valley hospital. The price paid was $25,000. This mansion was the home of David Tod, once governor of Ohio.

Says He Was Crippled for Life.

SALEM, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Suit for $5,000 damages was entered in court at Lisbon by Ahiu Pusau against the Pennsylvania company for injuries which he claims have crippled him for life, by being knocked off a handcar by a passing train.

Paglin's Assailants Arrested.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The two men who attempted to kill Andrew Paglia before the St. Vitus church ten days ago, because he rebuked them for flirting with members of the choir, have been arrested in Chicago.

CHILDREN WERE HALF NAKED

Shocking Case of Destitution and Ignorance in Butler County.

THE COURT DECIDES TO INTERFERE

Grandfather of the Children Secures a Writ of Habeas Corpus and Will Try to Atone for a Degrading Past.

BUTLER, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—On petition of Robert Quigley, a wealthy farmer of Armstrong county, the court here issued writs of habeas corpus for the arrest of Orie and Daisy Watterson, aged 16 and 12, respectively, who have been living with their step-mother, the Widow Watterson, in Allegheny township, Butler county, in a condition that eye witnesses say is indescribable.

The children are ragged, filthy and ignorant, never having attended school in their lives. Quigley, who is the grandfather of the children, has been attempting to get possession of them, but all efforts failed until he finally invoked the aid of the law. Deputy Sheriff Rainey Hoon, who served the writs, found the girl in a half naked condition and it was with the greatest difficulty that sufficient clothing could be obtained to keep the child from freezing on the twenty-five-mile ride to Butler.

While the deputy was waiting for the girl to get ready for the trip to Butler the boy gave the officers the slip and made his escape. Quigley left here today with the girl and renewed efforts will be made to secure the boy.

CANAL PROPERTY BOUGHT.

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 13.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, according to a deed filed in the recorder's office in this city today, has bought all of the property of the Pennsylvania canal between Clarks Ferry and Columbia, including the outlet into the Susquehanna river at Columbia. The price paid was $245,000 and the land is conveyed entirely clear of the mortgage bonds issued in 1871 by the canal company.

The sale includes the use of the canal between the points indicated, except that portion between Duncannon and Millerstown, streets in this city, which has been sold to the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company for trackage. The Pennsylvania Steel Company has leased three miles of the canal below Harrisburg for use as a reservoir for one year beginning July 1 last. The canal will eventually be filled up and used for trackage by the Pennsylvania railroad, except where it is used for water rights or use as a reservoir.

ALIBI WAS FUTILE.

Young Man From McKeesport Convicted of Robbery in Greensburg.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 13.—Robert Divine of McKeesport was again convicted in the criminal court here of complicity in the robbery and abuse of William Jackson and wife, near Bradenville last May.

Robert and his brother, John, were both convicted at the last term of court, but John, on confession, said that Robert had nothing to do with the robbery, the crime having been committed by himself and two others. The evidence of several citizens of Altoona went to show that Robert was in that town on the night of the robbery and a new trial was granted. It was fully expected that he would be set free. Old Mrs. Jackson, however, was positive in her identification of Robert. The jury recommended him to the extreme mercy of the court.

ROBBED BY MASKED MEN.

Railroad Station at Bracburn Ransacked by Unknown Thieves—The Agent Was Bound and Gagged.

BRAEBURN, PA., Nov. 13.—The station at this place was robbed by two men between 3:30 and 4 o'clock this morning. Richard Morrow of Kittanning is the night agent.

While one of the men held his revolver to Morrow's head, the other took from him his watch, some small change in his pockets and between $10 and $15 from the ticket office. Morrow was bound and gagged and tied to his chair. The intruders then quietly took their departure. Morrow finally freed himself and gave the alarm, but no trace could be found of the men who were strangers.

May Cheapen Gas.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—A plant for the manufacture of gas from slack coal has been running here for about six weeks. At the plant the coal goes into a hopper that holds about 40 pounds. Altogether the hoppers for a full charge hold 600 pounds. From these the coal goes into a plate to be carbonized, and it is then treated and purified. This amount of coal makes 10,000 feet of gas ready for heat or light every hour, and, of course, it may be multiplied by enlarging the capacity. Merchants and residents consume about 100,000 feet a day. The gas has been in general use for about a month. Its heat units are as great as in natural gas. For lighting it has generally replaced incandescent electric lamps. This artificial gas is sold at the same price as natural gas, piped here from the Greensburg field—22 cents a thousand net. This is for domestic use. For manufacturing use figures less than half that have been quoted.

Much Food Adulterated.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Information has been made by Pure Food Inspector Faust of this district against K. Patterson of Allport; E. F. Harvey of Winburne, E Poimquist of Hensonville, S. F. Reyers and G. C. Bratton of Cowport, and A. J. Young of Glassflat, on a charge of selling adulterated lemon extract. An alarming state of affairs is reported as to the condition of food products in this section. Of 85 samples just submitted to state chemists, 44 were found to be adulterated. The list includes tub oysters, ginger, pepper, lemon and vanilla extracts.

Paper Company Reorganized.

YORK, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—An interest in the York Wall Paper Company has been purchased by J. H. Findlay of Cleveland, Ohio; I. R. Cameron, state treasurer of Ohio, and a resident of Columbus; C. W. Sharp of Salem, Ohio; E. N. Chamberlain of East Palestine, Ohio, and P. J. Gilbert of Sharon, Pa. They will take charge at once.

The officers are: President, J. H. Findlay; treasurer, I. R. Cameron; secretary, P. J. Gilbert; assistant treasurer, Charles H. Stallman of York.

Arrested for Selling Cigarettes.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The first arrest under the new cigarette law was made here today when Merchant G. W. Hoover was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Elmer E. Piper before Alderman Raymond charging the merchant with selling cigarettes to a boy under 16 years of age.

Will Build a Big Furnace.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—A modern 600-ton furnace will be built by the Struthers Furnace Company to replace the present one, which was built in 1869.

Episcopalians in Session.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The Cleveland convocation of the diocese of Ohio of the Protestant Episcopal church is in session in this city. The opening meeting was held last night and was marked by much interest and enthusiasm. The Rev. Cassius M. Roberts made an address, followed by the local rector, the Rev. Edwin Weary. Dean Abner L. Frazer, of Youngstown, addressed the meeting today, after which a business session was held. The Rev. Mr. Weary delivered an able address at today's session and others of the attending clergy spoke also. Following are the names of the ministers in attendance: The Rev. C. Dean, Cleveland; the Rev. J. Thompson, Cleveland; the Rev. F. Cleaveland, Newburg; the Rev. C. Redhead, Ravenna; the Rev. C. Thornberry, New Philadelphia; the Rev. C. Fibbido, Salem; the Rev. C. Edwards, Wellsville; the Rev. Cassius M. Roberts, Massillon; Dean Abner L. Frazer, Youngstown; the Rev. Dr. McGrew, Cleveland; the Rev. J. M. Withycombe, Cleveland; the Rev. C. McKenzie, Cleveland; the Rev. C. F. Woods, Wheeling, W. Va., and the Rev. A. Gaylord, Steubenville.

Seven Houses Burned.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 13.—A $3,000 fire is reported from Star junction, yesterday, when "Red row," a line of company houses, was attacked by flames. The little coke town turned out in force to fight the fire, but seven houses were destroyed before the fire could be controlled.

Charters Issued.

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 13.—Charters were issued today as follows: Citizens Building and Loan association, Tyrone; capital $300,000. The Caldwell Realty Company, Jeannette; capital $6,000. Somerset County Lumber Company, Pittsburgh; capital $1,000. H. C. Easton Lumber Company, Pittsburgh; capital $1,000.

Killed by a Train.

TARENTUM, PA., Nov. 13.—Robert Mothery, age 36 years, was struck by a train and instantly killed at Brackenridge station, at 8:30 o'clock this evening. His home is unknown. He worked on the water lines of the Tarentum Water Company.

PENNSYLVANIA NEWS NOTES.

ALTOONA—There is a blizzard in the Allegheny mountains. The trains on the Pennsylvania are coming into this city covered with snow.

DUNBAR—There will be a union meeting of the churches here October 31 to protest against gambling and to take some action to secure a constitutional amendment against it.

SHARPSVILLE—The Mabel furnace, owned by Perkins & Co., and the Claire, owned by the Sharpsville Furnace Company, went out of blast Tuesday owing to the shortage of coke.

ALTOONA—A high-bred mare owned by John Lloyd and valued at $1,800, fractured her skull while exercising Tuesday and died shortly afterward. The mare was caused by the animal rearing too high and falling backwards.

ALTOONA—Another explosion caused by using torches in trying to find a leak in a gas pipe occurred here yesterday morning. M. Berman, a leading jeweler of this city, was badly burned and several windows were shattered.

HOLLIDAYSBURG—Mrs. William Burger heard burglars at work on her cellar door shortly after midnight yesterday morning. She loaded her husband's revolver and fired it from an open window. Blood stains on the fence indicate that she hit something.

CONNELLSVILLE—Dennis Sloan, a foreman in the construction department of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was killed Thursday night at Rockwood while trying to board a train. He had been in the employ of the road for 15 years and was 40 years old.

WASHINGTON—At the 20th reunion of the Eighty-fifth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, held here Tuesday, Col. George Fulmer of Pittsburgh was elected president of the association and A. M. Pollock of Pittsburgh and W. C. Green of Pittsburgh vice presidents. The reunion next year will be held in Waynesburg.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

Comic Opera, Comedy Drama and a Favorite Religious Play, With Melodrama and Vaudeville.

The orchestra at the Alvin this week, during one of the entr'actes, has been playing selections from Willard Spenser's successful comedy opera, "Miss Bob White," that will, as is now very generally known, be the attraction at that theater during the coming week. If the melodies thus disclosed are fair samples of Willard Spenser's work (and it is hardly to be doubted that they are), then too much has not been promised. The music has that rhythmic quality which makes the feet unconsciously tap the floor in unison, and makes the blood rush tinglingly through the veins. The cast includes Misses Ethel Jackson, Mathilde Preville, Alice Campbell, Edna Burd and the Misses Richard F. Carroll, Frank Dashon, William E. Philp, Nicholas Burnham and Thomas Whiffen.

"Sowing the Wind," which was postponed on account of the run of "The Shaughraun," will finally be given by the stock company on Monday next, when it will open for a stay of one week. This is one of the best comedy dramas ever written. It enjoyed a run of an entire year at the Empire theater, New York, where Viola Allen and Henry Miller had opportunities that soon made them stars. Their parts will be essayed on this occasion by Sarah Truax and William Ingersoll.

Interest in "Miss Bob White."

There seems to be an intense local interest in the forthcoming presentation of Willard Spenser's latest successful comedy opera, "Miss Bob White," at the Alvin theater next week. This may be due to the fact that the enterprise is one of Nixon & Zimmerman's, which in itself is sufficient to give it the unquestioned stamp of superiority, or it may be due to the fact that both of Mr. Spenser's previous works, "The Little Tycoon" and "The Princess Bonnie," proved such overwhelming successes. Whatsoever be the reason, either of the above facts should be sufficient (and in fact seem to have been) to interest the public almost to the point of fever heat. There have been few theatrical offerings here that have been so widely discussed in the public press and in the drawing rooms. The consequence is that the demand for seats is almost unprecedented in the TWELVE PAGES.

The Boys' Brigade.

The annual meeting of the national council of the Boys' brigade of America, which opens today in Pittsburgh, draws attention to an organization which is doing good work among boys and young men. The membership in the two cities and vicinity now approximates 1,000, and the interest in the organization is so widespread that steady growth is assured for years to come.

There was some objection at first to the Boys' brigade because its work included military training to a certain extent, but a better understanding of the objects of the brigade and the good results it has brought about have converted former opponents into hearty sympathizers and supporters. The military training has proved to be very beneficial in inculcating discipline among boys, naturally headstrong and impulsive, and they have benefited physically by the drills and various tactics of soldier life. Of more importance are the other objects, which include the promotion of habits of reverence, self-respect and all that tends toward true Christian manliness. The encouragement that the Boys' brigade has received from many churches is additional proof that it is exerting a good influence, and, therefore, is entitled to the warm support of citizens generally.

Cost of Manual Training.

If there has been any confusion in the public mind as to the cost of education in the manual arts under the plans of the Carnegie school of technology in Pittsburgh it has been dissipated by the clear statement given out yesterday announcing the charges for tuition and general fees for instruction in the school. It is Mr. Carnegie's wish that instruction in the school shall not be beyond the reach of any worthy young man or woman. A rule establishing a nominal schedule of fees will doubtless be established, the wisdom of which can be clearly seen. These fees will be operative to preserve the self-respect of students and at the same time indicate the value of the provisions made, but the institution will at the same time be popular in the sense that deserving youths of both sexes need not be without the advantages of a thorough technical training for lack of means.

Mr. Carnegie's wisdom as well as his benevolence finds ample expression in the plans that he himself has outlined for this useful institution. It is intended that the largest benefit to the largest and most worthy class shall be obtained through the founding of this school. Its blessings will reach all who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity for a technical education, and this means that no worthy applicant will be barred out.

West Point Antiquated.

In its annual report the board of visitors of West Point military academy makes some revelations that will prove of interest to the general public. While West Point is a national institution and is supposed to represent the chief military culture and training of the nation the actual status of the school and its inner life are, by the strict regulations of army life, made almost a sealed mystery to even that part of the public that would naturally take the keenest interest in what goes on there—the families and friends of the cadets. The present report of the board of visitors is a little disconcerting for the reason that it declares the accommodations for living within the historic old walls of the institute to be wretchedly poor and inadequate. Attention is called to the fact that West Point as a series of structures for housing military pupils is 100 years old, and that in all that time the improvements made in buildings and accommodations have been of the patchwork kind. According to this report there is but one building within the West Point grounds that is in harmony with the present-day needs of the school, to say nothing of the demand for future expansion and growth.

Popular thought on the subject, from the glimpses of West Point life one gets through seeing the young soldiers at commencement time and on special occasions in all the splendor of military pomp and attire, is that life at West Point, apart from the hard work connected with the training, must be a very luxurious and comfortable sort of thing. If the report of the board of visitors may be accepted it is a very poor, mean sort of place, hardly comfortable against wind and weather, to say nothing of the inadequacy of space and the need for more modern accessories in the work of teaching.

If the case be so bad as represented, and there is no reason to doubt it, congress should take immediate steps to remedy the conditions against which complaint is made. This plea is made not for the mere sake of appearances and immediate comfort, though the principal military school of this nation should be the equal of any other in the world, but for reasons of utility and future growth and expansion. In considering the expenditures for the army this item of better buildings for West Point should be given a prominent place by the approaching congress.

More Disfranchisement.

The new Alabama constitution was ratified by a large majority. The early opposition to the instrument on the part of some influential Democrats did not prevent its acceptance by the people at the polls. How this opposition in the party that called the convention and framed the constitution was got rid of is not clear. There is talk of fraud perpetrated in the successful effort to disfranchise the negro citizens of the state of Alabama; but whether fraud was used or not, the disfranchisers have done what they set out to do, and no one need be surprised, for, as a resident of the state said recently, "Alabama people are not such fools as to go to the trouble of making a new constitution and then not pass it."

The point that concerns the people of the north is that the new constitution of Alabama is expected to disfranchise 95 per cent of the negro voters, and that this loss falls upon the Republican party. The same purpose has been effected already in Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina and North Carolina. Five states have disfranchised most of their black citizens. At the same time these men who have lost their votes, although of no political influence now as citizens of their own states, are counted in the census to swell the representation of those states in the house of representatives, and to increase the power of those states in the election of president and vice president by the electoral college. In other words, the power that the disfranchised voters should exert is taken from them and wielded by their political opponents.

This is an injustice which congress should hasten to correct. The constitution of the United States recognizes the right of states to establish suffrage qualifications, but it also declares that the basis of representation in congress shall be upon the number of citizens entitled to vote. Section two of the fourteenth amendment is explicit on this point. It says:

* * * But when the right to vote * * * is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such state, being 21 years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion, or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens 21 years of age.

It is the duty of congress to ascertain the number of disfranchised male citizens in the five states named, and to reduce the representation of those states accordingly.

Flogging for Wife-Beaters.

Congress may discuss the advisability of establishing a whipping post for wife-beaters in the District of Columbia. Perhaps there are not more husbands in the nation's capital who thrash their wives than in other cities of the same size, but there are enough to cause the superintendent of police to advocate flogging in his annual report, and this report congress must pass upon. Superintendent Sylvester says that wife-beaters stand in no fear of jail sentences or of heavy fines. He says, too, that instances are known of men beating their wives solely to obtain a jail sentence, and thus avoid the necessity of working. Not long ago a Washington magistrate who sentenced a wife-beater to a long term in prison, regretted that he could not have him publicly whipped.

If there is one offense which the whipping post fits better than another, it is wife-beating. Flogging is an exemplary punishment for such wretches. Fines and imprisonment only deprive the poor woman of the support which the husband should be compelled to give her, while a chastisement would give him the sort of treatment he is so fond of meting out. Its effect, too, would be deterrent. One flogging would probably be enough to break the most inveterate wife-beater of the habit.

Georgia to Abolish Divorce.

A bill has been introduced in the Georgia legislature whereby it is sought to abolish all divorce from the courts of that state. The new measure proposes to make a clean sweep by declaring that henceforth there shall be no ground for divorce allowable in the courts of that state. This follows the practice in North Carolina, where only consanguinity is sufficient cause for the courts to interfere in the married relation. In that state there is no separation that is recognized in law. With the present wide divergence in the laws of the several states on the question of divorce it is interesting to find that the steps toward amendment so far taken in the several states all favor a more drastic remedy for the evil of divorce. This would indicate that should a federal law on the subject ever be secured public opinion will favor one in which easy annulment of the marriage tie will be discouraged.

North Carolina has not found her stringent law on divorce altogether satisfactory. Wife desertion in that state, especially among the lower classes, is very common. It is to be feared that should the example of Georgia be followed by those states that contemplate amending their divorce laws the result will not be all that is hoped for. Wife desertion is not an extraditable offense, and it is surprising how this crime has grown in recent years. Its effects are especially hard on women whose husbands pass into another state, and by so doing are not only free from arrest but quit of all legal obligation to provide for their families. This sort of divorce is far worse than the regular and legal separation of mismated couples, for the reason that it encourages immorality and leaves no redress in the hands of the innocent party.

More Hunting Fatalities.

Wisconsin gunners made a sanguinary beginning of the deer hunting season in that state, one of the hunters being killed and two crippled for life, as a result of reckless shooting on the first day. In addition to these casualties two hunters were killed and four wounded before the season was lawfully opened. With such a ghastly record at the start it is likely that Wisconsin's list of hunting fatalities will at the end of the season rival that of a battle between contending armies, assuming that there will be hunters to take the places of those who have fallen.

Unfortunately Wisconsin is not the only state that is furnishing victims for reckless gunners. Maine has already recorded a dozen or more fatalities, and every day similar accidents are reported from all sections of the country where game is being sought. Every year the loss of human life is greater than it was in the preceding hunting season, and it has now reached proportions sufficiently alarming to warrant consideration of methods to put a stop to it. Maine has adopted a law providing severe penalties for reckless use of firearms in hunting, but the recent casualties in that state make it evident that the law has practically failed in its purpose. The subject is worthy of legislative attention in all states having hunting seasons, and it is apparent to every thinking person that there is urgent need for protective measures and the suppression of reckless gunning.

Having succeeded in bringing peace to pass among the Kentucky factions does not argue that the president will be able to persuade Addicks to take a back seat.

Now that the court of inquiry has the subject under advisement, doubtless the public will soon be told exactly who won that Santiago fight.

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE.

Many distinct and original features are embodied in the new paper and without much exercise of our prophetic faculties we predict for the Sunday Gazette a first place in the ranks of America's best papers.—Braddock Herald.

The intial number of the Pittsburgh Sunday Gazette was the finest paper ever issued on the first day of a week in that city, and if it is intended to keep succeeding numbers up to the standard of the first one, why, all the other papers down there will either have to move up or become back numbers. It was an ideal paper in every respect, and makes us anxious to see the next issue—Kittanning Times.

The most sanguine expectations about it were more than realized. It consisted of six sections, containing 52 pages and a beautiful art supplement. Its artistic make-up and attractive arrangement of an interesting variety of news departments was a splendid example of modern journalistic ideals. It has set a pace in Sunday editions which rivals will have to do some lively hustling to keep up with.—Uniontown Genius.

It was a splendid paper, every one of its pages being filled which choice news and miscellaneous reading. Many of the articles were well worth positions in the high class magazines. The colored section was an especially strong feature, containing numerous bright and amusing features. The woman's page, considered the most important in the newspapers of today, was ably and entertainingly edited, and ranked with the best published.—Connellsville News.

SPICY NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM THE METROPOLIS.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building NEW YORK, Nov. 13.

La grippe has settled down in New York already. It is early in the season, but we have it, and the assertion by some people that it is not the "real" grip does not lessen the discomforts of the kind that is here. It cannot be called epidemic yet, but there are great possibilities. The sneezing, red noses, watery eyes and general recklessness of feeling that are symptoms of the present grip satisfy ordinary sufferers that the ailment is, at least, a good understudy for the "real" thing. The rapid and violent changes of weather New York has experienced since last Saturday could not be expected to come to pass without causing some physical ills. We have had cold winds, warm rains, frost, springlike temperature and fogs alternately, but so rapidly on one another's heels that they gave the impression of being simultaneous. Now comes the grip. A majority of the victims say they have "a cold" and expect they will be all right in a few days. Some of them talk about pains in their joints and "the small of the back," while others hint dismally of neuralgia and even jumping toothache. Drug merchants say there has been an unusual demand for quinine in the last few days and that the prospects are so rosy for a steady trade in this cheerful drug that they are placing orders with the wholesale firms to be ready for the rush. Physicians treat the present visitation of grip lightly. They are the class that tells you it is not "real" grip, and that if you take care of yourself for a few days you will be all right. If the doctor is of a sympathetic temperament he will talk to you cosily about warm foot-baths, "hot scotch" at bedtime and cork-soled shoes. Then he will give you a perscription for a small bottle of medicine that smells like varnish and tastes like red ink, and pocketing his fee, bow and smile you to the outer air with a pious hope that you will soon be well. And still New Yorkers are impressed with the truth (I suppose it is the truth) that this is not the "real" grip.

Success of a Woman Playwright.

Grace George's new drama, "Under Southern Skies," is a pronounced success. Lottie Blair Parker, the author, who also is responsible for "Way Down East," could not stand the nervous pressure of witnessing her play at the Manhattan theater last night, as its first metropolitan production, but she was there tonight watching Miss George's performance with many manifestations of approval. The most amusing thing in the play last night was an unrehearsed incident. The curtain had dropped at the end of the second act, after several curtain calls for Miss George, but by some misunderstanding was raised again unexpectedly. It revealed William A. Brady, who is Miss George's husband, kissing that lady bountifully in recognition of her success. There was a storm of applause and laughter and Mr. Brady scurried off the stage, while Miss George, smiling and blushing, tried to explain. The little domestic amenity was enjoyed by the audience as much as anything in the play.

Quarrel Over a Questionable Play.

David Belasco, the playwright, contrives to get into the courts almost as often as his plays reach the stage. He was in the supreme court today applying for an injunction to prevent the production of the play, "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch," by Mrs. Fiske at the Manhattan theater. The argument resolved itself into a debate as to whether Belasco or Mrs. Burton Harrison wrote the piece. The evidence suggested that it was produced in collaboration. Decision was reserved by Justice Lawrence. In the meantime, counsel for Harrison Grey Fiske, and, incidentally, of Mrs. Harrison, almost gave ex-Judge Dittenhoefer a fit by declaring that he did not believe Belasco had ever written a play in his life. From what came out about the play in dispute, it seemed as if the reason Mrs. Hatch is unwelcome is because her reputation needs a powerful disinfectant. Pinero's new problem play, "Iris," is said to be a failure in London, but evidently New York managers think that style of thing will still "go" in America for a while. The "Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch" is announced for production at the Manhattan theater next Monday night.

Rescue of a Starving Man.

A man dropped in the street from starvation last night in front of a fashionable theater just as the audience was coming out. He was picked up by a policeman, and after being revived with a bowl of soup, received $4 that was hastily collected by passing around the hat, and sent to bed. He has been promised a job at a Broadway hotel. He said he was a butler in England, had come to America to make his fortune, had been robbed of $125, all the money he had, and was in extreme distress when rescued. There are such cases in New York occasionally, but the fact only accentuates the disgust we all feel for the greasy "panhandlers" who are vagrants because they like it.

The Trade in Chrysanthemums.

Among the many indications that horse show and Thanksgiving are near, is the lively curbstone trade in chrysanthemums. Down on Park row one can buy chrysanthemums of many colors and style of petal, while along Twenty-third and Fourteenth streets, where itinerant flower-sellers are always numerous, there is a disposition to put forth the "mum" in preference to any other blossom, even the ever-popular American Beauty and carnation, which bloom along these thoroughfares all the year around. The motormen and night hawk cab drivers have been wearing yellow chrysanthemums for the last week or two; but, then, those heavy swells are always a little ahead of the common herd in sporting the newest fashion.

At the Flower Show.

Chrysanthemums are to be seen in great profusion and in many uncommon types and shapes at the annual fall flower show of the American institute, which opened this afternoon at the Berkeley lyceum. There are other flowers, but the chrysanthemum is king, as is proper in November. The display is from 75 well-known greenhouses, private and professional, from as far west as Indiana and as far north as Vermont. There was a very large attendance at the show today, for the average New Yorker dearly loves flowers.

King of Atlantic Liners.

Another Atlantic record has been broken. The big Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which arrived at New York this morning from Bremen, Southampton and Cherbourg, covered the passage in 5 days, 16 hours and 24 minutes, the total distance being 3,032 miles, which the vessel made at an average speed of 22.41 knots an hour.

Electric Trains on the "L."

According to George Gould, there will soon be electric trains on the elevated railroads. He announced today that the first electric train will be run early next month. It will be on the Second avenue loop, where preparations have been under way for some months. If the new motive power works satisfactorily it will soon spread to other branches of the system. One reason that patrons of the "L" are glad to know electricity is to be used is that it will increase the illumination of the cars. There is gas used now, and it is possible for passengers to read with more or less comfort if they get near one of the gas lamps. With incandescent lamps, they expect the light will be as much better than the gas, as the gas is better than the wretched oil lamps which used to torture patrons of the road a few years ago.

A Terrific Test of Human Nature.

If a Pittsburgher visiting in New York wants to realize the desperate task it is for the average man and woman to get from business down town to his or her home above Central park, he should get on an elevated or surface car somewhere near the postoffice at about 5:30 in the evening and ride up town. He will have such an experience in crowding, shoving and general indecency that he will think a trip to East Liberty on the street cars is a pink tea in comparison. This is the time of year when the inadequacy of the cars in this city is realized with particular force. It is dark at the close of office hours, and the weather is just chilly enough to make most persons think longingly of their warm and comfortable flats, with dinner awaiting them. The consequence is that there is more than the usual display of pigskinness on public conveyances; and it is the opinion of most residents of other cities that come here that there is a more general display of selfishness and bad manners in cars in New York than in any other city in the country.

Pianist Hofmann Takes to the Mobe.

Josef Hofmann, who used to be known as the "boy pianist," but who is now a pianist without the youthful prefix, arrived on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse today. He is something more than a musician. Possibly he feels that he has torn all the secrets out of the piano that are to be found, and now desires to shine in other directions. At all events, he has invented a new style automobile in which he rode from Paris to Berlin, making as much as 45 miles an hour at some parts of the journey. He says that an American company has been formed to manufacture his machine, and that among the capitalists interested in it is William C. Whitney. When someone asked him something about music Hofmann made answer, with a careless shrug of the shoulders: "Music? Oh, yes; I am here to play the piano, of course, and expect to work hard all winter; but I should like to show you my automobile." If Hofmann had won fame as the inventor of an automobile, probably, in accordance with perverse human nature, he would be anxious to be known as a great pianist.

Chilly Immersion of Holy Ghost Folk.

Everybody is saying here that this is the coldest night of the present season. In spite of this there was an elaborate baptism ceremony in the waters of the harbor off Bay Ridge today. The Holy Ghost and Us society has gained some notoriety on account of its peculiar observances, but it was not supposed that it would go to the extent of taking a cold plunge today. It did, however, and it was the sensation of the day. There was an old man and a very little girl among the communicants, with a lot of other people of various ages between. The interesting feature of the ceremony to those who know Bay Ridge is that that particular part of the coast of Greater New York is about as bleak a spot as one could find on all Long Island. The wind whistles around there by the homes of the late Henry George and the very much alive Carrie Chapman Catt, and it blows great guns there very often when there is a dead calm in Broadway. It is true, indeed, that one-half of this metropolis knows nothing of how the other half takes its religion.

Devery a Scarce Man Nowadays.

"Devery's corner" at Twenty-eighth street and Eighth avenue has been lonesome since election. The "big chief" is never to be seen at his accustomed stand outside one of the three saloons that decorate the corners, sitting in dignified ease in the bootblack's chair, or smoking a cigar as he walks up and down a space of about 100 linear feet. One of the evening papers offered a reward of $2 to anyone who could tell where Devery was, and other mild species of fun have been poked at him at long range. It is obvious that the result of the election was a severe blow to the chief, and it is, perhaps, true that he was really sick for several days. He turned up at headquarters today, and it is understood that he will preside at the police trials tomorrow. After that, if he should feel fit, perhaps he will bask in the autumn sun or the electric lights on his favorite "corner" just to relieve the general anxiety about his condition.

Autumn Shopping.

Shopping has become more energetic than ever since the cool weather set in. It is doubtful if a larger assemblage of busy women was ever seen in Sixth avenue, Twenty-third street, Fourteenth street and other shopping centers than were abroad this afternoon. At 6 o'clock, when the stores closed, the "L" roads could hardly handle the crowds.

QUEER WAYS OF THE MARTEN.

A Peculiar Habit That Has Saved the Animal from Extinction.

From the Boston Daily Transcript.

"The Hudson bay marten, the little fur-bearer whose skin is ever popular and at times exceedingly valuable, is still plentiful in that region of fur-bearers," said W. B. Salmon, one time a trapper for the Hudson Bay Company, "but I believe it would have been virtually extinct there long ago if it were not for a habit it has of making periodical disappearances, of which I never heard any satisfactory explanation.

"These disappearances occur every 10 years. Where the animals go no one knows. No dead ones are ever found, and no one has yet discovered any evidence of their migration to any other region. A few martens, of course, remain on their old feeding grounds, but during the season of the disappearance of their fellows none of them will touch the bait in a trap, and consequently none is caught. The next year the martens are back again in their old haunts as numerous as ever, and for 10 years more submit to being caught.

"The Hudson bay martens seem to be the only ones of the species that have this strange habit. The Lake Superior martens don't waste any of their time in disappearing voluntarily, but are found at the old stand year in and year out, housing themselves in hollow trees in the deepest woods and making life a perpetual burden to birds, squirrels, rabbits and other small game on which they prey.

"The Lake Superior marten has one predilection of the palate in which the resembles the bear. That is a passion for honey. He will line a wild bee to its home with the precision of the most expert bee hunter, and the hidden sweets of that bee colony will have to be in a most inaccessible place if the marten doesn't soon revel in them. Like the male mink, the male marten has an overpowering love not only for his own offspring, but for the offspring of his fellow-martens—such peculiar love, indeed, that if it wasn't for the instinct and shrewdness of the mother martens the race of martens would have been unknown long ago. The male marten is so fond of his young that he will eat them up whenever he happens to find them. The mother, therefore, bears her young in some secret hiding place, and keeps them hidden until they are half grown and able to defy the cannibalistic love of their sire. The female mink exercises the same instinct with her progeny, for the father of them, as fond as he is of trout and other fish, will leave his fishing any time to dine on his interesting little family."

Petoskey Heard From.

From the Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel.

"Petoskey, Mich., is the best little city in this country," exclaimed D. L. Webb. "I have lived there 20 years or more and I know what I am talking about. It is modern and thoroughly up to date. We have a population of 8,000, and we round up over 100,000 visitors every summer. We have 23 hotels to take care of them, and little Petoskey knows how to do it, and no mistake. It is a healthy place, and is thoroughly immune from hay fever. People come here from Galveston, Tex., and all over the south and middle west to escape the disease. It rises plateau above plateau, on the southeast side of Little Traverse bay; is 23 miles south of Mackinaw, and has everything in the way of modern improvement except an electric railway. Bay View is one mile away. That is the Northwestern Methodist camp meeting grounds. The association has 500 acres of land beautifully laid out, with 600 or 700 houses erected thereon, no two alike. The Methodists have their own municipal government, and when the summer is ended the houses are closed up and the place is deserted."

William St. Clair of Eldersridge last week sold seven pigs to a dealer in Indiana for the snug sum of $117 62. They were a sow and six pigs, the latter being six months old. The average weight of the pigs was 287½ pounds, and the sow weighed 425 pounds. The total weight of the seven was 1,425 pounds. It pays to raise such swine. Who can equal that record?—Kittanning Times.

"This is a great year for corn up in Bucks county, say what you please about the small western crop," said a Bristol man. "All the farmers are talking about high stalks and big ears. Andrew Shaffer has a stalk on exhibition in a Bristol store that measures 16 feet in height. James Quinton, whose farm is near Tullytown is showing another stalk that is over 15 feet high. I suppose every farmer in the country is treasuring some particularly high stalk, and it is possible that there are some even taller than the two I have named."—Sharpsville Advertiser.

Some of the crops of home grown potatoes are rotting so fast that it hardly pays to store them away. We noticed along a road leading to town, where a great pile of rotting potatoes had been dumped off a wagon. The other day one farmer drove to town with a load of potatoes from which he had picked all that showed signs of the black rot, and by the time he got to town many more of the tubers had "caught" the disease and were fast spoiling the sale until he managed to sell out the entire lot at a low figure.—Punxsutawney News.

ALFONSO'S MAJORITY.

Its Postponement Until His Eighteenth Birthday Has Been Abandoned Because of Carlist Intrigue—Some Pleasing Characteristics of the King.

BY MARGARET COATES HERITAGE.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 1.—There has been considerable talk among Spanish politicians of deferring King Alfonso's majority until his eighteenth birthday. The question was much discussed at Miramar this summer, and it was decided to bring it before the legislature during its October session. Activity of the Carlist committees and other reasons, however, have led the queen-regent and her advisers to see that the sooner the boy assumes control the better, and it is now definitely settled that there is to be no change in the Spanish constitution, which provides for his majority at the age of 16.

Alfonso has wonderfully matured during the past year, and even hoary-headed senators consider him equal to the task. No person who saw the delicate infant carried about by the faithful Raymonds, or the pale invalid of 10 years ago being wheeled in the gardens of Aranjuez, could have imagined he would develop into the sturdy Alfonso, who, several weeks ago, mounted on his prancing chestnut "Chiquito" reviewed in such a masterly fashion the Sicilian infantry. Indeed, members of the Madrid court claim that the king's development and independence of manner have made rapid strides since the day he took command of the army at the Carabanchel maneuvers.

Spaniards tell with pride a little incident which occurred on this occasion and which greatly increased the boy's popularity among the troops. It was, in fact, the first act of personal initiative he had ever shown in public. At the close of the maneuvers arrangements had been made to serve luncheon to the men. It being impossible to provide so many thousands with chairs and tables, long ditches were dug in the ground.

The soldiers sat on one edge, their legs hanging in the trenches, and were thus able to use the opposite edge as a table. Of course a less rudimentary board had been provided for the king. To the surprise of everybody present, Alfonso refused to occupy the gilded armchair. Without consulting anybody, his majesty offered his arm to the queen, and, conducting her to one of the trench seats, took his place on the ground beside her, where, to the huge delight of the soldiers, the royal pair ate their meal.

Alfonso XIII. is today one of the most accomplished princes in Europe. He speaks fluently three languages, reads as many more and can talk intelligently on all German, French and English literary works of importance. He is tall, dignified, in manner and features strikingly resembles his mother, and is always simply but elegantly dressed. His costumes are entirely too plain to please many of the grandees. Herstofore Spanish kings from the age of 5 always wore the pretentious uniform of a marshal. Queen Christine has always shown herself a decided stickler for simplicity where children are concerned. She decided that the king should be educated as a simple soldier and wear the regimentals accordingly.

On state occasions Alfonso can now brighten the severe blue coat with its double row of gold buttons by numerous medals and badges, for his majesty has received much decorative paraphernalia from foreign potentates during the past summer. The king of Italy was the first to honor him, and conferred upon him with much ceremony the Grand Cross of the Annunciata. This set the example to other monarchs, who hastened to follow suit, and the king now possesses the Grand Cross of the Black Eagle, the Imtiaz of Turkey, the White Elephant of Denmark and the Grand Cross of the Saviour. The latter is a Greek decoration and, from an artistic standpoint, Alfonso's favorite. It consists of a beautiful jewel, with precious stones ornamenting the cross, enameled in white, and encircled by the words: "Thy right, Lord, has been glorified in Thy might." With this is worn a broad blue sash.

Those who know the king describe him as an accomplished horseman, billiard player and athlete. He also rides a bicycle, plays tennis and is very fond of walking, frequently doing four or five miles an hour.

Englishman's Queer Will.

An Englishman who died recently bequeathed £1,000 to his widow and eight children, of whom "Mary is to receive £40 more than the other children, Nicholas £20 less, John £14 less than his brothers and sisters, Anne £7 less. Joseph, Peter, Gabriel and Frank receive each an equal part, which will be £60 less than that of Mary, £10 more than that of Nicholas, £14 more than that of John and £6 more than that of Anna."

The March of Improvement.

Nine hundred hello girls in Chicago are studying the art of telephonic elocution, so that none but pleasing voices shall be heard over the wires.

A natural accompaniment of elocution of this sort will be the acquirement of Chesterfieldian politeness.

In the imminent future, therefore, the Chicago telephone subscriber may hear, instead of the curt "Line's busy," something like this, couched in a well-modulated voice:

"I regret to say, Mr. Smith, that the number you ask for is occupied at present, but I shall take pleasure in calling you as soon as it is at liberty."

"What is that?"

POINT BREEZE.

A "G. Washington" Copper Plate.

From the New York Tribune.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Nov. 10.—From the ruins of an old house at Big Island, near this village, James H. Vail of New Milford took yesterday a copper plate of "G. Washington," which was hidden there 100 years ago. The plate was made by "Rollson, Sculpt," and "Published by I. Reid, New York, 1790." It is a remarkably fine piece of work. There are a number of indentations in the face of it, due no doubt to careless handling. The plate was purchased by Clinton W. Wisner of Warwick, who will endeavor to have it repaired and made ready to print from.

Meeting of Sorosis.

The regular meeting of the Sorosis club yesterday afternoon at the Hotel Schenley was enlivened by an interesting talk by Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, who returned from Europe a couple of weeks ago. Mrs. Clark was in Germany when the Chinese envoy visited Emperor William to offer the apology for the murder of the German minister in Peking. The excitement in the different cities and towns was at high pressure while Mrs. Clark and her party were there, and her graphic description of the incidents that occurred constantly even surpassed the stories that appeared in the daily papers. Mrs. Clark visited Switzerland and France and returned home through the British Isles. While she was there the American papers were full of the reported illness of King Edward VII, but in England there was no mention of it among the people during her entire stay. Mrs. Clark, who is an experienced European traveler, went abroad in the late spring chaperoning a party of young girls, including Miss Gertrude and Miss Edith Bailey, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, and Miss Eleanor and Miss Gertrude Laird, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Laird.

The literary program arranged for the day was carried out with the omission of Miss Ella Lowry's paper on the "Causes of the Crusades." The books discussed were "Ivanhoe," and "The Talisman," by Walter Scott. Mrs. C. C. Hull read a most interesting paper contrasting Scott's character, Rebecca, with Jeanne Saint Pol, the heroine of Maurice Hewlitt's "Richard, Yea and Nay," the book under discussion two weeks ago.

The real Richard I., compared with Scott's and Hewlitt's hero was the subject of a paper presented by Miss A. R. Denniston. It was one of the best ever read before the club. Mrs. James Mills discussed current events and the regular program, together with Mrs. Clark's talk, carried the meeting beyond the hour for closing.

FOR PRESIDENT'S CUP.

Amateur Champion E. M. Byers and John Moorhead, Jr., Will Meet In Finals Today.

As a result of the semi-final matches on the Allegheny Country club course yesterday for the president's cup, John Moorhead, Jr., and E. M. Byers, the amateur champion of Western Pennsylvania, will meet this afternoon in the final contest. The trophy is offered by Harry Darlington. Mr. Moorhead has won this event in two out of the three years. Yesterday he defeated O. D. Blank by 2 up and 1 to play in a brilliant manner, after a nip-and-tuck struggle, deciding the match by a sensational approach to the seventeenth green.

Byers has had an easy time getting into the final, and yesterday defeated C. O. McClintock by 9 up and 7 to play. He is the favorite for the cup, though Moorhead is expected to give him a close struggle.

Owing to the small field of contestants the 18-hole handicap for the J. C. Oliver cup was indefinitely postponed.

With the Golfers.

Miss Eessie Howe has lowered her former record for the Schenley Park course of the Pittsburgh Golf club, to 83 strokes, taking 40 for the 1,005 yards of the first nine holes and 43 for the 2,244 yards of the second nine.

The event on Saturday for the Highland Golf club members will be the fourth handicap competition for the Lawrence Phipps cup.

An 18-hole golf ball sweepstakes with the entrance fee of one ball, will be decided on the Schenley course on Saturday.

The postponed annual 36-hole handicap competition for the Cresson cup on the Allegheny Country club course has been fixed for November 30. The trophy, originally played for at Cresson Springs, which must be taken three times for possession, has been won twice by E. M. Byers, also by John Moorhead, Jr., O. D. Thompson and J. O. Horne.

The caddies of the Allegheny course are anxious to arrange a match with the Highland team, which defeated the Pittsburgh Golf club boys last Saturday.

The team match scheduled for Saturday on the Logans Ferry course between Pittsburgh and Westmoreland, was played on November 1, being won by Pittsburgh. An 18-hole handicap will be played at Logans Ferry instead.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER, 14.

"As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman, which is without discretion."—Proverbs.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Would fain describe the glory of the evening frocks now in process of manufacture for several local women noted for handsome dressing. Lace in filmy billows, spangles which look like a shower of gold or moonlight or frost, belts and bands and girdles of glittering Persian embroidery, and under all softtoned silks in flower patterns shining through, giving a general effect of a garden seen through a misty veil.

A Swagger Girl

Of the East End district dropped into a popular confectioner shop yesterday to get some old-fashioned candy. She had with her a bag filled to overflowing with favors for an informal little party she will give the day after Thanksgiving. "I brought 'em from Dresden last month," she said to the admiring clerk. "I don't know where the makers got their ideas, but these just fit a Thanksgiving party, and I got the favors and then planned the party." They are all sorts of miniature fruits, in papier mache, tinted and decorated to resemble the real thing, each one capable of holding about a tablespoonful of mint drops. Peaches and pears, tinted pumpkins, realistic ears of corn and even a tiny beet were there. Not one was duplicated and there will be some merry admiration when this fairy harvest is shown to the thirty merry guests of the Swagger Girl.

An Up-to-Date Baby.

Also of the East end, goes for her morning outing in a rose-colored cashmere coat buttoned up one side with crystal buttons. The coat topped by a white peau-de-soie bonnet from which three tiny Prince of Wales feathers stand upright. The outfit, with its dimpled wearer, is strapped into a white carriage, shaped like a swan with folded wings. Baby does not look in the least like a Lohengrin but her carriage was made to order because her mother admires the Swan Knight's vehicle.

One Society Maid

Was minus a bunch of roses yesterday and plus a gratified sense of charity. She was standing on an Oakland corner waiting for a car, holding a tissue wrapped bouquet. A small Italian peddler, slender and not yet robbed by labor of her native grace, caught sight of the roses and sidled wistfully up to the holder. The Girl looked at her with a bright smile which evidently supplied lacking courage.

"Letta me smell, ple-a-s-e," said the Italian coaxingly. "Such rose are in Florence, my home. I not see for years" —and the brown eyes filled with tears.

"Take them," said the Girl impulsively, putting them in the grimy outstretched hand; and swinging herself on the car she was off before her bewildered companion could find words for her thanks, which, however, dripped from her eyes in tears and lingered about her lips in smiles all the journey to town.

Wedding Rings.

The oracle says that no proper and up-to-date wedding ring will be without a posy this winter. The old-fashioned and prosaic custom of inscribing merely the initials and date on the inner surface of the enchanted circlet is going out, and sweet sentiment once more holds sway in the matter of inscriptions. Shakespeare holds first place as author for these true love whispers, with Byron a close second. Sometimes the bride chooses her line, and often the groom composes it. A couple who will wed in the early November days have made a couplet together, the bride composing the first line and her fiancee the second. The name of one precedes the verse and the other is placed after, with the date beneath.

A January Wedding

Which is planned to be original and handsome will have nothing but purple and white chrysanthemums for decorations. "Odd but original," announced the bride as the keynote, and as the "mums" are a very pinkish and delicate purple, and the white is to be cream, there will be no effect of mourning in the scene. The two small flower bearers are to wear scarfs of delicate white gauze, spangled with silver, and carry armfuls of the shaggy flowers.

Sweet Bells.

It was in the art room of a big jewelers' shop downtown. Mamma and blond Miss Schoolgirl were choosing a clock as a first anniversary gift to the elder daughter of the house. "I like this one," said mamma, pointing with her lorgnette to a tall, colonial affair. "Oh, no, mamma!" protested the blond maid, "that one strikes so harshly! Let us take this one, with the sweet bells. Then she will always be glad to hear it, and it will not be an ugly monitor saying constantly, 'Another hour! get ready to die!' like the old monk in that Roman convent." So the sweet bells were purchased and the terrors of flying time obviated.

Original Books.

A pretty girl in the library last week had two of the assistants hunting for a Spielhagen work—in German. "I always read books in the original," she said prettily, and the two French novels and a German treatise she had just returned corroborated her words. Who says that our society girls are half-educated?

THE FASHIONABLE TRIMMING

CURRENT MODES.

Light delicate tints are most in favor for evening wear this season in strong contrast to the brilliant hues which obtained last winter. So far the pinks have it, from the deep coral, which is so wonderfully beautifying to the olive skin and dark eyes, up through a hundred varying shades to the peach bloom tints, which are scarcely more pink than cream, but eminently becoming to all, and always delightful to look at. Black in lace is admired, but the heavier blacks are to be almost unknown for evening wear. The lace, too, is of the filmiest, most web-like variety, sometimes with a delicate pattern outlined by velvet dots or ribbons, or again flashing with spangles, but always fine in quality.

The hair dressing, which is drooping from its crown-like position on the top of the head, has a garniture all its own. Some whose faces are coquettish in outline and whose cheek shows a dimple or two, may wear the Spanish or "Carmen" rose, drooping over the left ear, but the American face as a rule is too oval for this. The high aigrette was the most becoming thing ever invented for oval faces, but as fashion taboos anything high just now, the aigrette has shrunk to a rosette, sometimes of fine feathers or again of tulle. This is placed just above the crown of the head, or above the low coiled knot at the back.

Dainty dancing frocks for young girls are made this year in a clever fashion which makes them clear the ground while simulating length. The flare at the bottom gives this apparent length, but it is so deftly flared that it does not impede the flying feet a moment.

For theater wear, which in Pittsburgh is something halfway between street dress and formal evening dress, the silk blouse will hold its own despite the mandate against separate skirts. Nothing more useful has ever been devised, and hundreds of dainty, dressy blouses are in course of preparation now, to be worn with plain skirts, under capes or light jackets for the theater. Most of these are buttoned in the back, and all the smart ones will have a rosette of contrasting velvet ribbon somewhere on the left side of the breast.

A Souvenir for Royalty.

One of the most beautiful of the many gifts which the Duchess of Cornwall and York carried away from Canada as a souvenir of her tour was a corsage ornament taking the form of a spray of Canadian maple leaves, the country's emblem, which was presented by the citizens of Montreal. The spray is more than four inches long and has six leaves of gold, enameled and set with 365 diamonds. The leaves are each edged with the diamonds and the stems which unite them to the branch and the latter also are embeded with diamonds. A single Canadian pearl of great size and beauty surrounded by diamonds is set at the stem of the spray.

SOCIETY

THE afternoon musicale yesterday at the residence of Dr. William Sterling Huselton at Fifth and Morewood avenues, Shadyside, was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the early fall season. Mrs. Huselton and her daughter, Miss Roma M. Huselton, received the guests. Palms shadowed the grand piano, while ferns with spreading fronds banked the mantels and were massed about the tall tropical plants. Yellow chrysanthemums appeared in the music room, yellow being the predominating color throughout the house.

Dainty little programs were presented each guest, upon which appeared the names of the musicians, Mortimer Howard of New York, recently the tenor in the First Presbyterian church of this city; Mr. Wyler of New York, pianist; Harry Burk of the Pittsburgh orchestra, violinist, and W. L. Steiner, the young composer and pianist. The music was exceptionally good and the numbers were chosen with reference to the requirements of the parlor concert. Mr. Howard, who during his stay here became a favorite in musical and social circles, was cordially welcomed back to Pittsburgh. Mr. Wyler, who played several piano numbers and accompanied Mr. Howard, made a very pleasing impression. Equally enjoyable were the numbers presented by the two Pittsburgh artists, Mr. Burk and Mr. Steiner.

After the music refreshments were served in the dining-room, whose decorations were very artistic. The walls were covered with green vines, and upon the table with its shaded candles and orange-tinted bonbons was a large center-piece of huge yellow chrysanthemums. The same flowers appeared in the hall and throughout the house.

Mrs. Huselton and Miss Huselton were assisted in receiving by Mrs. John Hays, Miss Stella Hays, Mrs. Theodore Rickey Hostetter and Mrs. McClurg Hays. After the musicale a 7 o'clock dinner was served for the assistants and an equal number of gentlemen. Covers were laid for fourteen.

Sewickley Woman's Club.

The meeting of the Woman's club of Sewickley, in the Edgeworth club house, yesterday, was one of unusual interest. It was in charge of the department of philanthropy, with Mrs. Robert Wardrop as chairman. Mrs. Wardrop opened the meeting, by a short talk on "Village improvements." She then introduced William M. Kennedy, ex-mayor of Allegheny, who talked at length on the subject "Civics." His talk was interesting and highly enjoyed. A musical program, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, was given in charge of Mrs. John N. Tate, Jr. On next Wednesday will be held the most delightful meeting of the year. It will be the second of the lectures in the special course prepared for the club, by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clapp. Mrs. Alfred B. Harlow will preside at the meeting. Rabbi Leonard Levy of Pittsburgh will be present and talk on the subject "Meaning of Modern Judaism." Following it will be an informal 6 o'clock tea. There will be no meeting of the club on Wednesday, November 27.

Pittsburgh Whist League.

At the Twentieth Century club this afternoon, tomorrow and Saturday the Pittsburgh Whist league will engage in a three-days' tournament for the team trophy. The teams consist of four players from each club in the league, the Duquesne, Twentieth Century, Allegheny, Sewickley, Monday Afternoon and Pittsburgh Whist clubs, members of which are all women. The prize consists of a silver trophy presented by Mrs. Charles L. Taylor, together with four appropriate pins to be worn by the winning team. The league will also hold an open tournament for mixed pairs at the Schenley hotel this evening, the prizes on this occasion being souvenir pins of appropriate design. E. T. Baker, of Brooklyn, a prominent eastern whist player, will have charge of the tournaments. The officers of the Pittsburgh Whist league are: President, Mrs. Charles L. Taylor; vice-president, Mrs. Henry King; secretary, Mrs. A. B. Starr; treasurer, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr.

Ingathering and Reception.

The Pittsburgh branch of the Needlework Guild of America gave a reception and tea yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the old Third Presbyterian church. The annual ingathering took place Tuesday, and the garments and various articles contributed were assorted yesterday and displayed. The distribution to the different charitable institutions in the city will be made today.

The high mark of the first year, when 7,000 articles were received, has not been reached at any time since. The treasurer yesterday afternoon received $30 in cash which accompanied the various contributions.

The officers of the Pittsburgh branch, who are elected biennially, the election taking place a year ago, include Mrs. William A. Herron and Mrs. George Duff, honorary presidents; Mrs. N. Q. Speer, president; Miss Jane Killikelly, treasurer, and Miss Emma Normecutt, secretary.

A Wedding Today.

A wedding for this afternoon is that of Miss Agnes Marcella Printy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Printy, of Sandusky street, Allegheny, and George Peter Ferrara, of this city. It will be celebrated in the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians, the Italian church of the East End, at 4 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Sextus, rector of the church. Miss Elizabeth Buckley, of Allegheny, will be the bridesmaid, and Miss Margaret Sommers, of Savannah, Ga., the flower girl. The groom will be attended by P. Brynn, of this city, as best man, and the ushers will be George Finley, George Randall and Vincente Nireita, all of Pittsburgh. The bride-elect is well known in both cities, and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Naples, Italy, and is a civil engineer with the American Bridge Company.

Lawrenceville New Century Club.

The Lawrenceville New Century club met Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church and discussed recent magazines and magazine literature. Miss Carrie Zeigler gave a review of some of the best literary magazines and Miss H. E. Cory the art, domestic and scientific weeklies and monthlies. A discussion of the best magazines to be read followed. The musical program was rendered by Miss Charlotte Herron.

Notes of Society.

Miss Sarah H. Killikelly lectured last evening before the Girls' Guild in Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, East End. Her subject was "The Pan-American."

To-day Mrs. Herbert DuPuy gives a large tea to introduce her twin daughters, Miss Eleanor and Miss Amy DuPuy, to society.

The West Penn Hospital Cot club gives its annual entertainment on the afternoon and evening of December 5, in the music room of the Hotel Schenley.

The Lawrenceville Catholic union will give the first of a series of euchres this evening at the Y. M. I. hall, Fortieth and Butler streets.

An informal little theater party was given last evening for Miss Louise Elkins and her visiting friend, Miss Grommes of Chicago.

Mrs. M. L. Coffin-Graff's lecture this morning at 11 o'clock at her home in Lehigh avenue, East End, has been postponed until Wednesday, November 20, at 11, because of the death of John Graff.

of Syrup of Figs and the universal satisfaction which it has given attest the fact that it possesses the qualities which commend it to public favor. With the diffusion of knowledge of what a laxative should be and a general understanding of the fact that it should have a truly laxative and beneficial effect and be wholly free from every objectionable quality, or substance, the large and growing demand for shows that it is destined to supplant the old-time cathartics which were generally injurious and usually disagreeable as well. In Syrup of Figs one finds a true laxative, simple and pleasant to the taste, gentle in its action and beneficial in effect.

In the process of manufacture figs are used as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially. In order

To Mothers of Large Families

We make a special appeal to mothers of large families whose work is never done, and many of whom suffer and suffer for lack of intelligent aid.

To women, young or old, rich or poor, we extend an invitation to accept free advice. Oh, women! do not let

R·I·P·A·N·S

For five years I suffered miseries with what the doctors pronounced indigestion and torpid liver. I could not eat the lightest food without great pain and distress. My nerves were affected so that I could not sleep at night. I was advised by a friend to give Ripans Tabules a trial and did so. It was the greatest thing I ever did, as I am well and hearty to-day by taking only one dozen of the five cent boxes. They are worth their weight in gold to me.

THE YALE TEAM BADLY TORN UP

Retirement of Glass Caused Many Shifts, and Wilhelmi Is Also Out of It.

PITTSBURGH BOY PLAYS FULLBACK

McClintock Will Go in Against Princeton—Tigers Had a Fine Practice and Worked Well—Harvard Pleased With Glass Ruling.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 13.—The Yale eleven has been reorganized today. Although on the eve of the Princeton game the Blues coaches had to make their shifts, in order to fill the big gap made by the withdrawal of E. T. Glass, the giant guard. Hamlin, the left tackle, was moved to right guard. George Goss, who was playing left guard when he was injured three weeks ago, was put in at left tackle. Olcott, whom the coaches intended to play at left tackle, will play left guard in the Princeton game on Saturday. Added to the loss of Glass came another blow to the team today. Wilhelmi, the half back, who injured his foot two days ago, was pronounced by his physician unable to play again this season. This moved Weymouth from full back to left half back, and placed McClintock at full back. Tonight a leading coach said the order of the back field on Saturday would be De Saulles, quarter back; Chadwick, right half back; Weymouth, left half back, and McClintock, full back. McClintock has never even played in an exhibition game. Hamlin has never played in a championship game and neither has Goss. If Yale can win with this team it will be a miracle.

Tigers Cheered by Fellow Students.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The Tigers held the final line up of the season on the 'varsity field this afternoon. Almost the entire undergraduate body assembled around the cannon at 1:30 p. m., and with fife and drum, marched to the field 1,000 strong, to cheer the team for the last time before the game with Yale on Saturday.

With the exception of a rather stiff breeze, the weather was ideal for football. Every man on both the scrub and the 'varsity team who has not been totally disabled by injuries, was on the gridiron, some did not play, while others were in the game only for a short time, but the showing made by the team and subs was good.

Previous to the regular practice game the men were drilled in getting down the field under punts and in kicking, and after the scrubs had warmed up the scrubs were given the ball on the 'varsity's 10-yard line, to give the first team an opportunity to hold against the attacks. The second team, however, worked with a will, and twice the ball was carried through the 'varsity line and placed behind the goal posts.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Harvard men are satisfied with Yale's action in declaring Glass ineligible. Glass' withdrawal is in strict interpretation of the rules.

Harvard accepts the withdrawal of Glass as an expected thing, regretting that Yale had not seen the matter in the same light at the start. Had Yale not withdrawn Hin, a vigorous protest would have been made.

Tomorrow and Friday the team will have open practice, in order that the students may practice the songs and cheers which will be given against Yale. The whole will make the field from the Harvard Union, the university band leading, and it is expected that more than 1,500 men will be in line.

Cornell Teams Had Fierce Battle.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The football practice on Percy field this afternoon consisted of a fierce battle between the first and second teams, and after over half an hour's hard tussle, the line-up ended with honors only slightly against Warner's men. Taussig does not appear to get in form, and it is now practically certain that his place at left end will be taken by Snider in the Columbia game. Coerney took Schellog's place at full back, and put up a good game against the scrubs. Sheppard did good work in Purcell's place at left half. Brewster's place at quarter was filled by Finucane and later by James.

In the first half of the line-up the scrubs braced around the end on a trick play for a touchdown. This play woke the varsity up so that before the half they had scored three times on their opponents. In the last half, however, the second eleven took another brace and held up the varsity in a manner that made the coaches say unpleasant things to some of Warner's men. But the reproaches of the coaches were of no avail and before the half ended the scrubs had another touchdown to their credit.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The practice at Franklin field by Penn's football team this afternoon was not of the sort to raise the drooping spirits of the fifteen players.

To begin with, the scrubs beat the 'varsity by two touchdowns to one. Of course, this does not indicate much, as six of the team which lined up against Harvard were out of the game.

The 'varsity men who were in the line-up however did not play ball. The only touchdown for the regulars was scored by R. B. Smith, a scrub man who was in at half back. Baird was in at left guard in Ted's place and Crowther took care of Davidson's position at tackle. Through this defense the scrubs had little trouble in sifting, and even though the 'varsity scored first the second team got together and sent Keller and Bradbury over for two touchdowns in short order.

Princeton's Offer Rejected.

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 13.—At a meeting of the executive commitee of the Association of Students of the University of California today, the offer of the Princeton university football eleven to play games on this coast on Christmas and New Years was rejected.

WASH.-JEFF. BEAT WEST VIRGINIA

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 13.—Washington and Jefferson college and West Virginia university teams met in their annual game of football at College park this afternoon before a large crowd of people. W. & J. was superior in every department of the game and won out by the score of 22 to 0. The game was, nevertheless, one of the best that has been played on the home grounds this season, and the West Virginia team played a better game than any team that has appeared on the local field this year.

West Virginia was able to make but little headway through the heavy line of the local team, while W. & J. seldom failed to gain when it was needed. The playing of the W. & J. team was not as good as it might have been and they showed up weak in several instances. On the offense they were strong, and the defense has been strengthened considerably since the game with the Bucknell eleven at Pittsburgh last Saturday, but W. & J. was slow at times in starting with the ball and should have piled up a much larger score than they did.

The backs did not get started quickly, and West Virginia broke through repeatedly and downed the runner for a loss. A feature of the game was the number of substitutions made by both teams in the game. At the close of the contest there were eight subs in and the team did not seem to be materially weakened in any respect.

The game was characterized throughout by the brilliant and running of the W. & J. team and the splendid interference at times displayed. For W. & J. Aiken, Montgomery, Lang and Forkum displayed the best work, and McFarland and Keating played well for West Virginia univrsity.

Capt. Aiken of the W. & J. team won the toss and defended the west goal. Kenna kicked off to Hayes, who got back 15 yards. W. & J. quickly advanced the ball to West Virginia's 30-yard line, when they lost it on a fumble. West Virginia failed on two attempts and Kenna kicked to Aiken. W. & J. began a march up the field and after 10 minutes of play made a touchdown, Forkum being pushed over. Hayes failed to kick goal. Score, W. & J., 5, W. V. U., 0. W. & J., by fierce line bucking and end runs, made one more touchdown in the first half and had the ball on the one-foot line when time was called, with the score in to 0.

In the second half Capt. Aiken, who had left the game himself, began placing subs in the game, and two touchdowns resulted, the goal from which were both kicked making the final score 22 to 0 in favor of W. & J. None of the players were injured in the game and should all be in good condition for the hard game on Saturday. West Virginia did not place a substitute in the game, although some of the players were slightly injured. The score and line-up follow.

SAYS HE FEELS LIKE A RACE HORSE

Ruhlin Also in Fine Fettle and Claims He Will Be the Winner. Ohio Boy Says Betting Odds Do Not Make Champions.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—James J. Jeffries, champion pugilist, yesterday decided not to again don the boxing gloves until he entered the ring for Friday night's battle. Today, however, he suddenly determined to continue boxing until the very last day of grace. It had been stated that Jeffries' work would practically conclude with today, but the heavyweight has decided not to lay off tomorrow. All of which is regarded indicative of his determination to be in fighting trim when the gong sounds for the commencement of hostilities.

Jeffries did not arise until 7:30 o'clock this morning, but he had enjoyed a refreshing sleep, and, as usual, had appetite for breakfast. After a stroll about town and a run to the Piedmont baths and a plunge there, the champion returned to his training headquarters at the Reliance Athletic club gymnasium, and by 10 o'clock had started in with his regular light work. Some one remarked that "Jeff doesn't look so well this morning." Jeff overheard it and replied that "Just the same, he feels like a thorough young race horse."

The champion expects to go into the ring as strong as an ox. Everyone who has seen him exercise marvels at his swiftness. He is extremely fast on his feet and never tires. That he is hitting with great force was evidenced by the manner in which he punched the bag. He hammered the inflated sphere for 20 minutes and broke the rope by heavy smashing.

Ruhlin Took His Last Spin.

Ruhlin was up early this morning, and after breakfast, started out on his last spin. Madden never believes in working a man up to the last day of the fight. He says a boxer should enjoy a day of solid rest before the contest. A boxer usually becomes fidgetty and peevish on the day of the battle and there is little chance for him to get a good rest. Ruhlin came off the road about 10 o'clock and until Friday night will be kept as quiet as possible.

Jeffries has promised to meet Sharkey on December 20, before the San Francisco Athletic club. Sharkey has been looking for a match from the champion for nearly a year, but no promise would be given until all the other likely ones with championship aspirations had been disposed of. Ruhlin is now considered the best fighter in his class, aside from Jeffries, and if he should fall at the meeting on Friday night, Sharkey will be the next in line.

Speaking of the coming battle, Ruhlin said: "You can count on me to give a good account of myself. I know just what kind of a job I have on my hands, and I think I am equal to the occasion. Of course, they are betting long odds against me, but betting odds do not win a championship battle, in every championship fight that has taken place in this country the champion was a topheavy favorite. I never left like I do in all my life. I simply cannot express the improvement I feel the last six months' work has made in me. You may say that is me that if the fight lasts 20 rounds I will get the decision, and if it ends sooner, Jeff will be the man on the floor."

Jeffries on the Length of Fight.

"Well," he said, "I know that Ruhlin has not been standing still since I met him last. He has improved very much and I have an idea that he will bore in from the jump. Maybe I'll stop him in the first round; maybe the second; but, really, I don't think it will last longer than 15."

The same question was put to Ruhlin. "I feel," he said, "as well as I ever did in my life. I feel as though I can fight and fight hard, but it's the best man that wins and how can one tell now but what Jeffries is the best? Of course I don't think so, but I would not want to say that the fight would go five rounds or ten rounds, or that I could polish him off in one, though I may prove my ability to do so."

Two San Francisco physicians examined Jeffries this morning just after he finished his road work and they pronounce him to be in superb condition. His heart action was strong and regular, which, taken with his general health, indicated to their minds the possession of an ability to go to the limit of human endurance. Another physician said the same thing of Ruhlin. He found his pulse to be 46, which the medical man declared to be a marvel.

The odds are still 10 to 4 on Jeffries with no Ruhlin money in sight.

TALENT WRONG ON ONE EVENT

KNIGHT OF RHODES WAS STRONG FAVORITE BUT LOST

Wonderly's Great Ride on Carbuncle Landed That Horse the Winner of the Race—One Jockey Was Thrown, but Escaped Injury—There Was Bright Sunshine and Big Crowd at the Bennings Track.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—A bright sunshiny day brought out a very large crowd at Bennings today. The favorites, Cousin Jess, Royal Sterling and Satire won. In the fifth race Knight of Rhodes, with Burns up, was a strongly played favorite. When the start was made Wonderly, who was on Carbuncle, and Burns, were both caught in the barrier and lashed together as they were, raced in this manner for some distance. Wonderly managed to extricate himself first and rapidly overhauled the leaders and won handily, Knight of Rhodes securing third place. H. Cochran, who was on Oudenarde in the last race, was thrown from his mount, but was not injured. Results:

First race, selling, 3-year-olds and upward, 1⅛ miles over 7 hurdles, purse $300—Cousin Jess, 151, Brazil, 8 to 5, won; Mr. Stoffel, 151 Helder, 13 to 5, second; Tanakard, 151, Dayton, 12 to 1, third. Time, 3:23. McFonso, Very light and Roysterer also ran.

Second race, maiden, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs, purse $300—Cheat Em, 109, T. Burns, 6 to 1, won; Col. Bill, 109, Redfern, 5 to 2, second; Somersault, 106, H. Cochran, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:03 3-5. Anak, Hot Maratrisa, The Bandit, Thoth, Wild Bess, Chiron, The Hartford, Ski Runner, Siah, Clearfield and Nuptial also ran.

Third race, 3-year-olds and upward, 7 furlongs, purse $400—Royal Sterling, 100; Wonderly, 6 to 5, won; Death, 114, J. Slack, 5 to 1, second; Passaic, 107, T. Burns, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:30 1-5. Cheval d'or, Senator, Nitrate, Land of Clover, Argaunaute, Gautama and Lexington Pirate also ran.

Fourth race, 3-year-olds and upward, 7 furlongs, purse $400—Satire, 112, Doggett, 8 to 5 won; Federalist, 106, T. Burns, 3 to 1, second; Snark, 103, Redfern, 25 to 1, third. Time, 1:30 3-5. Tenderloin, Bastile, Vesuvia, Punctual, Connie and Tonicum also ran.

Fifth race, 4-year-olds and upward, mile and 60 yards, purse $300—Carbuncle, 104, Wonderly, 6 to 5, won; Handcuff, 107, H. Cochran, 100 to 1, second; Knight of Rhodes, 107, T. Burns, 7 to 10, third. Time, 1:49 2-5. Tannis also ran.

Sixth race, 3-year-olds and upward, mile and sixteenth, purse $500—Potente, 126, Michaels, 5 to 2, won; Alfred Vargrave, 103, Haydel, 7 to 1, second; Ohnet, 103, Wonderly, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 3-5. Redpath and Handicapper also ran. Oudenarde threw jockey at post.

GOOD DAY FOR LONG SHOTS.

Five Favorites Were Beaten at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—Long shots came near making a clean sweep of the boards at Latonia to-day. Five favorites were beaten and the bookies had little to pay out on the winners. The hurdle handicap proved an easy victory for Lord Farandale. The weather was fine and the track fast. Summaries:

First race, 1 mile, selling—Hand D., 113, Landry, 5 to 1, won; Burnett Wallace, 119, Jackson, 10 to 1, second; Light Bush, 103, L. Jarvis, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:42½. Cardome, King Tattine, Boaster, Simon, Sabrine, Aaron, Pond, Jake Land also ran.

Second race, hurdle handicap, 1¼ miles—Lord Farandale, 140, Dolan, 9 to 5, won; Gov. Boyd, 148, Conley, 8 to 5, second; Robert Morrison, 125, Gormley, 4 to 1, third. Time, 2:25. Danger Line, Interpreter also ran.

Fourth race, 1 3-16 miles, selling—Woodtrice, 115, Minder, 6 to 1, won; Eleanor Holmes, W. L. Jackson, 7 to 2, second; Zazel, 107, W. Waterman, Time, 2:06. Sandomingo, Aquinas, Facsie, Charley Shane, Albert Vals also ran.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs, selling—Polly Bixby, 110, Minder, 12 to 1, won; Laureta, 106, McCann, 8 to 1, second; Ida Pensance, 110, L. Jackson, 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:18. Ethel Davis, Anxious, Margaret Ellen, Cordilias, Treasonable, Virginia T., Maydine, Clelly Thorncap also ran.

Sixth race, 5 furlongs—Lauretta Burke, 112, Knight, 8 to 2, won; Goody Good, 102, Miller, 5 to 1, second; Owlette, 102, Lyne, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:04⅘. Outlet, Lizzie Loy, Olive Fant, Mae Miller, Lady Florence, Bunker, Eliza Dillon ran.

Seventh race, selling, mile—Queen Aday, Masterful, 95; Patch Work, 98; Sim W., Polly Bixby, Sallie J., John W. Patton, Negra, 100; Dandy H., Ramiro II., King Silkwood, Irish Jewell, Alec, 102.

Second race, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Sarah Gay, 99; Silver Dawn, Cast Iron, Netherland, Syphon, The Widow, Euilen, 102; Lord Badge, Reclusa, The Boston, 107; Ravensbury, 110.

Third race, 3-year-olds and upward, handicap, 6 furlongs—Johnnie McCarthy, 94; Maggie Felix, 96; Bill Massie, 98; Erena, Van Hoorebeke, 103; Foneda, 107; Anna Bain, 110.

DEFEAT BROUGHT SORROW.

West Virginians Are Hot for a Wash.-Jeff. Scalp.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—When the 22 to 0 as a result of the game between West Virginia university and Washington and Jefferson was wired here this evening from Washington, there was disappointment on the faces of the large crowd of students assembled, who hoped the university would score. The university team would rather defeat W. & J. than win against Harvard, but the feat has never been accomplished in the history of the institution. Local oil operators have guaranteed a fund of $3,000 with which to train a team next year that can win against their Washington rivals, and every one of the best coaches in the country whose names are being withheld, have already been engaged to train the team.

SELLING THE TROTTERS.

Harvest Prince Brought the Highest Price.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The highest price at the sale of trotting horses at Dexter Park today was paid for Harvest Prince, a bay colt, record 2:21¼, by Highwood. The amount paid was $1,000, and the purchaser was Oscar Ames of Wheaton, Ill., who will campaign the horse next season. Other sales of the day were: Vergillia Crook, ch. f., by Bud Crook, C. J. Hamlin, Buffalo, N. Y., $500. Ali Baron, br. c., by Allerton, R. C. Liggitt, Wyoming, Ill., $835. Alfred Moyer, br. c., by Alfred G., 2:11, Rigley, Monticello, Ill., $650. Lochander, b. f., by Red Heart, S. R. Holt, Sterling, Ill., $720.

MANY PITTSBURGHERS WILL SEE THE BIG GAME.

When the Yale and Princeton elevens line up on Yale field at New Haven on Saturday afternoon for their annual contest there will be a large number of Pittsburghers present to watch the great struggle for supremacy.

Both of the colleges have a large following in this city and the old college pride will not allow many of them to miss what is considered the treat of the year. There has already been three different parties made up and each one includes half a dozen or more graduates of either Yale or Princeton. One party is made up of attorneys and includes some of the best known members of the bar in this end of the state. Besides the ex-students a large number of the real lovers of the game will also go to New Haven to see the game. The first delegation, which is headed by Peter S. Coombs, will leave this evening, and will carry quite a wad of cash to bet on the game.

There has been very little betting in this city so far. Some few wagers have been made and they have been at even money. The betting men are basing their opinion on the showing made by both Yale and Princeton against West Point, and it is figured out that Saturday's contest should be pretty nearly an even thing. It is likely that the betting will become more brisk today and tomorrow, but there is little chance of odds being offered by either side. Perry Hale, the ex-Yale star, who arrived here on Tuesday, has been consulted by some men with money to bet as to his opinion, but he refuses to make any prediction and contents himself with saying that the teams are very evenly matched.

THE STARS ARE HOLDING SECRET CONFERENCES

Homestead Eleven Is Preparing for the Three Hardest Games of the Season--Lafayette Will Have Plenty of Rooters.

Those daily secret conferences which are being held by the members of the Homestead football eleven show how desperately in earnest the Stars are over their next three games, which will be the test games as well as the final ones of the season. There was another of the field pow-wows over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, which lasted for half an hour, and which was a serious matter if the expressions on the players' faces counted for anything.

There was not one of the regulars about when Davy Fultz called play at 3 o'clock and the practice started off with racing down the field under punts which all hands were compelled to take part in. In this work Cocilius was assigned to do the punting and Perry Hale was working out in an end position. The tackling yesterday was not quite as fierce as on previous days, still it was hard enough to answer all purposes. The players next lined up and there was practice at attempts to block kicks. Hale was at fullback and managed to get the majority of his kicks off, but one or two of them were blocked.

The practice was fierce and at times there were battles royal between Texas Mosse, Winstein and Bemis Fierce. Mosse and Winstein were in the regulars' line and Bemis was with the opposition, whose duty it was to break through the line and if possible block the kick. This trio of players had it hot and heavy, and there was some of the real thing in their work. Following this practice the players were divided into two squads and they went at each other with a will. The afternoon was gifted for hard practice, as a cold, raw wind swept over the park and the players had to hustle to keep warm.

The Homestead management has decided, in order to accommodate football patrons, to bulletin the Yale-Princeton game at the park on Saturday afternoon. The big score board in right field will be used, and each score made will be duly posted. The Lafayette alumni of this city propose giving the college team a send-off when it appears here on Saturday, and yesterday a bunch of reserved seats were purchased for a crowd who will go over to root for the college team.

It was reported yesterday that there is already some lively betting on the game between the Philadelphia and Homestead Star teams, which is to be played in the Quaker City on the 23rd of this month. Harry Pulliam, who is running the box office end for Homestead, stated that yesterday morning a Philadelphian had made an offer of $1,000 even on the Quaker team, and that the bet was covered at once by a Homestead backer. Another bet of $250 even was recorded during the day.

WELCOME THEM BACK.

Jesse Tannehill Thinks the League Should Make a Move.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Jesse Tannehill turned up on the Ohio side yesterday and fanned a little.

"It would not surprise me to see Barrett rejoin the Reds," said he. "Would they take him? In a minute if he really wants to come. Why shouldn't they? It would be a solar plexus blow just now. I know that Barney Dreyfus would have raised claim to Jimmy Williams had he cared to return to the league. That's a fact, no matter what is said to the contrary. The American league isn't any too chipper at this time. I don't think it is as strong today as it was this time last year. There have been too many financial troubles to alarm the players. To welcome some of the leaguers who deserted last year would be a heart punch."

Tannehill and his brother Lee have planned a hunting trip into Grant county, Kentucky. The bird season does not commence across the Ohio until the 15th, and the Tannehills will go in old frontier style, driving quarters in a covered wagon—a modern prairie schooner.

KITTY IS NOT DAVIS' WIDOW

COURT'S CHARACTERIZATION OF THE ACTOR

Miss Margaret Simpson's Legacy Under the Will Stands and Distribution Is Ordered — $11,000 Suspended to Await Testimony.

Judge W. G. Hawkins in orphans court yesterday handed down an opinion dismissing the exception filed by Catherine A. Huddleston to the account of S. A. Johnston, executor of the estate of the late Charles L. Davis. Miss Huddleston contended she had been married to Davis March 28, 1898, by Alderman Clark of Allegheny, who has since died. The court finds that no marriage took place and that the claimant has no interest in the distribution.

Judge Hawkins says, using the phrase of another jurist, that Davis seemed to be a man who would select any woman of whom happened to please his fancy, introduce her as his wife, and then, as his fancy dulled, he would take another. The former marriage of the claimant, her meeting with Davis without introduction in a sleeping car and her appearance with Davis after were touched upon by the court.

The judge then says the weight of the evidence shows beyond a reasonable doubt that Davis was in Pittsburgh and not in Ben Avon at the date of the alleged marriage and that the claimant repeatedly admitted before and after Davis' death that she had not been married to him. In conclusion the court says that Miss Huddleston, after Davis' death, evidently with fraudulent intent, endeavored to induce Alderman Anderson to take the place of the deceased alderman, and that it was after all hope of finding a will in her favor that the present claim was set up.

Upon the audit of the estate the court disallows the claim of Hammer, Rea & Co. of $1,500 for securing an alleged loan of $100,000 for Davis. Upon the claim of Colonel Hart for $10,000 the court says it is necessary to take the testimony of witnesses in London, so action in the matter is suspended. In the decree of distribution it is shown the estate is worth $92,035.05, of which $11,000 is suspended on the Hart claim. Mrs. Margaret Schriver Simpson of Detroit, the principal legatee, gets $75,154.33, and the remainder represents small claims against the estate.

PLAINTIFF FROM IRELAND.

Consolidated Traction Company Defendant in United States Court. Order in P. & W. Foreclosure.

The Consolidated Traction Company was defendant in a $10,000 damage suit before Judge Joseph Buffington in the United States circuit court. The case is brought by Mary Manning for injuries received by being struck by a car on the evening of March 26, 1900. The accident occurred at Gist and Forbes streets, where she attempted to cross the street. She she was dragged for half a block before the car was stopped. The plaintiff was here on a visit from Ireland. She lay in a hospital for some time suffering from a broken shoulder, broken left arm and bad cuts about the head. Her attorney was a son of Judge Marcus W. Acheson, who for that reason refused to try the case.

In the case of Mary C. Delafield against the city of Pittsburgh the plaintiff is the owner of property which the city desires for filtration purposes, and the viewers appointed, after duly qualifying, adjourned to meet on the property near Aspinwall for the purpose of determining the value of the land. The viewers are Stephen C. McCandless, William M. Kennedy, M. K. Salisbury, D. H. Wallace and David E. Park.

An order was issued by the court in the case of the Mercantile Trust Company of New York against the Pittsburgh & Western railroad, requiring the receiver of the road, F. F. Loree, to publish a notice as required by the decree of foreclosure in this case at least once a week for six weeks in one newspaper published in each of the cities of Cleveland, Youngstown, Pittsburgh and New York, calling upon holders of indebtedness or obligation contracted by the receiver to show the amount and origin of claims before delivering possession of the property sold and to file the same notices within two months with the clerk of court.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Charles B. Snyder, an oil operator of Washington, Pa., giving the liabilities as $4,771 and the assets as $40.

The Brownsville Glass Company of New Kensington filed a bill of complaint against the Apert Glass Company, the Mississippi Wire Glass Company and the Mississippi Glass Company, asking relief and royalties. The plaintiff company claims to have entered into an agreement with the Apert Glass Company for a period of five years whereby the latter assumed control of the plaintiff's plant. Later the Apert Glass Company entered into an agreement with the other two companies whereby the plaintiff sustained a loss of royalties, etc.

JURY COULD NOT AGREE.

Mrs. Dr. Schultz Took a Voluntary Non-Suit and Will Try Again.

A voluntary non-suit was entered yesterday by the plaintiff in the case of Mrs. Dr. A. B. Schultz against ex-Superintendent of Detectives Roger O'Mara and Detectives Kelly and McGovern. The plaintiff's attorney, W. M. Randolph, decided that, as Mrs. Schultz is a non-resident of this state she can carry her suit into the United States court and challenge every juror from Allegheny county who might be called in the case.

The jury, after balloting all night, reported to the court that they could not agree and were discharged by Judge Collier. This was after the non-suit had been taken.

Mrs. Schultz is a colored physician of Chicago. She was arrested by Detectives Kelly and McGovern March 7, 1901, while on her way from Washington, D. C., at the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station in this city upon the description of another woman wanted on a charge of stealing $4,200.

CHURCH NOT DESIGNATED.

The will of Margaret Lowry, late of Allegheny, was filed. Annie Turner, a daughter, is given property at 1300 Sherman avenue, Allegheny, and it is directed that property at 1310 Sherman avenue be sold. From the proceeds James L. Turner each $200, Margaret and Beede Turner each $200 and James and William Turner each $100. The residue is to be devoted to the education of the testatrix's grandsons. "The United Presbyterian church of Allegheny" is bequeath $500 and the United Presbyterian Orphans' home of Allegheny is given a like amount. The residue of an estate worth $11,500 goes to Joseph Lowry and Annie Turner, children of the deceased.

By the will of John M. Gibson, late of Fawn township, an estate worth $5,000 goes to the testator's wife, Kennedy & Smith represent the estate.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Stanislaus Goreski and wife and Frank, a son, sued the American Steel Hoop Company for $5,000 damages for injuries received by the boy. He has since left foot taken off.

The following plaintiffs were given verdicts in suits against the city of Pittsburgh for damage to property: S. J. Cook, $225; Riley J. Hood, $5,000, and Arabella J. Speer, $1,050.

Proceedings were begun to have John Wilson, 75 years old, declared a lunatic. He is possessed of personal property worth $25,000 and real estate in Chicago, Allegheny and Washington counties.

A compulsory non-suit was entered in the case of John J. Burke against the Consolidated Traction Company. The plaintiff sought to recover $10,000 for injuries received by a car near the Schenley hotel.

An answer was filed by the plaintiff in the equity suit of Harold Nathan against Ida M. Yungen and others, in which the right of Mary Yungen to file a cross-libel is denied. The action grows out of a partnership.

"What's in a name," remarked John Hennessy, clerk of courts, in quarter sessions court, No. 1, yesterday, as he placed the suit of Catherina Neispodzeanski against Albert and Francjska Holewinski on the docket. The suit is to recover $212.

Ada W. Warner was given $892.50, Ada Z. Hoyles $1,500 and A. C. Reiber $40 in the suit against the Monongahela Street Railway Company for personal injuries. The plaintiffs were riding in a carriage that was struck by a car of the defendant company.

Verdicts for the defendants were rendered in two cases brought by James C. De Long against the Pittsburg Gas company, he having been secretary of the New Enterprise Building and Loan association of McKeesport. It is alleged Leisure was a defaulter.

The master in the divorce case of Jennie M. Shaffer against Grant Shaffer has recommended that a decree be granted. Desertion is alleged.

An execution attachment was issued by Alexander Gordon against Jelly Bros. & Co., namely, Jelly Bros. & Co., Duquesne Railway Company as garnishee.

The respondent in the divorce case of Catherine M. Merriman against William B. Merriman has filed an answer to a petition asked cause to show why he should not pay his wife's counsel fees. The respondent says his wife owns four houses, bought by himself, and that he pays rent for them. Besides, he says, out of his earnings, that she failed to sustain a claim in a former divorce proceeding; that she is now seeking to obtain possession of his real estate, and that the desertion now claimed is that which has occurred since the former proceedings.

BLOW TO PRIDE OF FINANCIERS

NEW STEEL COMBINE IS GOING AHEAD

Jones & Laughlins, While Not Likely to Enter, May Have a Working Agreement With the Tidewater Company.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The official announcement of the Northern Pacific settlement came out today in the last hour of the market session, and its speculative reflection must have been a sharp disappointment to such as had not recognized the fact that the issue had already been discounted. It is impossible yet awhile to determine which faction has got the better of the bargain, but obviously the necessity for making a bargain at all weakened the position of the Morgan party.

Interests on both sides today graciously said here was the seal of harmony set upon the northwestern railroad situation. Jacob Schiff, the co-worker of E. H. Harriman, stopped on the steps of J. P. Morgan's office to say that this was the greatest community-of-interest achievement of record. These and other happy sayings were frequent enough, but the fact remains that the Morgan party has had to share its Burlington with Union Pacific. That is just what the Morgan faction so long protested that it would not do, and here it is done, or about to be done.

Around in Pine street, the abode of the Union Pacific crowd, they are proud, too, and privately boast that nothing was done that was not to the complete and permanent satisfaction of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Either side perhaps is glad to get out of it all, but from once having had Burlington to operate to the exclusive advantage of Northern Pacific and Great Northern, to now having to share it with the enemy—Union Pacific—is a mighty fall for the haughty.

Humiliation for Hill.

Mr. Hill has now at his leisure to contemplate the unexpected results of his telling the Union Pacific people to make scarce with themselves when they came to him asking guarantees against the use of Burlington to the disadvantage of Union Pacific. They have better than guarantees now. It would be interesting to know, too, the why and wherefore of that famous demonstration in Northern Pacific preferred a fortnight or so ago. The stock was bid up to 107 for some mysterious reason, and here it is to be retired at par next January, with the regular 1 per cent dividend meanwhile and 1 per cent extra, making it worth as it stands alone only 102. It sold down to 101 in today's market. Privately, it is understood that the Union Pacific crowd was paid a big bonus, perhaps as much as $15,000,000, for their consent to the retirement of Northern Pacific preferred. The announcement today was about Northern Pacific only. The Burlington terms and details have yet to be made public.

New Combine and Jones & Laughlin.

Interests identified with the proposed consolidation of the eastern steel plate industry, for which the Tidewater Steel Company is expected to be made the nucleus, permitted it to be known today that the negotiations are progressing in a manner highly satisfactory to the promoters. The formal incorporation under New Jersey laws probably will occur within a few days, and it is understood now that the capital will be in the neighborhood of $25,000,000.

It will be recalled that an earlier estimate fixed the probable capitalization at $50,000,000, but it was expected then by the promoters that the Jones & Laughlins interests could be induced to enter the combine. The difference between $50,000,000 and the capital now understood to be contemplated, would just about allow for the elimination of Jones & Laughlins. An official representative of this Pittsburgh concern has been in frequent consultation here in New York with the interests forming the plate combine, but what the results, if any, there has come of these conferences the outside world is not permitted to know. It was intimated today, however, that although the Jones & Laughlins interests in all probability would not be included in the combine, some sort of a working agreement might be entered into whereby the steel plate output of Jones & Laughlins would be given over exclusively to the combine. The United States Steel Corporation is understood to have agreed to co-operate with the steel plate manufacturers to the end of establishing harmony between both combines. This development has been strongly indicated by the activity of Mr. Schwab in the negotiations.

A Gold Export Superstition.

Gold to the amount of $5,603,000 was engaged at the United States assay office today to be exported on the French steamer sailing tomorrow. Five separate banking interests were involved in the transaction, which, as originally undertaken, would have been the largest shipment of yellow metal on a single steamer that had taken place for several years. One of the unwritten provisions in Wall street is that no more than $5,000,000 shall be exported on one steamer, there having been established an impression that underwriters would not insure a greater amount. As a matter of fact, there is no arbitrary limit to the amount of gold that may be insured on one steamer, although, as a rule, it is true that insurance companies are reluctant to assume a collective risk in excess of $5,000,000. The president of one of the leading marine underwriting concerns today said:

"There is no truth in the statement that marine underwriters have agreed not to insure more than $5,000,000 gold on one vessel. Each company fixes for itself the extent of the risk it is willing to take, and the aggregate of these individual limits constitutes the limit of insurance that may be had on consignments in a single vessel."

This discussion of insurance limitations arose prior to the announcement that Lazard Freres had withdrawn $1,000,000 of the $2,000,000 originally engaged for export. This reduced the total to $4,603,000, and even that is considerably more than Wall street expected would go out on Thursday's steamer. It is not understood, however, that this withdrawal of $1,000,000 was due to insurance limitations. It is impossible to say at this time whether or not more gold will go out Saturday.

Shipments on Saturday would have to be to London direct instead of to Paris, and the present level of sterling exchange leaves no margin of profit on such a transaction. It is possible, of course, that sterling exchange may advance meanwhile to the point at which gold could be sent direct to London. Quotations were within a very small fraction of that point yesterday.

Effect on Bank Statement.

This heavy importation of gold has quite upset financial calculations, and owing to the resumption of business by the Seventh national bank, it is very difficult, indeed, to estimate the reflection of foreign withdrawals in our bank statement of Saturday. At the close of business today, the New York banks had gained about $3,536,000 from the subtreasury since last Friday, but even this would fall short of balancing gold exports.

It is altogether probable that bank averages for this week will show a loss in cash, and also a consequent curtailment of reserves, unless the banks reduce their loan liabilities. The more threatening aspect of money chilled speculative enthusiasm that had been so pronounced in several preceding sessions this week.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(By Private Wire to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Salt Lake reports that the big vein of the El Amiga, in Park valley, has been reached by the main tunnel, which is now in 550 feet. Assays show $19 22 gold. A picked sample from the Burton assayed $5,370 gold and 256 ounces silver to the ton.

The Cripple Creek Gold Temple Mining Company has cut a three-foot vein averaging $30 a ton on the Trilby at a depth of 300 feet.

Nine new mills are to be erected by different companies at Silverton, Col. They will be ready for work next spring.

A carload of exceptionally rich ore was shipped from the Little Maud, in Maggie gulch, near Silverton, Col., last week. Three sacks of it ran $34 gold to the pound and the remainder gave returns of $100 to the ton.

Large pockets of ore carrying free gold have been disclosed in the El Rey, near Cow creek, Wyo. On the dump there are 50 tons of rock that assays $40 gold to the ton.

Quartz assaying as high as 1,000 ounces of silver has been opened in the Weber on Lake Pond d'Oreille, near Lake View, Wash.

Ore showing tellurium, gold and ruby silver is being taken from the Golden Sheen at Sunshine camp, Col. One piece of tellurium ran over $2,000 to the ton.

C. H. Swan of San Francisco and an associate from New York are examining the South Yuba mine at Hoyt's old crossing, four miles from Nevada City. If the proposition is considered feasible, they will mine the bed of the Yuba river at this point and make a thorough test of the gravel for gold.

Since the shipping of ore was commenced about seven months ago, the Tonopah (Nev.) Company has received returns of about $400,000 from the Selby smelting works.

ST. PAUL MAKES LITTLE RESISTANCE

Doubt About Effect of Nipper Settlement Said to Be Responsible. Gold Shipments Today Will Total $4,500,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The stock market today, after a rather irregular and ragged opening, started upward with some enthusiasm, but the heavy bulk of the gold exports dashed the spirits of the speculators and drove prices down. The selling was not urgent or precipitate and there was a manifest growth of dullness at the decline and an undertone of some firmness. The market during the latter part of the day was feverish and irregular, but dipped suddenly at the last, so that a number of important stocks closed at the lowest of the day.

There was rather a marked contrast in the tone of Union Pacific and of St. Paul, the former offering resistance to the decline and the latter running off easily to the lowest of the day. This apparently reflected a dubious state of mind as to the exact benefit which would accrue to St. Paul from the Northern Pacific settlement. The stock was a leader in the early upward movement on this morning's reports that it would be absorbed by Union Pacific as an incident of the Northwestern railway settlement. The pendency of this settlement and the very optimistic reports in circulation as to the condition of the anthracite coal trade were inspiring causes of animated advance in prices early in the day. The engagements of gold for tomorrow's steamers at one time aggregated $5,000,000, but a subsequent cancellation of a $1,000,000 order lightened the shipment and also the resulting depression in the stock market. The cause of the cancellation was not stated, but may have had to do with the customary limitation of gold shipments by a big steamer.

A notable feature of the gold movement was its failure to affect the foreign exchange market. When gold is shipped it is customary to sell exchange bills against the shipment, but there was no sign of any such bills in the foreign exchange market today. This corroborates the supposition that the shipment is made in payment of debts which had been incurred by shorting of exchange bills earlier in the season and which there is not sufficient current supply of commercial bills offering to cover. The effect of the gold shipments was emphasized by their bearing on the exchange market still at the export level, giving rise to the apprehension that further gold will go out on Saturday.

The disposition to operate in stocks increased somewhat after the assembling of the Northern Pacific directors in the expectation that some action might be taken before the close of the market. The incorporation of the Northern Securities Company and the decision to retire the Northern Pacific preferred are now known before the close of the market, but did not meet with any marked response. The effect of the gold exports on the call money market was manifest in a slight change in rates, 5 per cent being the minimum for the day. The market closed generally active and easy.

The railroad bond market was less active today and continued irregular. Total sales, par value, $5,325,000. United States 3s coupon advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

The Big Injun sand development in the south fork of Hughes river, Union district, Ritchie county, W. Va., has been a long time coming to the front, but the last wells completed in that territory indicate that it is deserving of recognition. The Hartman Oil Company's No. 6 on the G. M. Ireland farm has just tapped the Big Injun sand and is flowing at the rate of 200 barrels a day.

The Carter Oil Company's No. 3, on the Zimri Flannagan farm, has been drilled in but not completed, and is producing 105 barrels a day. The same company has drilled in, but not completed, No. 3 on the Moses H. Davis farm and has a 75-barrel producer.

In Murphy district K. W. Ingham & Co. have completed a rig for a test well on the Sarah A. Simmons farm, located on the south fork of Hughes river. On the same waters in Union district, the Consolidated Oil Company has completed the rig for a test well on the Frank Maxwell heirs' 105 acres. On Bone creek Thomas E. Davis & Co. have made the locations for a test well on the J. W. Summerville farm.

On Panther run, Grant district, Moore, Darr & Wilson have a rig up on the A. D. Arnett farm.

The shallow sand territory in Union district, Pleasants county, is keeping up with the procession, both in operations and the size of its wells. On Crouse run C. F. Hosford & Co. have completed their No. 13, on the Reynan-Browning Company's farm and have a 50-barrel producer from the Cow Run sand. In the same district Schlegel & Fried have drilled in their No. 4 in this farm and have a show for a good producer. The same company is drilling No. 4 and is building rigs for Nos. 5 and 6 on the same farm. Their test well on the Mary A. Mussey farm, on Bens run, is drilling at 600 feet.

On Sugar creek J. C. Wilson & Co.'s test well on the O. P. Cunningham farm is drilling at 900 feet, and Sullivan & Co. are ready to drill at a test well on the Cramer heirs' farm, located on McElhinney creek, Mead district.

On the Ohio river, Union district, the Monteith Oil Company is drilling at 500 feet at its test well on the J. Monteith farm.

On Bins run, Union district, the South Penn and Highland Oil Companies have drilled in their No. 6 on the S. W. Pratt farm and have a 25-barrel producer.

In the Mt. Morris district, Greene county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the Postalwaite farm and will not have better than a 10-barrel pumper.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side in Monroe county the Fisher Oil Company has drilled in its No. 5 on the Richard Bates farm, located near Graysville, and has a 30-barrel pumper in. Kennedy, Martin & Co.'s No. 1 on the Fred Suhry farm is holding up at 180 barrels a day and is the best producer on this side of the river. Work on the shallow sand territory on West creek, Washington county, by Selby & Co. have completed No. 8 on the M. Brown farm and have a duster.

In the Macksburg field McCormick & Co. have drilled their No. 14 on the coal tract into the Berea and have a 25-barrel well.

Capt. Peter Grace & Co. have completed their test well on the Bodle Bros.' farm and have a 5-barrel pumper from the 500-foot sand. The Consolidated Oil Company has on the Miller farm and Smith & Co.'s No. 1 on the Ullman farm are about the same size in the 500-foot sand.

Local Developments.

In the Crows Run district, Beaver county, the Unity Oil Company has drilled in its No. 4 on the Cobbett farm and has a show for a 15 or 20-barrel well in the 100-foot. Near Love portoffice and just across the line in Butler county, the Kenwood Oil Company has started to drill at a test well on the Cato farm. This is a somewhat important test, looking for an extension to the Crows Run development.

The Oil Market.

London Market Quiet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Commercial Advertiser's London cable says:

The stock market today was localized but cheerful. Among the factors that contributed to the better feeling were the rumors that the Northern Pacific settlement would be followed by Hill's surrender, and also the news that refugees were returning and the mines were reopening. There was also a demand that Bothas with 800 men were approaching.

American stocks moved in narrow limits. The recent activity apparently was only professional on New York orders. These having ceased, interest in the market has begun to expect a sag in prices because of the complete absence of the public from the market. Now Wall street awaits Canadian Pacific only.

Money is very abundant, the rate ranging from 3 to 4 per cent. The bank again borrowed some sovereigns and the market borrowed £1,000,000 from the bank. Rates would have been higher save for the fact that the continental mails were delayed by the storm.

Gold in bars is 77s 10½d, Paris exchange is 25.15 and Berlin 20.43.

The Steel Pools Are Avoiding Advances

BAR IRON PRICES READJUSTED

Agreement Abolishing Differential East and West Short-Lived.

RAIL ORDERS RUN INTO NOVEMBER, 1902

Shipbuilding and Steel Car Trade Promises to Give New Life to the Plate Market—A Big Pig Iron Order Pending.

The New York meeting of all associated interests in iron and steel production made no changes in prices. The anticipated advance on steel rails will go over and may not be made at all, although existing conditions prompt an advance for late buying that now must be for very late delivery next year, unless specifications for orders now on the books come in very tardily.

Within the past 10 days new rail contracts aggregated about 100,000 tons, this amount making the aggregate orders on which deliveries will have to be made next year, 2,250,000 tons. This business will keep all the rail mills active to well into November of next year. Never before have the rail orders covered so long a future period.

Last year the rail production ran to over 2,360,000 tons. This year the aggregate will foot to about 2,500,000 tons. Next year it will be much greater from the fact that a number of new rail mills will be in full operation before that period is rounded out. The producers of the steel corporation will next year roll about 1,800,000 tons of rails. The mills of the corporation include the Carnegie, Illinois and Lorain plants.

All Pittsburgh Rails.

A notable feature of the placing of the Pennsylvania railroad order for 100,000 tons of rails with the steel corporation interests is that the railroad has made as a condition that the entire amount be the product of the Carnegie mills made under the Kennedy-Morrison process of low temperature rolling.

Conditions in the steel plate market are streng

A. W. GLASS AGAIN DECLINES

Fear of Friction With the Independents the Probable Cause.

PITTSBURGH COAL WAS ALSO LOWER

There was some irregularity in the local stock market yesterday, but at the close there was a slightly better tone. At the opening there was considerable pressure to sell Window Glass common, and the stock sold down to 54½. At the decline there was a fair demand, and later a rally occurred, the stock closing firm at 55½. The recent liquidation in the stock was started by the reported cut in the selling price of the product, which was made last week. Since then there has been some talk of friction in arranging an agreement with the independents regarding the new year's business. It is this talk which is responsible for the feverishness of the stock. The company, however, is believed to be in a strong position to dictate terms, and from the character of the trading yesterday it was surmised that manipulation had something to do with the course of the market. Some of the early sellers at the decline were later bidding for the stock at the advance.

The course of Pittsburgh Coal was almost identical with that of Window Glass. At the opening the stock was comparatively neglected. Later it sold at 27¾, and was moderately offered at 27¼. At the second call about 500 shares changed hands at 27, but at the last call the price declined to 26¾. At this point a broker who is credited with representing inside interests came to the support, and after cleaning up the market, took 1,400 shares at 27, closing the stock firm at 27 bid, 27½ asked. The preferred was moderately active and steady at 92. River coal common continued to change hands at 13, but the preferred was a shade firmer at 46¾. Although there have been rumors for two months past of important developments pending in these two stocks, the action of the market does not indicate that they are any nearer consummation than they were in the beginning.

The steel shares were rather quiet all day, with no important changes in price. A rumor was current in the street that negotiations had been resumed for the absorption of the Crucible Steel Company by the United States Steel Corporation, and that the former was holding out for an exchange of securities on the basis of share and share for the common and preferred. There is probably no more foundation for this rumor than for that which has been disposing of Pressed Steel Car. The latter was relatively firmer than any other member of its group, the common advancing to 44 bid and the preferred to 85¾ bid, at the close.

The Westinghouse stocks were quiet but steady. Electric second preferred sold at 70¾ and was freely offered at 71. Air Brake did not change hands all day, but closed firmer at 171 bid, and there was no stock for sale under 172. The miscellaneous list some weakness developed in National Fire Proofing common, which declined to 31, and in Consolidated Ice common, which sold off to 14⅝, the lowest price for some time. Union Storage advanced to 41¼ bid, being influenced by the report that the company would resume dividends in January. Consolidated Traction preferred receipts were in good demand and higher at 65. There was nothing doing in the common.

The feature of the bond list was the heavy trading in Bessemer Railroad consolidated 5s, which sold at 119 and closed at 118⅝ bid. United States Steel 5s, series A, sold at 113¼, and accrued interest, and a small lot of Pittsburgh Comprouise 5s at 117. In the bank list the only change of note was an advance to 210 bid for Dollar Savings Fund & Trust, a record price.

Financial Drift.

At noon Fink sold 500 Pittsburgh Coal common at 27.

Speer offered $10,000 United States Steel 5s at 115 and interest.

Allegheny Trust closed at 142½ asked, a decline of 2 per cent. There was no bidding for the stock.

The American Sugar Company has met the 10-point cut in the price of refined made by the outside refiners.

A London dispatch said: Securities are weak here on reports of an extraordinary amount of gold to be shipped from New York tomorrow, and the well-defined prospects of further shipments.

The money situation is checking any wild bull campaign, but Wall street leaders look for better prices in the near future.

Southern Railway officials deny the report that the company had acquired the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road.

The directors of the National Biscuit Company will meet in New York today to take action on the dividend. The regular rate is expected.

There was no news to account for the decline in Consolidated Ice or National Fire Proofing. Both sold off on the marketing of small lots of stock.

It is said that the new Northern Securities Corporation will be a 6 per cent dividend payer from the start and that the stock has been all underwritten.

The new stock of the Guarantee Title and Trust Company is to be issued at 150, present stockholders to have the privilege of subscribing at that price, share for share.

Dollar Savings Fund and Trust sold at 210, an advance of 32 over the best previous bid for the new stock and a record price. The par value of the stock is $100 a share.

Wall street had a report after the close of the markets of the organization of a people's company to take over the Union Pacific stock, at 110 for the preferred and 123 for the common.

The local market seemed to be under the influence of Wall street early in the day, but later when New York became quite heavy Pittsburgh braced up and closed with a better feeling.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Active trading in Bessemer Railroad bonds at 119.

Fire Proofing and Consolidated Ice decline.

The following is a complete summary of the day's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the day's selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices, new high records and final bids and offers:

Grocerics.

Refined sugar has gone off 10 points all along the line, as was expected. The decline was the natural result of conditions surrounding the trade throughout the country, profition being in excess of demand. Coffee has not changed in price, but there is still a feeling that an advance is coming, notwithstanding the fact that primary markets were slightly weaker yesterday than in the early part of the week. Rice is unchanged, except that the competition is again at work, and is making quotations here less firm, concessions figuring once more in many transactions. Although there is free movement of rice in Louisiana and Texas mills, the market is reported as holding steady. Mills generally are actively at work, running at full capacity. Local prices are unchanged.

Straw—Car, $7 50@8 00; wheat, $7 50@8 00; oat, $6 50@7 00.

Hay—Choice timothy, $15 00@15 25; No. 1 do, $14 50@14 75; No. 2 do, $13 00@14 00; No. 1 mixed, $11 00@11 50; No. 1 clover, $11 00@12 50; prairie, $10 50@11 00; packing, $8 00@10 00; loose from wagon, $14 00@15 00.

Millfeed—Middlings, No. 1 white, $23 00@25 50 per ton; No. 2, $20 00@21 25; brown, $19 75@20 25; bran, $18 50@19 00.

Dried Fruits.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The market for evaporated apples was very quiet today, but held steady as to tone in the absence of sellers. State, common to good, 6@8c; prime, 8½c; choice, 9c; fancy, 9¼@9½c. California dried fruits were dull and unchanged. Prunes, 3¼@7c; apricots, Royal, 8½@13c; Moor Park, 8½@12c; peaches, peeled, 11@18c; unpeeled, 6@9½c.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Export buying has again been the chief feature in brown cottons, fair orders being put through for China. Home demand continues quiet for brown bleached and colored cottons. Print cloths continue inactive. Prints in moderate demand. Ginghams quiet but firm. More doing in men's wear woolens and worsted and tone generally firm. Woolen and worsted dress goods quiet.

Foreign Bourses.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Money was in increased demand today in connection with the settlement. The supply hardened discounts. The bank, apparently, was borrowing. Operators on the stock exchange were occupied with the conclusion of the settlement. Business was generally dull and attenuated. Gilt-edged securities hardened. Home rails were generally lower. Americans reacted to below parity and showed little improvement afterward. They closed steady. Pennsylvania exchanged 5s at 117. In the bank list the only change of note was an advance to 210 bid for Dollar Savings Fund & Trust, a record price.

Financial Drift.

At noon Fink sold 500 Pittsburgh Coal common at 27.

Speer offered $10,000 United States Steel 5s at 115 and interest.

Allegheny Trust closed at 142½ asked, a decline of 2 per cent. There was no bidding for the stock.

The American Sugar Company has met the 10-point cut in the price of refined made by the outside refiners.

C. L. McCutcheon, Carothers & Co., Wettengel, Robinson Bros., McKelvy and Holmes & Sons bought. Crawford & Eberman and Hill & Co. sold the preferred stock to Sproul & Co. and Hoag.

A Boston house wired after the close: "It is reported that the United Metals Selling Company has refused a bid of 16¾ cents for 100,000,000 pounds of copper. We do not think the copper market will decline, and the tone favors the purchase of good copper stocks whenever they get cheap."

Holmes & Sons were buyers of Bessemer railroad bonds. Sproul & Co. sold. An initial quotation of 110 bid for 50 shares United Engineering and Foundry Company preferred stock was made by Barbour at the second call. This is a Pennsylvania corporation having an authorized capital of $2,500,000 7 per cent preferred stock and $2,500,000 common. It is a manufacturer of rolling mill machinery.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay, Grain and Feed.

The hay situation is one of more firmness than for some time, receipts of better grades not having been large for a few days, and the demand generally strong and steady. Quotations are unchanged, but are stiffer. Oats have not receded from the advanced position taken last week, which has improved since that time, prices are easily sustained and buyers are purchasing freely. Corn is from at 65 to 67 cents for both car and shelled.

Receipts bulletined: Manchester yards, 17 cars hay, 2 cars corn, 2 cars oats; Pittsburgh, 12 cars oats; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad, 2 cars hay; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 7 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 2 cars corn, 1 car feed. Total receipts, 40 cars.

Straw—Car, $7 50@8 00; wheat, $7 50@8 00; oat, $6 50@7 00.

Fruits and Produce.

There is no letting down in the activity in the potato market, where conditions border close to excitement; retail buyers are paying fancy prices for small lots, while jobbers are rapidly accumulating stock from country shipping points where prices are already higher. Fear is expressed by some of the most conservative dealers that the heavy consignments of potatoes on this market during the present season of activity may work trouble later on when local buying diminishes, as it is sure to do after retail grocers have supplied customers for the winter. Literally. There seems to be no storage of potatoes throughout the country, and the strong demand of the moment cannot be relied upon to be maintained for any length of period. The grape season is drawing to a close, and, while fancy stock is commanding figures above those asked earlier in the week, there is an abundance of stock offering below top quotations. Cabbage is plentiful but steady. Apples—Common, $2 00@2 50 per bbl; fancy, $3 00@4 50; California, per box, $1 75@2 00. Cranberries—Jerseys, $2 25@3 50 per bbl; fancy, $4 50@5 00. Pineapples—Per doz, $1 50@2 00. Lemons—Per box, $3 00@3 50. Oranges—Per box, $2 50@3 00. Bananas—Per bunch, $1 50@2 00. Cocoanuts—Per bag, $3 50. Quinces—Per bu, $1 50@2 00. Pears—Per bbl, $2 00@2 50. Peaches—Per bu, $1 00@1 25. Grapes—Per lb, 2@3c; per basket, $1 00@1 25. Concords, 40@50c per basket. Huckleberries—Per qt, 10c. Watermelons—Per doz, 75c@$1 00. WAITING FOR A PARTY ISSUE

LOOKING FOR BLUNDERS BY REPUBLICANS

If the President Doesn't Accommodate Them in This Respect They Anticipate Making Capital from Over-Confident, Reckless Majority

Democratic senators and representatives as they arrive are talking very earnestly among themselves over questions of policy for the Democratic party in the coming congress. There does not appear at present to be very much unanimity of opinion among them, nor even agreement upon any one line of policy to be pursued. Most of them are awaiting President Roosevelt's message to get the cue for possible Democratic opposition. The Democrats say it is likely their policy will be more one of opposition than of aggression and initiative. They will search for weak spots in the Republican armor, and if they can get together, attack.

Senator Bailey, who was for two congresses the leader of the minority in the house, says that so far as he is aware there will be no meeting of the minority senators to determine upon a policy of opposition. He is inclined to think that events will be likely to determine their course. Senator Bailey said if the new canal treaty is the strong American treaty it is reported to be, he gladly would give it his support.

The Democrats have been counting mainly upon the trust question to give them material for assailing the Republicans in this congress; but they are not even assured that they will be permitted to enjoy the free use of this weapon. They do not know what ground Mr. Roosevelt will assume upon this question. Some think it altogether likely the president may come out in a strong anti-trust message and relieve the Democratic party of the task of crushing the octopus. Others of them do not look for any such procedure on the part of the administration, and believe the Democrats will have free swing in this regard.

The president's attitude toward reciprocity is also being watched with great solicitude on the part of the Democrats. They think if he falls short of the expectations of those who demand reciprocity as a means of extending the foreign trade of the country, it will be an opportunity for the Democrats to make campaign material. The president's remarks to callers within the past few days have not been construed as holding out much hope to the Democrats in this particular.

In the coming session both parties will make their campaign material for the congressional campaign next summer and fall. The Democrats are counting upon attempting a play to get possession of the house at the next election. There is no chance of getting the senate for many years. With control of the house they can force compromises on legislation, and their efforts politically between this time and the presidential campaign will be devoted to working for control of the lower branch of congress. Their capital is very meager, they admit; but they live in hope.

They say past experience has shown the danger which surround an overconfident and reckless majority in the house; that if the Republicans are given rope enough they may use it hang themselves." In fact, about the best prospect that the situation now holds out to the Democrats, is the possibility of Republican mistakes. Not always in the past has the Democratic party been able to take advantage of the mistakes of its opponent, however, and there are few signs of unification of the conflicting interests and views of the Democratic membership in the coming congress.

There will be two or three Democratic leaders in the house without doubt. The silverites are dying hard. The anti-trustites are clamorous that their policy should be made the party shibboleth. The anti-expansionists, even in the face of the supreme court decisions, will keep up the fight against the insular policy of the administration. Free trade is about the only Democratic policy that does not appear likely to enter the lists, and no leader is pushing to the front upon that platform.

Ohio Lawyer Disbarred from Interior Department Practice.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—An order was issued today disbarring from practice before the interior department and its bureaus Jacob J. Saunders of Saundersville, O., a pension attorney, on the ground of disreputable conduct. Saunders, it is alleged, wrote an insulting and indecent letter to Pension Commissioner Evans.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL DAY.

Association's Scheme for Raising Money for the Big Arch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—A plan to obtain the entire sum necessary for the erection of the McKinley memorial arch is to be adopted shortly by the association in this city. President Roosevelt is to be asked to appoint, by proclamation, a memorial day upon which subscriptions may be made toward the fund. The day will be a national holiday, and every postmaster in the United States will be empowered on that day to accept and account for all subscriptions entrusted to him.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR COLOMBIA

GOVERNMENT TRYING TO INDUCE REYES TO ACCEPT.

As "Designado," the Office Legally Devolves Upon Him in Case of Retirement of Both President and Vice President—He Is Regarded as a Compromise Man Upon Whom All Factions Could Unite.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The Colombian government is making an earnest effort in an interesting way to solve the trouble which has arisen in its executive branch. The first official act of a new Colombian congress is to appoint a "designado," an official who succeeds to the presidency upon the retirement of both president and vice president. General Rafael Reyes, Colombian minister to France, now in attendance upon the congress of American republics at the city of Mexico, as one of the Colombian delegates, holds that position.

Information has reached the Colombian legation in this city that a commission composed of three Colombian officials is about to leave Bogota for Mexico City to endeavor to induce General Reyes to accompany it back to the Colombian capital and take up the reins of government.

Notwithstanding the fact that the former president, San Clemente, has been out of office for some time, it is true that he is still the constitutional president of Colombia, and he has yet to tender his resignation from that office. However, San Clemente, it is said, has declared he will tender his resignation provided President Maroquin, who is constitutionally only the vice president, will do likewise.

A great many of the present complications in Colombia have arisen out of this situation, and the strong factions back of the commission see in General Reyes an official with a clean title to the presidency, if, as they confidently believe, President Maroquin can be induced to relinquish his office. It is yet to be seen how General Reyes himself will regard the move. The proposition has been broached to him already in an informal way, but no definite idea of his views has been obtainable.

Mr. Herran, charge d'affaires of the Colombian legation, received a mail dispatch from the governor of Panama today in which mention was made of continued aid extended by Nicaragua to filibustering expeditions entering Colombia.

Mr. Herran was informed also of the arrival in New York of General Ospina, the former Colombian minister of war, and Senor Holguin, who was secretary of foreign affairs for Colombia under San Clemente. These officials, it is said, have come to this country to escape arrest and imprisonment which threatened them in their own country.

HARRISON'S GRIEVANCE.

War Department Officials Explain Why It Is Impossible to Reinstate Him in the Army.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Officials of the war department are somewhat puzzled over the statement made by Russell B. Harrison that he has embraced the law for the special purpose of securing vindication for "the unjust and unmilitary treatment" meted out to him by the war department.

Mr. Harrison was mustered out of the volunteer army, in which he served as a lieutenant colonel. In a letter to Mr. Harrison Secretary Root has spoken of his splendid record. This has not been regarded as sufficient by Mr. Harrison. He desired reinstatement in the inspector general's department, which was possible for a time, but the appointment was not made. Department officials say that as the volunteer army has gone out of existence it is no longer possible to reappoint Mr. Harrison, nor is it possible to give him an appointment as inspector general, because the army reorganization law requires the detail of officers from the line to that department.

FARMERS' CHAUTAUQUA

Summer School to Be Established at Columbus, O.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The Association of Experiment Stations and Agricultural Colleges, in annual convention, today decided to establish at Columbus, O., a summer school for the study of agriculture, agronomy, zootechny and dairying. Dr. A. C. True, head of the office of experiment station of the department of agriculture, will be director of the new institution.

The Ohio State university will furnish the buildings and equipment.

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.

George H. Anderson of Pittsburgh in a White House Delegation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt this morning received an important delegation of representatives of large commercial bodies of the country that are asking for the resumption of reciprocial trade relations with Canada. The Pittsburgh delegate was George H. Anderson, secretary of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce.

The desires of the organizations represented were presented by J. R. Leeson of Boston. He called attention to the extent of the dealings of this country with Canada. Next to Great Britain and Germany, Canada is the largest buyer of products and goods of this country. Canada, he said, buys twice as much merchandise from the United States as all the South American countries put together. The last reciprocity treaty with Canada was abrogated in 1866, having been in existence 12 years.

The president said it would be invidious for him to say what reciprocity treaties he might favor, but that he was hopeful that congress might deal with the subject of reciprocity in a favorable manner.

GLASS INDUSTRY'S GROWTH.

Census Bureau Gives Figures Showing Increase in Ten Years.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—A preliminary report on the glass industry of the United States for census year of 1900, as compared with 1890, was published today by the census bureau. The report places the number of establishments in the country at 355 and the value of products for the year at $56,589,712.

The capital employed in the business amounted to $61,423,965, and the number of wage earners engaged 52,318. The wages paid were $26,544,148, and the cost of materials used was $16,731,009. There was a gain of 37 per cent in the product over 1890 and of 49 per cent in the capital invested.

Added Years Brought Wisdom.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—William Strauss, a Brownsville German, called at the Uniontown jail today to see Maud Fisher, who is serving a term for immodest dancing at the Uniontown fair. It seems that about a year ago Miss Fisher, who was then in Chicago, advertised for a German husband. Strauss answered the "ad," and gave up $500 for a wedding trousseau. Then the young lady disappeared. Strauss refused to sign Miss Fisher's bail bond today. Experience had evidently given him added wisdom.

READY TO MOVE A BIG BRIDGE

Fort Wayne Structure Over Allegheny River to Be Shifted 30 Feet.

MAKING ROOM FOR THE NEW VIADUCT

Work Will Probably Take Two Days and Trains Will Be Run in and Out of Pittsburgh by Panhandle and Ohio Connecting Bridge.

Preparations are almost complete for the first change in the Fort Wayne bridge over the Allegheny. This will be to slide the present bridge to one side in order that the new one can be built. The work will be done late this week or next according to the rapidity with which final arrangements can be made.

The whole bridge will be moved 30 feet down the river. Steel rollers and rails have been laid to make the change easy. Steam jacks will be used to force the bridge aside. At least one day and perhaps more will be needed for the work. During that time trains will be run through the Panhandle tunnel and back to the Ft. Wayne over the Ohio Connecting bridge.

The new bridge is to be a double-decker. The first deck alone will have four tracks. The new piers will extend about 30 feet further up the river than the old ones.

Some Official Changes.

A. S. Zinn, assistant engineer of the Terre Haute & Indianapolis has resigned to become assistant to the chief engineer of the Chicago & Western Indiana.

The new men on the Frisco board are James Campbell, Mark T. Cox, H. Clay Pierce, and Nathaniel Thayer. Those retiring are J. Kennedy Tod, Haney Marquand, Samuel C. Eastman, and H. K. McHarg.

M. J. Merrill, car accountant of the Lake Shore has had his authority extended over the Lake Erie & Western.

More Wood Ties for Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania has ordered from British Guiana a large consignment of mora-wood ties. The tie has been tried in a small way on the New York division for several years. The experiment has been so satisfactory that complete tests will now be made. When the bark is peeled off the wood becomes almost as hard as stone, it is said, and will last almost indefinitely. The cost of the first lot was about $2.50 each, but the ones just ordered will cost only $1.50 each. It is likely that part of the new order will be sent to this division for tests.

Another Line South of the River.

Four parties of surveyors are running lines from the vicinity of Burgettstown east toward Charleroi, passing through Sodom, Bridgeville, and Library. Surveys for a line to Fair Haven have also been made. Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western says the project is not connected in any way with the new Wabash line. It is thought they are being made by the Panhandle, especially as easy connection is made with that road at Burgettstown.

The Man in the Watch Tower.

The attention of many residents of Mt. Washington has been attracted to a high tower built on the crest of the hill and occupied by a very busy transitman. The tower was built and the surveyor employed by the Wabash line. The object is to secure an elevation from which all parts of the ground above the new Mt. Washington tunnel can be seen and the lines made correct. Both ends of the tunnel can be seen from the tower.

Jutte Now in Full Control.

W. C. Jutte has acquired 2,208 additional shares of stock of the Castle Shannon railroad. This will give him control of about seven-eights of the entire capital. The additional stock came from the J. M. Bailey interests, with which the control of the road has been disputed by Jutte for a year. The stock he bought last year is said to have brought $10 per share, while the recent purchases raised the price to about $25.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The new owners of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern have spent over $8,000,000 in track improvements alone.

A syndicate with Norman B. Ream at its head has been formed to control the railroad baggage transfer business in Chicago.

General Manager Potter and his assistant, T. J. Foley, with General Supt. W. P. Woodford, inspected the Wheeling branch of the Baltimore & Ohio yesterday.

W. H. Williams, assistant secretary, and J. D. McCubbin of the real estate department of the Baltimore & Ohio, were in the city yesterday.

UNCLES CHARGE MURDER

Say Hurley Theater Was Fired by Their Nephew's Slayer to Conceal the Crime.

WAUSAU, WIS., Nov. 13.—Joseph and James Noiseu, uncles of Thomas Leclaire, who was burned to death in the theater fire at Hurley, have returned from that place and assert that their nephew was murdered and the building fired to conceal the crime.

They say they discovered that on the evening of the fire Thomas Leclaire had a fight over a variety actress to whom he had been paying attention. Leclaire, they say, was on the same floor as those who were saved, but no one was found who had seen him during the fire. The story will be investigated.

OHIO TOWN HELD UP.

Robbers Attempt to Loot Bank at Minster, but Are Driven Off After a Battle.

WAPAKONETA, OHIO, Nov. 13.—An attempt was made last night to rob the Citizens bank at Minster, this county, by a gang of 12 or 15 men, who held up the citizens of the town.

The robbers broke open the doors of the bank and attempted to blow open the safe with nitro-glycerine, but failed to reach the inner vault, which contained about $10,000.

In the meantime the marshal and night watchman opened fire on the robbers from a second-story window across the street from the bank. The robbers returned the fire and also fired at all citizens who appeared. Becoming frightened, the robbers jumped in three rigs, previously stolen, and drove away.

LONGBAUGH IN A CORNER

Two Men Identify Him as Leader in Express Robbery at Wagner, Mont.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 13.—The federal grand jury today returned indictments against Harry Longbaugh, alias John Arnold, the mysterious Montana train robber, suspected, and his companion, Laura Bullion. Each was indicted on 17 separate counts.

Charles H. Smith and William O'Neill, employees of the Great Northern railroad, arrived today and identified Longbaugh as the leader of the gang which held up a train last July near Wagner, Mont., blowing open the safe and taking $100,000, unsigned bills of the National Bank of Helena.

Longbaugh will probably be taken to Montana for trial, in which state train robbery is punishable with death.

FRANK B. ARCHER TO WIELD GAVEL

Claims to Be the Administration's Candidate, but His Colleagues Doubt It—Eastern Ohio After the Clerkship—Temperance Agitation Had a Marked Effect Upon the Composition of the State Legislature.

(Special to The Pittsburgh Gazette.)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—It begins to look as if Senator Frank B. Archer of Bellaire will preside over the deliberations of the premier house of the incoming general assembly. He has but one opponent, Senator Patterson of Pike county, Senator Wilhelm having announced his withdrawal today. Mr. Patterson is basing his candidacy principally upon the representation that he is the administration's spokesman in the senate, but most of his colleagues are disposed to take issue with the statement.

Senator Archer returns to his seat with a plurality of 8,500 to support his claim for recognition. He was popular with the senate and for this reason will have the support of many of the old members. The new members are still unknown quantities, but Mr. Archer is confident of enlisting most of them in his interest.

While the contests for the subordinate berths are going on with so much clatter, Mr. Archer has not forgotten to remind the numerous aspirants that eastern Ohio will have a candidate for clerk of the senate as yet not named, and since that part of the state has shared but meagerly in the legislative positions for several years he ought to be supported.

The influence exerted by the temperances forces of the state is shown in the personnel of the two houses as it relates to the liquor traffic. The Democrats were openly and liberally supported by the brewers and saloon men, the Republicans by those who believe in the widest latitude of "personal liberty," as it is called, consistent with public decency and good citizenship. The result is that of the 16 members of the senate who opposed the Clark bill, but four were returned, and of the 15 who voted for it, six were returned. In the house, of the 51 who opposed the bill, but 11 were returned, and of the 59 who voted for it, 32 were returned.

A bill to abolish the board of education in all the larger cities of Ohio and substitute educational commissions small in membership and elected at large by the several municipalities is to be introduced. If enacted it will completely change the school government of Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus and Dayton. Such a system is now in operation in Toledo and is to be made more practicable and satisfactory than the former large and cumbersome board.

RIDDLED HIS HOUSE WITH LEADEN STORM.

MARLINTON, W. VA., Nov. 13.—Tom Thompson, a colored man who has made himself offensive to the white people of this community, was last night made the victim of a mob, which riddled his home with bullets and gave him a lesson which he will never forget.

He had, it is said, for some time considered himself too good to associate with the negroes of the town and insisted on making himself obnoxious to the whites. Yesterday he became more offensive than ever and last night a mob of white men gathered around his house and began firing into it. Thompson was at home with his wife and two children, and they were compelled to lie on the floor to dodge the bullets that were fired through the walls of the house. All night at intervals the firing was continued, and this morning more than 50 bullet holes were counted in the walls. No harm was done to Thompson or any of his family, other than frightening them, but their household effects were considerably damaged and the house was literally "shot to pieces."

WOMEN WHO LEAD ACTIVE LIVES

Signs of "Wear and Tear" are distress signals which make the active woman pause.

Of course you say you are rundown somewhat, and are not in a good condition of health and so on, but it will surprise you to know that if your food were perfectly assimilated, and its strengthening elements were diffused through your blood as Nature intended, you would find in that very fact a power of recuperation that would enable you to stand all the strain you have to endure without visible effect. The genuine does effective work in sustaining women of activity who use it with their meals. It helps them always, because they secure through it perfect digestion. No active woman should be ignorant of this fact, it contains for her the secret of success.

Johann Hoff's Malt Extract

Strong drugs and stimulating drinks are always injurious, but this health-giving malt extract, famous for over half a century in Europe, combines with the food, and sends nutrition into every fibre of the body.

If you are one of these women and are feeling the strain, here is the way to get the certain help you need so much. It is the genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract that makes flesh and blood. It sustains busy women, and helps them keep their youth.

Dr. James C. Wilson, of Flint, Mich., writes: "I have for many years prescribed Johann Hoff's Malt Extract for its tonic and strengthening effects, and find it worthy of the high reputation it has always had among physicians."
